GRACE M. E. CHURCH

William E. Grose, Pastor
Dr. R. J. Wade preached an excellent sermon to a house full of folks last Sunday evening. His position in the church gives him a first-hand knowledge of world affairs. Our people profited greatly by the opportunity thus offered to know of the wonderful events that mark our victories throughout the world. It is safe to say that no such achievements have made the history of Christianity so glorious as have followed in the wake of our great centenary movement. The whole world has been quickened by the results of the gifts we have made. Dr. Wade is the leading figure in all our churches in these results. He represents eleven of the great benevolent boards and his message was most inspiring. He promises a return visit at an early date.

Next Sunday is "Thank-Offering Day" by the Woman's Foreign Missionary society. Miss Inez Mason, a charming young lady, recently returned from service in India, is to be the speaker, and surely our little church will not fail to measure up to former records. It is hoped that the attendance and offering will even surpass last year's event.

The "February Section" of the Ladies' Aid society will give a moving picture entertainment at Bartlett's Theatre on Friday evening, March 9. A Paramount picture "Bachelor Daddy", and a musical program will be the program. The Ladies' Aid society is asking your enthusiastic patronage.

The theme for next Sunday evening will be "The Ultimate Test." Song service begins at 7:45 p. m.

The Stewards and finance committee will meet at the parsonage Friday evening, March 2. All members of the official board invited.

Everybody seems to be satisfied with the present federal income taxes. The poor like 'em because they are supposed to soak the rich, and the rich like 'em because they can put their money in tax exempt bonds and escape payment.

Willbur Glenn Voliva, overseer of Zion, Ill., is reported to have reiterated his intention of fighting in the higher courts his conviction on charges of criminal libel.

Hearing on Voliva's appeal from the verdict will be heard on March 10. At that time sentence will be passed. Under the law the maximum sentence that can be imposed is a fine of $1,000 or six months' imprisonment.

"If that verdict results in so much as a five-cent sentence I'll spend $50,000 to fight it," Voliva declared when he reached Zion after the end of the trial in Chicago.

"I've been found guilty of offenses five times. Every time I have been found guilty the judgment has been set aside. It will be set aside again. Had this jury acquitted me I'd have dropped dead."

SELL STATE BONDS FOR PAVING ROADS

$6,000,000.00 AUCTIONED

Fair Prices Obtained for Last
Highway Bonds Offered by Department of Public
Works Recently

The Department of Public Works and Buildings of the State of Illinois recently held an auction sale of $6,000,000 worth of state highway bonds. Col. C. E. Miller, Director of the Department of Public Works and Buildings, presided at the sale, and the sale was attended by the Director of Finance, and state, treasurer and representatives of all state officers.

Bring Over $98
These bonds brought the sum of $5,891,000 which represents a rate of approximately 98.183. The interest yield on the bonds at this figure would be approximately 4.14 per cent. The bonds draw interest at the rate of 4 per cent per annum and are due $1,000,000 annually from March 1, 1938 to 1943 inclusive.

There were three groups bidding representing 21 of the largest financial concerns of the country. The successful bidder was a group composed of the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, the Harris Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, the First Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, William R. Compton & Company of St. Louis, Mo., Illinois Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, Merchants Loan and Trust Company of Chicago, and Marshall Field, Globe, Ward & Company of Chicago. This group was represented by Edward Schranz, Jr. The bid of this group was the 44th auction bid submitted.

October Sale Price
The first bond sale of $5,000,000, which was held on Tuesday, October 25, 1921, resulted in a price of $94.62 or an interest rate of approximately 4.85 per cent. At the second sale of $5,000,000 held on April 18, 1922, the bonds brought the price of $98.875 representing a yield of 4.11 per cent. At the third sale of $6,000,000 held on September 18, 1922, the bonds resulted in a price of $99.69 or an interest rate of 4.04 per cent. The new price compares very favorably with the prices received in past sales taking into consideration of the bond market at the present time. Financial concerns have stated that the Illinois state highway bonds are the most desirable securities now offered in the public bond market.

GROSS INCOME IN INCOME SCHEDULE

Taxpayer Required to Include
All Items in Making Out
His Form

In making out his income tax return for the year 1922, the taxpayer is required to include all items of gross income. In the case of a storekeeper the gross income consists usually of the gross profits on sales, together with income from other sources. The returns must show the gross sales, purchases and cost of goods sold. To reflect net income correctly, and to ascertain gross income, inventories are ordinarily required as of the beginning and end of each taxable year. The professional man, doctor, lawyer, dentist, must include all fees and other compensation for professional services.

The farmer is required to report as gross income all profits derived from the sale or exchange of farm products, including crops and live stock, whether raised on the farm or purchased and resold. A farmer who rents his farm on the crop sharing basis must report such income for the years in which the crops are sold. Profit obtained from the sale or rental of farm lands also must be reported.

In order that they may obtain full advantage of the deductions from gross income to which they are entitled, taxpayers are advised by collectors of internal revenue to study carefully the instructions on the forms for making returns under the head "Income from Business or Profession."

VOLIVA DECLARES HE WILL FIGHT ON

Libel Case to Be Appealed, He Says; Hearing on Appeal
Held March 10

Hearing on Voliva's appeal from the verdict will be heard on March 10. At that time sentence will be passed. Under the law the maximum sentence that can be imposed is a fine of $1,000 or six months' imprisonment.

"If that verdict results in so much as a five-cent sentence I'll spend $50,000 to fight it," Voliva declared when he reached Zion after the end of the trial in Chicago.

ANCIENT EGYPTIAN RELICS EXHIBITED

SOME ANTE-DATE TUTS

Coffin Believed Placed in Its
Tomb 2,000 Years Before
Time of Christ; Other
Antiquities

Just-at this time when curiosity has been aroused to an intense pitch by the startling discoveries made in the tomb of King Tutankhamen in Egypt, it will not prove amiss to call attention to the remarkable collection of Egyptian antiquities to be seen on the first floor galleries of the Nearly all the articles in this collection, from the small scarabs and ushebtis, or charms, up to the larger objects, including the mummies, are originals and not reproductions. Among the objects you may see is a coffin which antedates the period of decorated mummy-cases and is undoubtedly of the time of Abraham, about 2000 B. C.

Before Tut's Time
This is some nine hundred years earlier than the time of Tutankhamen. It is of cedar and is in an excellent state of preservation. A few small pieces of mummy cloth lie upon top of coffin lid. Another coffin in the same gallery, shows the high development to which Egyptian art had attained a thousand years later.

This coffin, made in the time of King David, 1000 years B. C., is elaborately painted and the use of gesso is profuse. The original white of the background has shaded into yellow through great age, and the blue has become a shade of green. The coffin was made for Nesi-pa-hir-net, treasury scribe of the estate of Amen.

Cedars of Lebanon
It is made of the cedars of Lebanon, covered with stucco elaborately painted with Egyptian scenes, and varnished. The face, hands and feet were carved out of separate pieces of wood and fastened on with wooden pins. There is also a magnificent collection of royal seals, about 650 in number, one of the rarest and most complete series in existence, surpassed only by that in the museum in Gizeh, Egypt.

It is practically complete, dating from the time of Mena, the earliest known earthly potentate, down to the Christian era, when ancient Egypt passed out of history. The scarabs are made of a great variety of stones and gems, and bear the cartouche, or signet, of the monarch whom they represent.

Samples of Jewelry
Also in the Art Institute collection may be found examples of the Egyptian jeweler's art, such as rings, necklaces, bracelets, charms of various kinds, ushebtis, etc. The ushebtis, or respondents, are small figures placed in graves with the idea that they would act as substitutes for the deceased when called upon for manual labor.

TUT'S MUMMY MAY REMAIN IN TOMB

Lord Carnarvon Considering a
Plan to Take Wax Mould
For Exhibition

The mummy of Tut-Ankh-Amen may remain in its 3,000 year old tomb in the Valley of the Kings and not be placed in a museum to satisfy the eyes of a curious world, it is learned.

Lord Carnarvon, head of the Egyptologist explorers who uncovered the tomb, has been deeply moved by the protests from many parts of the world against disturbing the body of the ancient Pharaoh.

It is understood that Lord Carnarvon is considering the advisability of reproducing the Sarcophagus and its inner shrine in wax, allowing the mummy to remain where it was placed by the Egyptian priests.

The inner chamber of the tomb is still open. Leaders of the exploring party have not yet reached a decision as to when it will be closed. Scientists continue their investigations with growing wonder over the splendor of the art objects. Large numbers of foreign tourists continue to arrive. Most of them are content to look upon the tomb or to touch the ancient stones replaced 30 centuries ago by the hands of Egyptian slaves.

ARBOR AND BIRD DAYS ARE FIXED

Governor's Proclamation Sets
April 13 and Oct. 26 As
The Dates

By proclamation of Governor Small Friday, April 13, and Friday, Oct. 26 of the present year are designated as Arbor and Bird Days, to be observed throughout the state by the planting and care of trees, shrubs and vines and by the holding of suitable exercises by community bodies, in the public schools, and elsewhere, in order to stimulate the interest and enlarge the activities of our people, men and women, girls and boys, in the propagation and care of tree and plant life, and in the protection of the native song and game birds of Illinois.

Congress may not have done much at this session, but it has provided outlets for a large quantity of hot air.
