

OVERSEER HAS M. E. PASTOR ARRESTED
Accused of Hiring Man to Destroy Sign Denouncing Independents

While special policemen last Wednesday night were guarding warning signs placed in Zion City by Wilbur Glenn Voliva, the Rev. Robert E.

O'Brien, pastor of the Methodist church there, was free under $200 bail. He was arrested Wednesday. George W. Sexton, a sign painter, was arrested on complaint that he overturned a bucket of paint on the head of a sign painter working for Voliva. Sexton was released on $400 bail.

The sign reads: "A PLAIN NOTICE: This city was established by Zion people and for Zion people only. It is the exclusive headquarters of the Christian Catholic Apostolic church in Zion. It is the private home of its officers and members. No gentlemen, not to mention a Christian, would break into a church settlement and attempt to hold meetings or establish a counter organization. Those who do are nothing more, or less, than religious bums, thugs and vagabonds, with less honor than a gang of highway robbers and thugs.

LIVES ARE AFFECTED BY CROOKED MOUTHS

DR. WEST BLAMES TEETH

"Landlord's Sardonic Expression Caused by Ill-Fitting Molars," Says Prominent Dentist

How far reaching may be the psychological effect of a crooked mouth is incalculable, according to the statement made last Friday by Dr. George N. West, member of the public service committee of the Chicago Dental Society before a committee of welfare workers. The sardonic expression of your landlord is probably due to the fact that his upper and lower molars do not co-operate and not because you are behind with your rent. The bulldog jaw of your butcher no doubt decided his work in life for him, for with crooked "canines" like his, no one would hire him as a bank clerk. The protruding front teeth of your neighbor's child probably are solely responsible for the chinless look which is so often associated, it is regrettable to say, with vacuum in the cerebral regions. The world may judge one by his looks, and if his teeth make him look sneering, savage, or foolish, it classifies him in that way, and he may try if he can to get out of the class into which it puts him.

"There are those who say that heredity has nothing to do with a child's development, that environment is everything," said Dr. West. "What if, although you had grown up among the most cultivated people and had university degrees innumerable, heredity had endowed you with protruding teeth, and the world laughed and called you the 'chinless wonder.' There's where the heredity has a laugh at the expense of environment, you say.

"Dentists know, however, that the proper environment was not introduced at the right time, or your protruding teeth would have been harnessed and brought back into control when, at the age of five or six, you first discovered that you two large white front teeth were starting out to see the world. The proper environment at that time would have been a dentist's chair, and the proper correction would have been made.

"Every child, preferably from the age of two, should receive careful inspection of his teeth every year, and the necessary treatment taken. Then the malformations of the mouth which result from crooked teeth allowed to grow uncorrected, would be no more.

"What Chicago dentists are urging on the public now is the fact that children should no longer be neglected in this way, and since there are great numbers of children in the city whose parents are financially unable to obtain paid dental attention, it is up to the county to provide a free dental clinic where children can receive needed attention in spite of their poverty. The logical place for this clinic is at the Cook county hospital grounds, and it happens that there is a vacant building there now which could be put into service as a dental clinic if equipment were provided. Candidates for the county board of commissioners are being asked how they stand on the free dental clinic question, and those who favor it are being supported by the four thousand dentists of the county.

GRACE M. E. CHURCH

Cor. North avenue and Lauretta place. William E. Gross, pastor. Our Sunday school meets at 9:30 a. m. Sunday morning hour of worship, 10:45. Epworth League meets at 6:30. Evening sermon or lecture, preceded by song service, 7:45.

The above is a list of our Sunday services. Added to these are occasional social affairs, and always on Wednesday evening an hour of thoughtful study and devotions. Folks who are interested in religious culture for themselves and others are cordially invited to all of these events.

At the last quarterly conference the present pastor was invited to return for another year, which was a gracious act, and appreciated accordingly.

Our conference year closes the first Sunday in October. All subscriptions for benevolences and local expenses should be paid before that time.

The theme for next Sunday morning's discourse is "Things That Remain." We are hoping for a congregation that will fill the house. The evening theme will be "Things That Perish." This pair of sermons will possibly furnish food for reflection. Be sure to come.

VALUATION MEN ARE NEEDED AT BUREAU

$3,600 and $4,800 Jobs Open; Awarded Through Civil Service

Washington, D. C.—The collection of the income tax becomes a complicated affair after it passes the point of figuring the return of the average wage earner. That part, of course, is simple.

The technical staff of the Bureau of Internal Revenue at Washington is in need of valuation engineers in general mining, coal mining, oil and gas, and the forest industry. The positions pay from $3600 to $4800 a year. The United States Civil Service Commission will receive applications until October 1. No written examination will be given; the ratings will be based upon education, training, experience and physical ability.

The duties involve estimation of quantities, market values, value of equipment, cost of development, etc. Full information and application blanks may be secured from the United States Civil Service Commission, Washington, D. C., or the civil service board at the post office or customhouse in any city.

THE OPENING OF SCHOOL

The typical boy and girl is always supposed to view the passing of his vacation with reluctance. But observation of the kid crowd as it falls into line on the first day of school does not usually support this theory. It is a pretty cerry looking bunch, and the majority do not feel badly to have their year's work laid out for them and to hear the word "Go." Their spirit will of course flag as lessons get hard and they make failures. But the average child of to-day is fairly well convinced of the necessity of attending school. As one of them said the other day, "I do not want to be a dunce." They realize that the ends in life that they are going to desire, can be had only through knowledge and training. It is hard for children to bend down for a considerable period to any one line of work, but at least the modern child's reason tells him that he must try to get his lessons.

What quality can compare with the dependability of the CADILLAC

The man who has owned a Type 61 Cadillac for any length of time realizes every day he drives it that he has a motor car which he can rely upon to accomplish any transportation task he may impose upon it.

He feels uniformly secure in contemplating its power, acceleration, dependability, comfort and the many long developed and proved mechanical features for which Cadillac is admittedly famous.

He considers Type 61 the greatest performer in the world and believes its unequalled dependability and the service which maintains it stamps Type 61 as the world's greatest motor car value.
