COUNCIL CLOSES DEAN AVE. BRIDGE

REPORTED TO BE UNSAFE

Engineers Declare It Dangerous For Traffic; Plan Trunk Sewer; Judges, Clerks of Election

In accordance with a report by engineers that the Dean avenue bridge was unsafe it has been closed by the city authorities. The fact that Windes & Marsh, engineers, inspected the structure and declared it unsafe for traffic was reported to the city council at a meeting held Oct. 27, presided over by Commissioner Willits, in the absence of Mayor S. M. Hastings. Commissioner Cheney stated that he had received the report from the engineers and thereupon had ordered the bridge closed by barricading and proper signs displayed. The action was approved on motion by the council.

A communication from William Hoermann, asking permit to construct a septic tank on his premises, was placed on file. A communication from R. Clarence Brown requesting removal of a gate and fence at the entrance to Ravinia Park, Sheridan Road, was referred to Commissioner Cheney. Bills and payrolls from Aug. 1 to Oct. 15 were approved.

Ordinances Passed
 Ordinances were passed vacating a part of Park avenue, as originally located and as relocated and also an ordinance to lease part of Park Front place. This action was taken because the part of Park avenue affected was originally vacated some years ago by plat and as a legal point had arisen it was deemed proper to take regular action by ordinance, as the land in question is being utilized in the construction of the new septic tank.

Commissioner Cheney moved that Windes & Marsh, engineers, be instructed to prepare an estimate of cost of constructing a trunk line sewer from the septic tank located in the parkway at the intersection of Central and Deerfield avenues to and connecting with the new septic tank being constructed by the North Shore Sanitary district on the Incinerator property.

Special Election Officials
 Judges and clerks appointed for the special election to be held Nov. 18, to get a referendum of the voters on the project to annex the Sheaben property will be as follows in the four polling places:

First precinct, city hall, 549 Central avenue—Judges, Mae Brand, Paul Udell, Mrs. George Hutter; Clerks, Gertrude Ford, John A. Rebe, Dorothy Sheahan.
 Second precinct, M. E. church, corner North avenue and Lauretta place. Judges, R. E. Winter, W. W. Steele, Jr., Alma C. Olesen; clerks, Ellen E. Pease, Hazel Bell, Aileen Knudson.
 Third precinct, H. M. Prior's office, 27 North Sheridan road. Judges, W. E. Brand, Alex Robertson, H. M. Prior; clerks, Alice Duffy, Ray Phillips, Maud Erskine.
 Fourth precinct, Fred Lindholm's residence, 1453 Judson avenue. Judges, W. G. Searles, Sarah Taylor, S. S. Stanger; clerks, Edwin C. Keller, M. P. Portman, Louisa S. Aldridge.

BOOKS AND HEROES CHOSEN BY GIRLS

THE LIST IS INTERESTING

Pupils of Chicago Elementary College Select Characters Favored in Reading; Christ First

Asked to think back to days in pinafores when they curled up on an afternoon in the big arm chair and lost themselves in childhood's heroes, 300 girls at the National Kindergarten and Elementary College, Chicago, made public their choice of favorites they feel they can safely recommend to mothers and teachers of the country as eligible for a Childhood's Hall of Fame. Charles W. Elliot, president emeritus of Harvard University, authority on the "Five Foot Bookshelf" cast an honorary vote for favorites of his youth.

The vote, as announced by President Edna Dean Baker, stands:

Christ	96.94	Snow White	65.25
Lincoln	96.05	Kim	65.17
Washington	95.29	Simple Simon	60.93
Jo (Little Woman)	94.44	Snoodles	54.7
Sir Galahad	92.44	Rollo	47.37
King Arthur	92.19	Skippy	44.07
David	91.74	Shaner	44.07
Daniel	90.86	Elsie	43.7
Cinderella	90.76	Dinsmore	33.7
Joan of Arc	90.61	Nick Carter	25.12
Mother Goose	90.55	Eaglebeak	23.41
Moses	90.55	Spruder	23.41
Ab, Cave Man	66.89	Frank Merriwell	23.75
		Merriwell	23.75

Between classes and in their rooms in the college dorms, the girls, and members of the faculty, marked "X" against 67 characters in life and story on ratings which ranged from 100 down to 24½, and on down to 100 minus if they judged any on the lists as "negative" in their influence that persons who have not had the benefit of mothercraft-kindergarten training should be so advised. Regular heroes were to rate 100 plus and "wishy-washy" types zero.

Index Training
 The final selection, according to President Baker, is an index to girlhood and home training in America. Choice of Christ as first on the list proves, she says, that religious training is not absent from the American home. The vote for Lincoln, then Washington, indicates that patriotism is a vital thing and that Lincoln, justly, is close to the heart of the country.

Old Favorites
 Jo, from "Little Women" shows that favorites of our mother's day have not been shelved by newer tales and bears out Dr. Elliot's suggestion for at least twenty years after death, or the death of the author who created him, should be considered in such a vote. It also shows, according to President Baker, "what a realistic American story setting forth everyday problems and commonplace virtues may effect in getting a grip on imagination during the early years of childhood."

Following the tie between Moses and Mother Goose for twelfth place, disagreement between faculty and students is evident. Frank Merriwell, it develops, is the least-known of the 67 "favorites."
Rate Low
 Deadwood Dick, despite his daring exploits, "hit the dust" with minus 20 on the faculty vote and 19.09 plus from a scattering student following. Eaglebeak Spruder of the comics shares zero with Frank Merriwell, Nick Carter and also Skinny Shaner and "Snoodles" of the "comic" family in the faculty choice, and they rate, respectively among the students, 33.33, 30.29, 39.48, 46.39, and 56.77. The mischievous Hans and Fritz are awarded 54.56 and 34.47.
 Rip Van Winkle was the only character upon which all ballots voted; Hiawatha came next with one freshman vote missing. Student body and faculty agree on the salutary influence of Uncle Remus, Sir Galahad, Rip Van Winkle, Robin Hood and Robinson Crusoe, but on Prince Charming the girls hold him worth 82 plus, while the faculty gives him a niggardly 55.

Gillespie and Litchfield, each of which is planning a new and adequate public water supply, are threatened with water famines.

LEADERS CLUB PLAN AT SERVICE CENTER

Success of Recent Social Affairs Suggests New Move Here

During the season several programs were arranged by the Community Service for Halloween parties. It is now planned to organize a group of leaders, who will be taught how to handle a group of children or adults, and give them full evenings of games, and entertainment.

Mr. Walkup the executive secretary, has had training in this work and is willing to personally teach this group, so that each church, school or club can have its own play leader, to arrange the programs so that they will be well balanced and run smoothly.

All churches, schools and clubs, are requested to get in touch with Mr. Walkup and arrange to have at least two representatives attend these classes. Others that are not affiliated with any organization and are interested in this work are welcome to join also.

Police Enjoy Halloween
 On Halloween between 40 and 50 kids, had the time of their life at the Community Center. The entire room was cleared of furniture, and the cheers from these youngsters who were organized in teams were playing real, active relay games, attracted the attention of the police, and they came inside too, and stood by the door for a while and watched with real interest. At nine o'clock the younger boys were sent home after declaring "they had a regular time." This party was given by the Boys club, for the younger boys and their friends.

The Americanization class had a Halloween party at the Center Monday evening, about forty attending. The evening was spent in playing Halloween games, popping corn, toasting marshmallows, and Mr. Jesse Smith of the Elm Place School gave them a splendid lecture on flowers illustrated with lantern slides.

"All progressive schools," says the Girard Gazette, "now employ school physicians and school nurses to supervise the most part of school life the health of the student. The majority of rural schools, however, still trust in God to protect the children against polluted water, polluted soil and infectious school diseases."

A number of people are prepared to help relieve the Smyrna sufferers by contributing their "moral" support.
