Sound-proof Walls and Floors Assure Quiet and Privacy For Orrington Guests

There will be no audible patter of footsteps overhead—no whispering walls in The Orrington.
Quiet and privacy have been carefully planned for by the architects who have always kept foremost in mind the comfort of those who make The Orrington their home.
Hollow gypsum composite in wall partitions, thickly padded and richly carpeted floors will make each room and suite as quiet and secluded as a private home. Particular care has been exercised in selecting the furnishings which will be most elegant.
It is attention to details like these that is attracting appreciative people to the Orrington.

A unique and most interesting bungalow renting office has been opened on the N. W. corner of Davis Street and Hinman Avenue where reservations for quarters in The Orrington are now being made. To assure your choice of the more desirable apartments make your selection this week.
