Would You
 advertise for the cheapest doctor, dentist or lawyer you could find if you wished to engage one? A good steamfitter is just as much a specialist as a doctor or lawyer and you will find as much difference in heating plants as in lawyers. There are good ones, there are expensive ones, there are poor ones. A poor heating plant is an expensive one. The boiler and radiation you use means nothing if the man who estimates and plans the installation does not know his business. Practical experience and practical study are as essential to a steamfitter as to a doctor or lawyer and are not picked up in a hurry.

EXTEND CHILDREN'S PROGRAM AT RAVINIA
TO EDUCATE THE YOUNG WITH PHONOGRAPH AID
 Mrs. Oberndorfer Will Explain Themes of Musical Plays for Benefit of the Younger Folks

The scope of the children's educational program which is an annual feature at Ravinia in connection with Ravinia opera is to be increased during the coming summer. This announcement has just been made by Louis Eckstein, president of Ravinia. The weekly free concerts for children are to be continued as usual, but place is to be made in the series of lecture-concerts for talks on opera properly illustrated by orchestral excerpts from the great operatic works. Therefore these lectures have been devoted entirely to concert music. Mrs. Marx Oberndorfer, who has given the talks in the past, will be the lecturer again next summer. She will be assisted by the Chicago Symphony orchestra, which has been re-engaged for Ravinia. Must Educate Young It is pointed out that the best musical authorities in America are agreed that if this country is to be brought to a proper appreciation of opera, the coming generation must be educated up to an understanding of this art form. It is a lamentable fact that there is an absence of young persons from operatic performances given in America. These young persons, it is said, are interested in music only in its lighter forms of entertainment to opera. That children may be brought to an appreciation of opera is seen by the results which has already been accomplished through the medium of the free lecture-concerts given Thursday afternoons at Ravinia in seasons past. Last summer the attendance was unusually large, averaging 4,000 little ones every week. They came from Chicago and the north shore suburbs, from towns to the west and from as far north as Milwaukee. Display Keen Interest Their interest in the talks given by Mrs. Oberndorfer and the orchestral illustrating of these talks was keen. It is believed that by presenting operatic subjects on alternate Thursdays during the coming summer season at Ravinia, great good can be accomplished. Mrs. Oberndorfer plans to choose the operas of the standard repertory, to tell the children the stories of these operas and to show them by illustration, the relationship between the action and the music.

WANT LAW LIMITING WEIGHTS OF LOADS
 County Highway Officials of Five Counties Go on Record for It

Highway officials of five counties in this section, including Lake, have gone on record to enforce a law which limits the weight of a load that can be hauled over unpaved or gravel roads. The conference at which this decision was made was held at Wheaton, and it was decided to limit the weight to 8,000 pounds, during the months when the frost leaves the ground, for a period of 45 days. The limit is 5,000 but the road officials considered this would be too much of a hardship upon the users of trucks. Those who attended from Lake county were Charles E. Russell, county superintendent of highways and Supervisors Emil Ficke, Lake Zurich, Andrew Esinger, Waukegan, and J. J. O'Connor, of West Deerfield. The Lake county highway officials will hold a meeting in the near future for the purpose of determining a plan of enforcing the rule.

UPHOLDS RULING ON NAME OF ZION
 Court Holds Commission Had Jurisdiction in Change of Appellation

Instructing the Northwestern Railroad to immediately change the name of the depot and also on its bills of lading, etc., from "Zion City" to "Zion" Judge C. C. Edwards in the Circuit Court has refused to grant a further stay on the request of the defense, Marshal Field & company, who were trying to prevent the execution of the Commerce Commission's order recently issued. Judge Edwards notified the attorneys that he would enter an order confirming the action of the Commerce Commission on the theory that the Commission had full power to change the name if it so desired and furthermore that the evidence presented to the Commission warranted the change being made as the Commission finally entered it. Marshal Field had contended that the Commerce Commission had no jurisdiction whatever; the judge held it has full jurisdiction. The radio is not the only system for broadcasting news. The village sewing society used to be efficient along that line.

BLIND MAN GIVES LECTURES ON MUSIC
Was Discovered by Junior Red Cross Members and His Talks Prove Highly Instructive

A blind man in Chicago has a unique way of earning his living. He gives talks on music and illustrates these talks with phonograph records. This is the story. Albert Franciscus, an advertising man, suddenly lost his eyesight. Music had been his hobby, and he had one of the largest private collections of phonograph records in the world. On "Hearing" Trip A Junior Red Cross worker asked Mr. Franciscus to tell the story of an opera and to illustrate the story from his opera star records. Mr. Franciscus declined to do this, as he was afraid that the sick men would not care for opera; he offered, however, to take them on a "Hearing Europe" trip, during which they could enjoy dance music, folk songs and lullabies of twelve countries. This program took so well that he gave a talk on "What we owe to the Jewish Composers." This delighted part of the audience, but the Italians felt that their country had been slighted. To avoid international complications, the program was followed by one on the "Music of Italy." History of Music Mr. Franciscus is now giving a series on the history of music, beginning with the Hymn to the Apollo, sung 278 B. C., and coming down to the music of today. He has a clientele of women's clubs, church societies and neighborhood groups—people who understand and love music and those who want to understand and love it. The Junior Red Cross believes that this work which started three years ago, is one of the most constructive pieces of work that it has done.

SARGASSO SEA NOT MENACE TO VESSELS
 Early Voyagers Thought So, But Modern Investigation Disproves

Most people know that the Sargasso sea consists of an immense mass of seaweed somewhere in the Atlantic ocean, but few know anything of its nature or why it is there. Covering an area larger than that of Europe, to the north of the Leeward Islands and south-west of Bermuda, it has been massed together by winds and ocean currents converging to its present position in a great swirl from the Caribbean sea and the Gulf of Mexico. After its discovery by Columbus, it was for centuries an object of dread to seaman, whose imaginations called up terrifying tales of ships caught by the weed and held embedded while their crews died of starvation and their timbers rotted. The fallacy of these stories was demonstrated by a Norwegian expedition of 1910, which found that the weed was not dense, but in scattered patches, incapable of seriously obstructing a vessel. The Sargasso sea is not the only one of its kind in existence. There is a similar area of considerable extent in the North Pacific ocean and a smaller one south of New Zealand.

PEARL WINS SUIT ON THEATRE LEASE
 Litigation With I. Goldberg Is Ended by Decision of Supreme Court

The supreme court at Springfield last week handed down an opinion affirming the judgment of the appellate court of the second district in which the appellate court reversed the judgment of the county court of Lake County in the case of Isaac Goldberg against William Pearl of Highland Park. The case was a forcible detainer suit to recover from Pearl the possession of a building of Goldberg's on Central avenue which Goldberg alleges he had leased to Pearl for use as a theatre and which, according to the terms of the lease, the plaintiff claimed, Pearl had forfeited because, after July 1, 1917, he failed to use it for that purpose. Goldberg won a favorable decision in the county court in Waukegan, and Pearl took an appeal to the appellate court and won, getting the local judgment reversed. Goldberg then appealed to the supreme court and again Pearl has won a favorable decision.

FOR GREAT URBAN UNIVERSITY CAMPUS
 Cost $10,000,000; New Northwestern Building to Occupy Three Sides

A great urban university serving thousands of students will be erected in Chicago almost in the center of the business district by Northwestern University. The university is launching a campaign to secure funds to make a $10,000,000 campus on which will be located buildings designed especially to meet the peculiar problem of the professional schools of law, commerce, medicine and dentistry. James Gamble Rogers, of New York, one of America's foremost architects, has designed the buildings and has proposed an unusual type of university structure. Since the university campus is located where there are high buildings nearby, the architect has designed a huge building of many stories, with a complete system of elevators, to house the medical and dental schools of the university as well as a large hospital. Grouped around this large building, which is ornamental in character despite the utility of its construction, will be smaller buildings of the more conventional type of university architecture which will house the other schools of the university. Completion of the project will give Chicago the world's greatest urban university campus, it is held. The building will be erected on the McKinlock Memorial Campus, named after a son of G. A. McKinlock, of Chicago, who desired to give testimony to the heroic death of his son in the world war. The new campus is located on beautiful Lake Shore drive bordering Lake Michigan. The buildings will occupy three sides of the campus, leaving a frontage on the Drive for a view of the lake. In the new university grounds, students of the law school will only be a short distance from the courts, the commerce school students will be right in the heart of the business district and the medical and dental students will be near the source of their clinical material. The university is also seeking to raise an endowment fund of $2,000,000 to carry on new work in the college of liberal arts and school of engineering at Evanston, Illinois. Possession of an automobile was formerly thought to prove that a man had a good deal of money, but now it may indicate simply that he can borrow or pay on the instalment plan.
