HIGHLAND PARK SCHOOLS

The year has swung around again to the season of reopening schools, and in Highland Park splendid schools are again thronged with children of every age eager in the fine spirit of forward-looking youth to be up and doing, to gain knowledge to equip themselves for the years of activity in the work-a-day world which are before them. Nowhere are there better schools than in Highland Park. There may be elsewhere larger buildings and more numerous teaching staffs, but in no school, however large, are the standards higher and the inspiration greater, and it is hard to imagine schools in which the corps of instructors are better equipped or more interested in their work than in these local institutions of learning.

Deerfield-Shields high school with its splendid buildings and unmatched facilities, its large and excellent faculty and its notable record for efficiency is not excelled anywhere else in the state. It is a fine school and regarded as a model throughout Illinois, because of its complete equipment and because of the high standard of education maintained therein, all of which speaks volumes for the administration of Principal Sandwick and the faithful, efficient work of his teaching staff.

Elm Place school needs no praise here. Highland Park knows the worth of this school in the community, its many triumphs and its steady growth in scope and efficiency, and Highland Park knows that for all this Principal Jesse L. Smith merits unlimited credit because of his years of interested, and productive work for this school, and in his efforts he has been splendidly supported by the excellent teaching staff by which he is assisted in this greatest of all tasks, the education of the young.

In the district in which are the Lincoln, Ravinia and West Ridge schools growth and progress also have been marked. Principal Clark G. Wright and his competent corps of teachers have made the schools an influence in the community and deserve the credit they have earned.

With increased enrollments, with facilities equal in numbers and ability to meet all demands, with fine new buildings, and better than all, with the spirit of service a living force permeating all their work, the local schools go forward this year to higher achievements, and in all that they attempt for the welfare of the rising generation they should have the hearty support and co-operation of the people of Highland Park, for there is no more important factor in the progress of this nation toward the ideals of democratic government than the public schools. Back them in every good movement for they are worth more to the community than any other single activity which may be here located.

The first luncheon of the drive followed the morning meeting. Similar luncheons are being held each day during the campaign and will be continued through Saturday. Enthusiasm and splendid mass singing feature each of the luncheons. On Monday the blessing was asked by the Rev. Mr. Keagle, on Tuesday by Mrs. Frank Pitt and on Wednesday by the Rev. Frank Pitt; on Thursday by Dr. Wolcott.

Mrs. W. A. Alexander has presided at the luncheons which have lasted an hour each day. Among the songs which have sent the workers out to boost "for their own Y. W. C. A." has been the campaign song written by Mrs. George M. Seward, the chorus of which is:

"Raise the coin—raise the coin—
 Raise it right away;
 Oh what fun to see it rolling in here every day!
 Raise the coin—raise the coin—
 Raise it right away;
 We'll not stop while it's in debt, our Y. W. C. A."

The slogan which is evolved spontaneously out of the campaign is "Everybody Help." The association officials and members hope that all residents of Highland Park see that the slogan is true before Saturday night, when Mrs. Sanford leaves for Nebraska to put on a campaign in October.

Soloists Assist
 Mrs. Charles Pardee and Miss Mary Kimball sang beautifully at the luncheons this week, and Mrs. C. G. Alexander, Mrs. Harvey Pardee and Miss Bertha Harbaugh were accompanists. Mrs. L. R. Rigdon's committee superintended the serving. Employees of the cafeteria donated their overtime for these luncheons to the cause.

Much appreciation is felt by the campaign committee for the loyalty shown and hard work being done by all of the committees and teams. The executive committee wants also to acknowledge the courtesy of Mr. Pearl in offering the use of his theatre, his organist and operator in showing the film, "The High Road" on Tuesday night. A full house greeted the presentation of a very attractive film depicting the work done by the national Y. W. C. A. for increased health of girls.

Post office officials announce that a clerk-carrier examination is to be held in this city on Oct. 6, for the post office service. Applications should be filed with the district secretary. Each applicant will be required to submit to the examiner on the day of examination a photograph of himself, taken within two years. Further information may be obtained at the post office.

People are urged to address mail more carefully. It does not harm to write an address legible enough so that a skilled postal clerk can read it.
