

CHINDBLOM TALKS OF GREAT LAKES

THE NAVY DEPT. OPPOSING

He and Congressman Madden Agreed on Situation, Say Mistake Made by the Government

Congress, grown wrathful at the manner in which Rear Admiral Rodman in a recently reported letter attacked the Great Lakes Naval Training station, is fighting back along the same lines that Admiral Rodman used to open the conflict, through the press.

The latest to take exception to his statement are the Hon. Martin B. Madden, chairman of the house appropriation committee, and Congressman Carl Chindblom.

Mr. Madden, in a conference, gave out the following statement: "I am just as friendly to the continuance of Great Lakes and as much opposed to its abandonment as anyone in Chicago. The trouble does not lie with the house appropriation committee, but with the navy department."

At a meeting of the executive committee of the organization to save Great Lakes Congressman Chindblom made the following address:

Cong. Chindblom Talks

"There are four training stations in the United States at which seamen are prepared for service in the U. S. navy. Two of them, those at Newport, R. I. and Hampton Roads, Va., are on the Atlantic coast, one is in the Pacific coast at San Francisco, Calif., which will soon be abandoned for a new station at San Diego; and the fourth is the training station at Great Lakes. The latter is the only such station in the interior of the United States. During the war this station trained over 200,000 men for service in the navy. It was established buildings for the training which is now in and about Chicago, as a part of which numerous donations of land were made by public-spirited citizens.

"During the last year there has been no training of apprentices at Great Lakes. The activities have been confined to two specialty schools in which about 500 men have been trained in radio and aviation mechanics.

Appropriations Cut

When the appropriation for the navy for the present fiscal year was made, there was no change in the appropriation for the training station on the Pacific coast. The appropriation for Newport was increased $100,000 as compared with the previous year; and the appropriation for Hampton Roads was reduced $115,000 while that for Great Lakes was reduced $200,000. To be specific, the appropriation for Hampton Roads was reduced from $375,000 to $260,000, while that for Great Lakes was reduced from $400,000 to $200,000. Attempts were made both in the Senate and in the House to increase the appropriation for Great Lakes, but these attempts failed.

"There is no question but that the influence of the navy department is exercised in favor of the stations on the coast, and particularly those at Newport and Hampton Roads. At neither of these stations are there adequate facilities in permanent buildings for the training which is now being given and which, it seems proposed to continue to give, while the buildings at Great Lakes are modern, up-to-date and fully equipped for the training of at least 1,000 apprentice seamen. There is a further element involved. The navy must have active co-operation and enthusiastic support of the interior of the country if it is to be maintained upon an efficient basis. Great Lakes is the recruiting station for the great middle west.

I consider it a very dangerous policy for the government even to suggest the abandonment of Great Lakes."

In view of the irritating delay of France in ratifying the naval treaties, President Harding might reflect that the rest of those soldiers now stationed in Germany are needed at home.

Deerfield Grammar School

There was no school on Friday, Nov. 3 as the teachers took that day for visiting other schools.

The P. T. A. of Deerfield grammar school will hold its regular meeting Friday, Nov. 10. From the business at hand this promises to be an important meeting and the attendance of all members is urged.

The girls basketball team has long since passed the stage where the centers slap each others face when the ball is tossed up and where members on opposite sides pull hair. In fact they are becoming quite experts and expect to emulate the daring exploits which the boys team has set up as its objective. The first team has been elected, the lineup being as follows:

Center, Unice Long.

R. Forward, Edna Peterson.

L. Forward, Beryle Taylor.

R. Guard, Tanis Greer.

L. Guard, Hazel Easton.

Subs: Marjory Garrity, Ruth Peterson, Janet Meyers. It is a well known saying "that the female of the species is more deadly than the male" so it is to be hoped that our girls team will add to the story of our school.

Children attending school now have the unusual opportunity of coming to school not only five days a week, but on Sunday also, since the Presbyterian church is holding its services in our assembly hall while their new church is in the process of construction.
