ADVANTAGES OF NEW BASIC LAW OFFERED
RESULT OF COMPROMISE
Proposed Constitution Will Be Voted on Dec. 12; Numerous Improvements Over
 Present One

Declaring that by ratifying the new constitution of the state on December 12, the people "will place themselves in a much better position to work out their governmental problems," the Citizens Association of Chicago has issued a bulletin strongly urging the adoption of the new basic law.
 "While in our opinion," the bulletin says, "the new constitution might have been improved in some respects, we are aware that such a document is necessarily the result of compromise and we are fully convinced that it offers the people enormously important net gains.

Principal Advantages
 The principal advantages offered by the constitution, according to the bulletin are:
 "Home rule for Chicago—Chicago is given complete powers of local self government, substantially as requested by the City Council. That body is authorized to call a charter convention to revise the City Charter. The city is given all necessary power to enable it to deal with public utilities. Provision is also made for consolidation of taxing bodies.
 "Court machinery strengthened—One of the most vitally important gains by the new draft is the consolidation of the Cook County courts.
 This merger will be effected under the supervision of the Supreme Court, which is authorized to establish new rules of pleading, practice and procedure in all the courts of the state.
 This needed reorganization will help to speed up civil suits and to put Chicago in a position to cope successfully with crime conditions.

"Pumping plan dropped—Another large gain for Chicago and the state is the abandonment of the cumulative voting system now used in electing representatives in the General Assembly. Long experience with that plan has shown that it tends to create 'rotten boroughs' and to make legislature indifferent to public sentiment.
 "Taxation system improved—The taxation system of the state is substantially bettered. The General Assembly is empowered to enact an income tax law; and to substitute a tax upon the income from intangible property for a tax upon the valuation of such property. The General Assembly also is given power in imposing taxes to provide for such deductions and set-offs as may be necessary to avoid double taxation.
 Adoption of the income tax plan by the state will relieve real estate of a portion of the unjust burden of taxation which it now bears."

BEGIN WRECKING TRAINING CAMPS
Buildings at Great Lakes Being Razed Under Contract;
Cuts Activity

Wrecking began yesterday at Great Lakes naval station by the Gordon Wrecking and Lumber company, awarded the contract for $262, 000, or five per cent of the original cost. Included in the camps to be wrecked are the aviation camp, Camp Perry, Paul Jones, Luce and Farragut. It is expected that the work of wrecking will take about a year.
 Already several of the camps built at the naval station during the war to provide accommodations for the large number of recruits in course of training there, have been wrecked and removed by various wrecking companies. Many of the dismantled buildings, equipment, etc., have been sold in Waukegan.
 When the camps listed above are removed it will mean that the station will be back on the pre-war basis—that is, it will consist merely of the permanent buildings erected there to provide accommodations for a total of 1,500 men.

ASK CONGRESSMAN TO AID ROAD PLAN
 Congressman Carl R. Chindblom has been appealed to by Charles E.
 Russell, county superintendent of high ways, in an effort to get the government to deed a small strip of land at the Great Lakes Naval Training station for the purpose of right-of-way so that the Sheridan road improvement between 22nd street, North Chicago, and Lake Forest can be started by the state highway department, this being a state bond issue route.

Constructing of a concrete pavement for a distance of four miles is being held up because the government has failed to relinquish its right to this strip of property. Right of way through Lake Bluff and through some private property connecting Waukegan road with Sheridan road has all been obtained with the exception of the strip belonging to the government.
 All of the North Shore is interested in this improvement as it is over the only road east of the North Western railroad tracks.

 DRY ENFORCEMENT
Commissioner Haynes Declares Saving of $250,000 Made by Business-Like Methods

Economy is shown in the administration of the prohibition law," said Commissioner R. A. Haynes, in speaking of the concentration of bonded warehouses throughout the United States. The concentration of the stocks of whiskey in a smaller number of secure, centrally located warehouses will result in the saving of at least $300,000 annually, in guarding and storekeeping charges and will represent a permanent saving, he said.
 Fourteen such warehouses have been selected and others will be selected in the near future, all interests concerned being consulted so that the actual physical movement of the whiskey can be brought about with the minimum trouble and delay.

Huge Undertaking
 "The magnitude of this undertaking," said Commissioner Haynes, "is shown when it is known that there are over 800,000 barrels of whiskey scattered in almost 300 bonded warehouses throughout the United States.
 The financing of this movement, the adjustment of bonds, insurance and other fiscal matters is a large undertaking, but there is every reason for believing that it will be successfully consummated.

The movement will afford a large measure of relief to the owners of such liquors from the exorbitant charges which were being imposed by warehousemen and wastage will be avoided through the provision authorizing bottling in advance of taxpay-ment, without the tying up of large sums of capital in tax payment. Purchasers of medicinal whiskey will be protected, bottled-in-bond whiskey being available instead of a product removed from government control without being bottled, with the possibility of dilution, substitution and adulteration after tax payment.

Greater Efficiency
 "The greater efficiency of administration is clearly reflected in the reduction of taxpaid withdrawals of al-cehol as measured in tax gallons. In the year ending June 30, 1920, these withdrawals aggregated 22,638,061; in 1921, 26,275,605 and in 1922, only 16,890,603.
 "A saving of $250,000 has been effected through reductions secured in rental of office and storage space and the disposition of seized property as rapidly as possible. A further saving of $156,900 annually has been effected by the readjustment of salaries of warehouse agents employed to guard distilleries."

NEW CONSTITUTION IS WIDELY FAVORED
Many Organizations Endorse Proposed Basic Law; Is Improvement

Growing sentiment in favor of the proposed new constitution is indicated, Henry I. Green, chairman of the committee on submission and address, declares, by the large number of organizations which are getting behind it.
 The new constitution has been endorsed by the following organizations: Illinois Agricultural association, Chicago association of Commerce, Chicago Woman's club, Woman's Civic club of Chicago, Chicago Bar association, Illinois Woman's Christian Temperance Union, Illinois Bankers association, Synod of Illinois, representing all Presbyterian churches in the state, Illinois Teachers association of the Upper Illinois Valley district, Citizens association of Chicago.

"In addition to these organizations," Mr. Green said, "a large number of district and local organizations, including chambers of commerce, civic clubs, farm bureaus and others, have sent in copies of resolutions endorsing the constitution. Sentiment throughout the state is growing very rapidly in favor of the proposed new constitution.
 "We find that wherever the constitution is explained opposition to a large extent has disappeared. I do not believe that the organized influences which are endeavoring to create a prejudice against the new constitution because it does not contain some pet doctrines will mislead the people. They realize that the question is not between this new constitution and some ideal constitution, but merely whether or not the new constitution is an improvement over the present constitution."

OPPORTUNITY STILL VARIED FOR YOUTH
No Dearth of Chances to Make Success in Life, Says College Head

There is no dearth of opportunities for young men today, President Walter Dill Scott of Northwestern University, told the men of the freshmen recently. The old story that the day of opportunity is past and that "pull" and influence are requisite to make a go of things today, was refuted by the president of Northwestern whose topic was "Fundamental Principles of Selecting a Vocation."

President Scott told the yearlings that within a few days he had received two letters from Northwestern graduates who left school only a year ago.
 One wrote from Morocco where he had a good position in the U. S. consular service and another sent a message from Japan where he was working for the Japanese government.

"There are abundant opportunities if you will look for them, said President Scott, and that is the first step to take in selecting a vocation. Don't let the opportunity just happen along but seek out the sort of opportunity you consider yourself fitted for. In their order, I should say the steps are these: First, try to develop a life purpose; second, weigh your own capacities, and third, seek the opportunity for which you deem yourself best fitted."

The psychologists tell us that a large number of people have subnormal intelligence, and you begin to believe it after getting out on the automobile roads of Illinois on a Sunday afternoon.

The people who can't pay their bills now because of their Thanksgiving expenses, won't be able to pay them in a few weeks because they spent so much for Christmas.

ORIENTAL RUGS
 In the well-appointed dining room, simplicity—even to the point of severity—is the keynote of furniture, walls and fittings, yet the general effect must convey through the eye that feeling of warm hos-

 Nothing is so effective as a well-chosen Oriental Rug with its exquisite blending of color-harmony, in transforming the appearance of cold austerity into one of charming friendliness and welcome.
 An idea of the price range within the moderate zone is shown in the following
