MARY McDOWELL TALKS BEFORE OSSOLI CLUB

"Two Hopeful Spots in Europe"
Topic at Last Tuesday's Meeting

The last regular meeting of the Ossoli was held on Tuesday afternoon November 28th at the Highland Park club house. Mrs. Alex O. Mason in her current topic, gave a most interesting account of present conditions in Italy and told of the origin, the work and the aim of the "Fascisti" the most powerful organization in Italy, composed of ex-soldiers who organized for the purpose of suppressing revolution, anarchy and bringing Italy back to a normal condition. Miss Mary McDowell was the speaker of the afternoon and instead of the subject previously announced for her lectures, talked on "The Hopeful Spots in Europe," which she thinks are Bohemia and Great Britain.

Miss McDowell was in Europe the greater part of last year studying conditions in the different countries. She was a delegate to the "International Conference of Settlement Workers in London"—was for some time the guest of Pres. Masark of Czechoslovakia—was at the conference in France and Switzerland and had most unusual opportunities for observation and first hand information. Miss McDowell held the close attention of the audience for over an hour and her hearers would have been glad of another hour. She strongly emphasized the need for a league of nations and said Europe needed America sadly—not so much our money, but our moral backing without which there could be no hope for any of the countries.

The Ossoli's annual dramatic performance will be on Saturday evening, Dec. 9th at eight o'clock and is in charge of the Junior Auxiliary.

The next regular meeting of the Ossoli and the only one to be held in December will be Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 12th, when the club will have the great privilege of hearing Edward Howard Griggs whom the club was most fortunate to secure while on a lecture tour in the west.

LOCATE WATCH LOST OVER 10 YEARS AGO

Timepiece Reported Missing in 1912 by Highland Park Man Is Found

A watch lost more than 10 years ago by a Highland Park resident has just been found by the Chicago police in a pawnshop in that city, and they are seeking the man who lost it. His name was George Folos, according to a letter received by Chief of Police Maroney, dated Nov. 28 from Chief of Detectives Michael Hughes of Chicago.

The letter states that the watch was located held in a pawnshop for $15, an dthat the writer is informed that since its loss was reported Folos had died leaving a wife and two children, and if the widow will apply at Hughes office, she will be assisted in recovering the watch free of charge.

Chief Maroney has been unable to find anyone here who knows of the family in question and is desirous that anybody who reads this and knows of them will call him. The chief says this is simply one instance of the careful search made by the Chicago detective bureau in every instance, their records being most complete and exhaustive on all matters reported to them, he says.

The governor commends the people of Illinois the benefits to be derived from the careful study, during this week, of our varied educational problems and suggests that consideration be given to the desirability of training our children in humane practices, "for the child so trained will, in after life, be just and compassionate not only toward defenseless animal life but toward all human kind."
