RAVINIA CARNIVAL FOR THE CHILDREN

TO BE HELD ON JULY 26

Annual Feature for Youth of North Shore Next Thursday; Opera for Next Ten Days

The annual Children's Carnival given under the auspices of the Ravinia Club will be held at Ravinia Park on Thursday, July 26th at three o'clock and will be unique in the history of these carnivals, being given for the children of the North Shore instead of by them as in other years. The children of the North Shore will take active part in the joys of the day, however, and as many as care to are urged to come in costume and fancy costume to add to the carnival aspect of the day.

MARION TELVA

At the close of the program (given below) there will be a Grand March in which all children, especially those in costume will join and there will be booths and vendors at Ravinia where paper, colored umbrellas, balloons, canes, pennants and such souvenirs that children love, may be purchased. Music will be furnished by the Great Lakes Training Station band. Everybody come.

The program for the day is to be in the nature of a Music Pageant, arranged and directed by Bertha L. Iles and presented by the Children's Civic Theatre of Chicago, under the auspices of the Drama League of Chicago, with the Civic Music Association cooperating and the Mothers' Drama club of the Municipal Pier acting as chaperones.

The pageant will be divided into seven episodes, each episode descriptive of the development of the musical instruments, legendary and historical, familiar to all of us.

Episode One—The Music of Nature. Episode Two—Early Instruments. Episode Three—The Early Christian Period.

Episode Four—The Age of Chivalry. Episode Five—The Beginning of Opera.

Episode Six—The Musical Instruments of Today. Episode Seven—Folk Songs of All Nations.

The dancing will be under the direction of Elizabeth Bacop, singing directed by Helen Wheeler of the Civic Music Association accompanists, Gertrude Haynes Young and Frances Bates and the costumes designed by the Helma Keucker. The modern instruments used in Episode Six will be loaned by Lyon and Healy and Missions will be assisted by Mrs. Marx Oberdorfer, The Boy Scouts of America, The Union League Boys club.

Again all children are urged to come in costume if possible and to join in the Grand March at the close of the pageant.

Ravinia program features for the remainder of this week and all of next week are as follows:

Tonight the opera is "Madama Butterfly," with Elisabeth Rethberg as Cio-Cio-San. Friday evening the attraction will be "L'Amore Dei Tre Re," with Florence Easton as...

Saturday afternoon, orchestra program; Saturday night, "The Barber of Seville"; Sunday afternoon, orchestra program, with Jacques Gordon, soloist; Sunday night, (continued on page 12)

TRUCK HIGHWAY ON NORTH SHORE, PLAN

Village presidents of Wilmette, Kenilworth and Glencoe agreed Tuesday night upon plans for a through truck and automobile highway from the north boundary of Evanston to the county line, to cost, they estimated $500,000. The route suggested would be along the west side of the Northwestern railway tracks and along parts of Green Bay road. The plan calls for a forty-five foot cement road.

The highway has been under discussion for some time, but this action of the officials is the most definite step taken toward its accomplishment. The plan will be presented to the village boards at their next meetings.

ONE MAN KILLED; SEVERAL INJURED

AUTOMOBILE ACCIDENTS

Chicago Man Victim of Crash Near Deerfield; Driver Held; Manslaughter Is Charge

One dead and several injured is the toll of automobile accidents in this vicinity in the last week. The dead man is Benedict Schintzius, 1236 Leiland avenue, Chicago, whose chest was caved in when the Buick car in which he and his family were driving on the Waukegan road, north of Deerfield, early Sunday morning, was struck by a Lincoln sedan, driven by Emil Ackerman, 5432 Indiana avenue, Chicago. Mr. Schintzius was badly cut and bruised, and their daughter's arm was broken. A son, John, who was driving, was not materially injured.

Passed on Wrong Side

According to Jack Beckley, state motorcycle policeman, and Henry Peterson, Deerfield motor cop, the Lincoln car attempted to pass the Buick on the wrong side as both were going north. The sedan struck the Buick front wheel, turning the lighter car over. Ackerman was arrested in Waukegan, and released under bond in the sum of $2,000, on a charge of manslaughter, pending an inquest over the body of Schintzius, to be held tonight at the H. M. Prior office in Highland Park, before a jury composed of Chester Wolf, Alvin Meyer, Edward Bubert, Alex. Willman, Roscoe Wessling and Bruce Blaine.

Others in the Lincoln car at the time of the accident were E. A. Green, H. N. Shopera, W. J. Call and Jack Monroe, all of Chicago, according to the report by the motor cops, who were prompt and efficient in investigating the case.

Motorist Fined

J. J. Pearson, of the Lake Forest vicinity was fined at Evanston $50 and costs on a charge of driving an automobile while intoxicated, and two more charges, speeding and assault with a deadly weapon are pending against him, and charges are the result of Pearson's Ford car side-swiping Motorcycle Officer Powers at Glenview on Saturday night, July 7. The officer was dragged about 100 feet, it is claimed. He started shooting at the Ford, the driver of which in flight dashed directly into a heavy truck coming from the opposite direction. The Ford was practically demolished. Two other men in the Ford were fined $25 and costs each. The wrecked Ford was brought to the Springer and Person garage.

A Paige car from Chicago turned turtle near Deerfield last Sunday, and the driver was reported seriously injured.

Faints at Wheel

Tuesday morning, on South Green Bay road, a woman, said to have been a Mrs. Cooke, is reported to have lost control of her car in passing a truck, and a Ford driven by a Chicago man and her auto collided. The Chicago man suffered a slight scalp wound. The woman, according to one version of the story, fainted at the wheel when it seemed a collision was imminent. She was not hurt, it is said.

GRENNAN CAKE TEAM HERE NEXT SUNDAY

Next Sunday's baseball game promises to be one of the best of the season, local fans declare. The Elks team will be matched against the Grennan Cake team, composed of some of the best semi-pro players in Chicago. This team has a splendid reputation and has been winning most of its games this season. An exceptionally good game is looked for next Sunday.

According to present plans the local Elks team plans to meet some of the best teams in this section during the remainder of the season, if the necessary arrangements can be made. Among them are the Lake Forest Young Men's club team, the Romeos of Chicago, with "Buck" Weaver playing third; the Chicago Blue Sox, with Stremmel pitching, and such strong teams as the Red Sox, La Grange Elks, Glencoe, Glenview and other fast aggregations.

No effort is being spared by the management of the local Elks team to arrange a snappy schedule for the remainder of the summer, and the teams to be brought here will be the best baseball material obtainable.

PARENTS RECEIVE FRENCH WAR MEDAL

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spencer, Whose Son Was Air Hero, Are Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Spencer of Highland Park were prominent in the ceremonies at the Drake hotel in Chicago Monday when General Gouraud of France, who commanded the allied armies in the great Argonne drive in the World war, in behalf of his government, presented honors to American heroes and their relatives. Mr. and Mrs. Spencer, whose son, Dumaresq Spencer, was killed while in the air service with the Lafayette escadrille during the war, received the Medaille Militaire as France's recognition of their son's great sacrifice. Mr. and Mrs. A. Courtney Campbell of Chicago also received the medal, their son also having given his life in the Lafayette escadrille.

Dumaresq Spencer was the first Highland Park man killed in the World war and his heroic career is commemorated by the local post of the American Legion which bears his name.

LARGE CROWD WELCOMES GRAND MATRON WED.

100 Attend O. E. S. Banquet; Helen Brakefield and Other Grand Officers Present

The Masonic hall was filled to overflowing last evening (Wednesday) in compliment to Helen M. Brakefield, Worthy Grand Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star of Illinois.

A delicious dinner was served at seven o'clock in charge of the Green Tea Pot, the members of the Junior Star club, serving. The tables were most attractively decorated in flowers and crepe paper, the colors of the Eastern Star being used.

Chapter opened shortly after eight o'clock and after the business meeting the grand matron was escorted and introduced. Eight of the Junior members acted as an escort, and the flowers which they carried were presented to her. Numerous other grand officers and past and present Matrons and Patrons were present. The evening was a most delightful one which will long be remembered.

DEERFIELD HIGHWAY OPENING IS SUCCESS

A BIG CROWD LAST NIGHT

Highland Park and Deerfield in Joint Parade and Program Marks Notable Event Features

Not in years has there occurred so pleasing and successful a neighborhood get-together celebration as that staged last night by Highland Park and Deerfield people to mark the formal opening of the new Deerfield road connecting the two cities. Attendance was very large (approximately 5,000), including not only many residents of both cities and townships but also a number of visitors from neighboring towns up and down the North Shore, and all were delighted with the affair and the good feeling generally exhibited.

Joint Parade

The road-opening ceremony was preceded by a joint parade of Deerfield and Highland Park automobiles for the occasion, the Deerfield section of the column starting at that end of the road and marching to Highland Park, headed by the motorcycle police of Highland Park and Deerfield, Jack Beckley, Henry Peterson and Ed. Bokert. Immediately following the Elks band came a North Shore Line motor bus carrying township officials of Deerfield and West Deerfield townships, through whose instrumentality largely it was possible to have the new road completed 34 feet in width, and in whose honor the celebration was inaugurated.

The North Shore Line very generously furnished four new buses for the parade.

At the Highland Park city hall the Highland Park contingent fell into line, and the parade continued down Central avenue to the lake, south on Lake avenue to Laurel, and wound around several blocks back to Central and thence to Deerfield, where the opening ceremonies were held near the school house. The parade included between 500 and 1,000 autos averaging four or five to a car. Some one remarked: "I didn't know that there were that many cars in Lake county," and that tells the tale. There was a little misunderstanding of orders and the parade was delayed about 30 minutes but for the most part the crowd took it good naturedly. Highland Park autos parked in Briegate Golf club grounds and Deerfield autos parked in the school yard and the adjoining prairie.

Little Girls Open Road

The program started when two little six-year-old girls, Mary Beverly Turritt, daughter of Mrs. Alice Turritt, of Highland Park, and Elizabeth Clavey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Clavey, of Deerfield, untied the ribbon stretched across the road.

This was followed by a short talk by Charles Russell, county superintendent of highways, who officially declared the road open. Next came Supervisor William J. Obes, who spoke for the township officials, telling something of the hard work connected with getting this road built.

The master of ceremonies, William Reay, then said a few words, telling what the new road meant to the members of Briegate Golf club and, greater still, what it meant to the Deerfield-Shields high school and the people whom it serves in Deerfield.

In the absence of Mayor Hastings a telegram from him was read by Mr. Reay extending felicitations to the two cities and their people on the opening of this new road between them. The telegram follows:

The Mayor's Telegram

Deerfield Road Committee, Highland Park, Ill.

Regret exceedingly that I shall not be present at the opening of the Deerfield-Highland Park Road. I congratulate the officials and all who participated in making this road possible. It means a closer link between Deerfield and Highland Park which means better friends, greater co-operation, and being able to do the things that will make our communities better places to live in. Our whole Lake County will be one great park. It is the logical place for the overflow of desirable citizens from the great City of Chicago.

Very truly yours,
SAMUEL M. HASTINGS,
Mayor.

President Lincoln J. Pettis of Deerfield spoke briefly and appropriately along similar lines as follows:

Mr. Pettis' Speech

Mr. Chairman, Ladies and Gentlemen:

It is always a happy event, when the spirit of two communities is such that they hold their celebration together.

This good feeling, one town for the other, seems to be the outstanding feature of the day. It is the basis of all that has been said (Continued on page 12)
