CLEAN-UP WEEK IS CITY-WIDE SUCCESS

Response Exceeds All Expectations; Hundreds of Loads Hauled Away

Nothing which has been attempted in Highland Park in recent years has proved so popular as the city's offer to haul away gratis all rubbish placed on parkways during Clean-up Week, which began Monday. City officials say that they would not have believed there were so many tin cans, old bed springs, discarded oil stoves, old baby buggies and the like in the city, to say nothing of the mass of other rubbish which faced the city trucks and wagons on almost every street. By the middle of the week the haulers were getting behind their schedule, and more trucks and wagons were added to help get the stuff hauled away in good time. The almost unanimous response to the city's Clean-up Week proposition was a surprise to everybody, city officials declare.

On Thursday evening, May 1, Lake Shore Temple held Past Chiefs' night, the following officers taking part: Jennie Cummings, P. C.; Ethel Hepburn, M. E. C.; Anna Roth, E. S.; Mary Monahan, E. J.; Allene Berberick, Mgr.; Eliza Hindenberg, M. of S.; Gertrude Goozman, M. of R. & C.; Carrie Peterson, Pro.; Anna Huestia, G. The work was put on in a splendid manner.

The N. E. C. Gertrude Goozman presented each officer with a gift. The flower decorations were in roses and sweet peas. After the meeting a delicious luncheon was served which was followed by euchre and bunco, making it a very enjoyable evening for all.

MAJOR RAFFERTY IS INJURED BY RUNAWAY

Hurt Recently in Florida While Stopping Mule Team To Save Children

Friends here have received word that Major William A. Rafferty of this city, manager of the Marshall farms, was quite seriously injured recently in Florida, where Major and Mrs. Rafferty have been spending the winter in Orlando. As Major Rafferty turned onto the highway from his estate, he saw a runaway mule team drawing a heavy truck behind them and racing toward several school children. The major sprang from his automobile onto the back of one of the mules and stopped the runaway team, but in doing so the mule went down, kicking him in the head. Besides the injury to his head, the major also suffered other injuries caused by the truck running over him. He is reported improving satisfactorily.

No, we are not exponents of a new simplified way of spelling, or advocating any such measure. The point we want to bring out is that service does sometimes begin with a "C", the "C" in courtesy. We are firm believers in the saying, "It takes some nine hundred muscles plus to frown and four hundred minus to smile." This store prides itself on service that doesn't stop with merely prompt attention to your wants, but couples this prompt attention with courtesy and the smile you have the right to expect.
