DEERFIELD-SHIELDS GRADUATION PLANS

COMMENCEMENT JUNE 12
Program To Be Held at 8:15 p. m. in Elm Place Auditorium; New Features; Largest Class

With practically 100 graduates, the largest class ever turned out in the annual commencement exercises of the Deerfield-Shields high school will be held Tuesday evening, June 12 at 8:15 o'clock, in the Elm Place auditorium, Highland Park. The number of seniors certain to be graduated is 98, and there are two or three others who may possibly qualify before the close of the school year.

New Features
The commencement plans this year include some entirely new features. Instead of opening the exercises to the public, it has been necessary, because of the limited capacity of the auditorium, to confine the admissions to the parents and friends of the graduates, and these will be admitted by tickets issued to the students and a few sent out by the school. This is necessary as the capacity of the auditorium is under 1,000, whereas in previous years 2,000 or more persons were accommodated at the graduation exercises.

Program Different
The program itself also is an innovation this year. Instead of a principal speaker, several of the graduates have been selected to deliver talks written by themselves, and it is believed by the school officials that, because of the fact that the audience will be made up almost wholly of parents, relatives and friends especially interested in the graduates, this type of program will prove both appropriate and interesting.

Class Day exercises will be held Wednesday morning, at general assembly.

The commencement program and list of graduates, in alphabetical order are as follows:

Commencement Program

Through an error the name of Virginia Mildred Supple was omitted from the list of graduates which appears on page 7.

Second of Series at H. P. Woman's Club; Last Dance Is Big Success

The Assembly dances given under the auspices of the Highland Park Woman's club are conducted throughout, so as to establish an atmosphere and environment of the highest tone. The beautiful club auditorium with its splendid ventilation, the fine dancing floor, excellent music by the Gold Coast orchestra, the patronage of the club members and their husbands, also the co-operation of the Dumasq Spencer Post and the Young Men's club, all together tend to confirm to make these the most popular and enjoyable affairs ever held in Highland Park.

Highland Park's Pioneer Hotel

HIGHLAND PARK HOUSE, HIGHLAND PARK, ILL.

DESCRIBES OPENING FIRST HOTEL HERE

The following account of the opening of the Highland Park House, the first large hotel in this city, is from a clipping from the Chicago Tribune, in which paper it was printed about 50 years ago. The Highland Park Press is indebted to the city's first mayor, Frank W. Hawkins for the clipping, which he has preserved since its publication. In this connection attention is called to the picture on Page 1 of this issue of the Highland Park House, the pioneer hotel, the opening of which is here described. The clipping from the Tribune of 50 years ago follows:

Highland Park, near to the shore of the lake, twenty-two miles from Chicago; on the Milwaukee Division of the Northwestern Railroad, is one of the most delightful of our suburbs. Nature started Highland Park ever so long ago by planting trees which have attained a noble growth, and then came enterprising man to build houses in the umbrageous groves and by the side of the lake, and then people went to live in the houses, and now 1,500 have their homes in that neighborhood. After the houses came the churches with their pretty spires rising above the lofty trees, and then school-houses, and finally a hotel larger and grander than residence, school-house, or church. This hotel was opened yesterday. Ladies and gentlemen to the number of 1,000 were, asked to be present at the inauguration of the inn, and to partake of the good cheer, and to enjoy the festivities prepared for them. A train left the city at 1 o'clock laden with guests. After an excellent dinner they wandered around, and, of course, were enchanted with what they saw. The hotel has 300 feet front, and is constructed in the French style, with all sorts of queer devices ornamenting the roof. It has three balconies, one for each floor. The roof has been converted in a "quarter deck," where guests promenade and enjoy a view (Continued on Page 7)

ADVANCE SALE OF RAVINIA TICKETS

Urges Liberal Response by Community to Efforts of Those Making Final Canvass Value of Opera

The following announcement regarding the annual sale of Ravinia tickets has been issued by the ticket campaign committee, and it is urged that the support asked by the committee be given liberally by the community. The appeal says:

To the residents of the North Shore:

Another summertime and Ravinia! It hardly seems possible that Ravinia Park—the wonder place not only of the middle west but of the musical world—can be looked upon in a matter of fact way by those who live at its very gates but in too many instances it is true!

It is true that every year a committee of the enthusiastic few must canvass your neighborhood and tell you all over again that you owe Ravinia your support through the advance ticket sale because you a resident of this north shore—have a personal and civic pride in this institution.

But surely the committed will not need to "sell" Ravinia to you this year! The most wonderful cast of singers, the new operas and all the great season prizes have been given publicity through the press and pamphlets mailed to your door and most of all you know what to expect because you enjoyed Ravinia last year and the years before that.

The ticket books are eighteen dollars this year and a saving thereby over separate gate admissions. Don't argue with your solicitor about the price of the tickets as you are getting "The world's greatest bargain" at the advanced rate and you know it. Do you discuss the price of the tickets with the man at the boxoffice when you go to the opera here and when you go to New York, or buy tickets for the "Polies" or the baseball games or the movies? Call up your neighborhood solicitor before he calls on you and tell her how much you know what to expect from Ravinia enthusiasm and the spirit that makes Ravinia an immortal place, an immortal as Beethoven and Oberammergau!

Ticket Campaign Committee—Mrs. George Lytton, Highland Park Chairman Ravinia club; telephone, H. P. 1156. Lake Forest chairman, Mrs. Frank Harkness, telephone L. F. 1017.

OVER-HEATED MOTOR CAUSES FIRE ALARM

A smoke-filled basement at the residence of Walter Baldwin, 125 Lake Avenue, sent a hurried alarm to the fire station yesterday afternoon, and the firemen made a fast run. They found plenty of smoke, but it required some search to locate the cause and when found it proved to be a short circuit in a washing machine motor, which was discovered to be over-heated when one of the firemen placed his hand on it. No material damage resulted.

MEMORIAL SERVICES TOMORROW MORNING

CHICAGO TIGERS TO PLAY HERE FRIDAY

Sunday's game with the Chicago Pirates was called off due to wet grounds. The rain helped to put the field in shape, and now the field is in tip-top condition for the two games this week.

On Decoration Day the Elks will entertain the strong Chicago Tigers. The Tigers were formerly called the Evanston Tigers and are one of the strongest colored teams in the league. The game will be a battle all the way.

Sunday, June 1 the Elks old rivals, the Jack Rabbits will play. Last year each team won one game. Both games were close. The Jack Rabbits have chartered two buses and will come out with their usual strong team.

The weather is just right now for baseball and Highland Park fans should take advantage of the good games the Elks committee is bringing to Highland Park. A large turnout of fans is expected at both the coming games.
