SENTIMENT SAVED POTZ FROM GALLOWS

State's Attorney Smith Discouraged Over Governor's Clemency Toward Murderer

State's Attorney A. V. Smith, who battled for two weeks to apprehend the murderers of William Peterson, and spent countless hours on the case against the man whom he knew to be guilty and who finally, in a triumph of justice, obtained a verdict of guilty and a death sentence for Ignatz Potz, is discouraged over the fact that the man is snatched from the gallows by sentiment.

"It is letting sentiment go too far," said Col. Smith. "We worked hard to get a conviction of the man everyone knows is guilty, but our work counts for nothing. The governor never gave the state a chance to present its side. The dead man and his family are forgotten. The trial of the governor played right into the hands of Potz, who, because he is a good prisoner, will probably be released from prison after a few years."

There is a general willingness to settle the disturbed conditions in Europe, provided each power gets all that it is demanding.

CHOOSE YOUR ROSES NOW, SAYS ROCKWELL

Make Selections While They Are In Bloom For Fall
Planting

By F. F. Rockwell, Horticultural
Editor "Farm & Fireside"

How many times have you looked through the pages of a catalogue, or at the beautifully colored plates of the nursery agent, and said to yourself, "We must have a rose garden this year—there is no reason why we can't have them just as well as the Smiths or the Jones."

And of course there isn't any reason—except, in the first place, that you are very, very busy, just when they should be planted; and in the second place there are so many roses to choose from that you can't make up your mind what to plant.

There is, however, a good way of settling the latter problem. That is to pick out your roses now, while they are in bloom all around you. In your friend's garden, in the public parks, in the trail grounds of florist and nurserymen; you can find roses in bloom, at the height of their glory, this month; and the best way to select the variety you want for your own use, is to pick 'em out where they grow, side by side with other varieties, old and new. And once you have decided definitely what varieties you want to grow, you will find that is really the hardest part of getting your own garden started! With a list of the sorts you want actually made out, the rest is easy! Therefore, resolve that this month you will see roses, and find out the names of the ones you would like to have for yourself.

Among the many roses that will attract your attention as you look around, you will find several different types. It is really more important to learn the difference between these different types than to know a lot of different varieties by name.

For a regular "rose garden" the most desirable roses are the hardier "hybrid teas." These are also known as the "monthly" or "ever-blooming" roses. They are not really "ever-blooming" but they do have some blooms most of the time throughout the summer, and quite a "second crop" in the fall. Among these hybrid teas, you will find some beautiful new varieties, such as "Los Angeles," Willocmère, Mrs. S. K. Ringe, Rose Marie, Golden Ophelia.

Make a special effort to find some of these in bloom. In addition to the regular "bush" or "garden" roses, however, you will find several other types, equally important.

You will notice, for instance, some climbing roses that are absolutely different from the old kinds you used to know, like "Crimson Rambler" and "Dorothy Perkins." These new climbing roses have great big blooms, some of them as large as most of the garden roses, and borne on long, stiff stems that are as good for cutting as any other roses you ever saw. Whether you have a regular "rose garden" or not, these fine new climbing roses you will want to plant around your house, to climb over arbors, or on fences. They do not have glorious blooms, but their foliage is always clean, bright and beautiful in contrast to the dirty, mildey appearance of the old Crimson Rambler and others of that type. Among these beautiful new climbers you will find such sorts as Dr. Van Fleet, Climbing American Beauty, Silver Moon, American Pillar, Christine Wright, etc.

Another class you may not be familiar with, and which will undoubtedly attract your attention, is the "Baby Ramblers." These are little dwarf growing roses, which grow only a foot and a half or so high, and which bloom not only in spring, but throughout the summer and fall. You will wonder how they can have so many flowers. And they are tough and hardy, and require practically no pruning—merely cutting out the old flower-stalks, and the oldest wood, once a year. These splendid little roses are good for low hedges, along paths and for planting around the base of the house, either by themselves or in connection with other things. The first of these "baby" roses to make itself popular was the "Baby Crimson Rambler" (Mrs. Norbert LaVasseur), but now there are a dozen other good ones.

STATION WILL FLASH WEATHER CONDITIONS

Great Lakes Radio Will Send Out Reports Twice
Each Day

Shipping and aviation interests on the Great Lakes are to have the benefit of the Weather Bureau's radio weather-reporting facilities, completing the Bureau's program of giving this service to all shipping interests in waters about the United States—in the Atlantic, Gulf of Mexico, Pacific and Great Lakes. Heretofore this type of service was only in operation along the Atlantic and Gulf coasts and in the Caribbean Sea. Twice daily—at noon and 11:30 p. m., seventy-fifth meridian time—between April 15 and December 20 the Great Lakes naval radio station will broadcast on a 1.988 meters wave length a message giving surface weather conditions as observed at 8 a. m. or 8 p. m., and aerological observations taken in the morning or afternoon of the date of distribution.

The message will include also a synopsis of general conditions, wind and weather forecasts for the upper and lower lakes, and flying weather forecasts for aviation zones extending between western New York, northern Ohio, and Indiana and west-ern Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas.

Local bulletins will be distributed at various times during the day from the naval radio stations at Alpena, Mich., Buffalo, Chicago, Cleveland and Duluth. Ships have been invited to call any of these stations for weather reports, warnings or forecasts.

POLICE HUNT FOR AMNEISA VICTIM

A wide search is being made by Chief Tyrell for C. D. Brooks, 1012 Washington street, Waukegan, who disappeared from his home ashore time ago and who, it is feared, may be wandering about in the city, a victim of amnesia. It was explained that twice before Mr. Brooks experienced such attacks and of late has been despondent because of his illness.

Waiting for his return are a wife and two small children. A search has been made of the various hospitals in Waukegan and surrounding territory but without result. Every possible effort is being made to locate the man.

A year ago Mr. Brooks, formerly a sergeant in the aviation corps in France, while taking his family from Oklahoma to Illinois, left a hotel where the family was stopping and wandered away to be located weeks later in a government hospital at Aberdeen, S. D. At that time his wife returned west and remained there until he was discharged from the hospital.

A few weeks ago the family came to Highland Park to be near Mr. Brooks' sister, who is ill. He obtained a position as motorman on a street car of the North Shore lines but was forced to give up the work because of his condition. He declared that he feared he might collapse at any time.

The family and his sister are grief stricken because of the man's absence. The sister is suffering from a nervous breakdown brought on by worry over the condition of her brother.

VISITOR HAS GUN; COSTS HIM FIFTY

Joe Billups, colored, 316 Valit street, Milwaukee, came to Highland Park Saturday night to call on his girl. Another candidate for his affections, her ire aroused by disappointment, called the police and informed them that Billups was toting a gun. As the visitor was waiting for a train to return home, he was arrested. A fine of $50 was imposed for carrying concealed weapons.

sale, whereunder we have given

a Rid-Jid Ironing Board

To each buyer of a

Sunbeam Electric Irons

Sold at $7.50

$1 down and $1 a month

A great many people took advantage of the offer—so many, in fact, that we have several times had to replenish stocks. We are being asked to continue the sale by friends who for one reason or another found it inconvenient to act before, and we have decided to do so for a limited time.

The Rid-Jid Ironing Board—a nationally known article—sells alone for $5, and that the regular price of the Sunbeam is $7.50, so the bargain opportunity is obvious.

We urge that the action of intending buyers be prompt, BECAUSE

NEW SUBDIVISION AT WINTHROP HARBOR

Big Tract of Lake Front Land to Be Disposed of As Home Sites

What promises to be the rejuvenation of Winthrop Harbor, a north shore town founded in 1900 with brilliant prospects, which, however, failed to materialize, is contained in the announcement that Leslie A. Needham, Chicago attorney and Winnetka resident, has concluded the purchase of a mile and a half of lake front between Camp Logan and the state line and will at once subdivide it. Mr. Needham will call his subdivision Oakshore Beach. It gets its name from two large oak groves, one containing 125 acres at the south end of his property, and the other a ninety-acre grove at the notherly section. There are 428 acres in the entire property.

Golf Course a Possibility
Mr. Needham will subdivide it and sell one-acre lots along the lake front, with a depth of 400 feet. Back of these an eighty-foot drive is now being laid out, along which elms and shrubbery are to be planted.

West of the drive the land will be seeded and probably eventually an eighteen-hole golf course will be laid out.

It is the business of the boy's camps to teach the kids not to be boy scamps.
