THE FIRE ON THE HEARTH

Philosophers and poets always have loved the fire on the hearth which autumn brings to many of our homes. The hearthstone has not been kept up in many dwellings, and many modern houses have no open fireplaces, but there are plenty of people yet who value highly this feature of the old houses. The low-blazing fire, with a flame dancing before the backlog, starts currents of reflection and promotes intimate conversation and reminiscence. It emphasizes friendship, and it invites neighbors and associates to come in for an hour of thoughtful talk.

The open fire is dreamy and restful, and the strife of the world seems far away, as the red coals glow. Perhaps if more of the people loved these family and friendly gatherings before the open fire, there would be less of the mad rush for evanescent pleasures.

THEY ARE STILL WITH US

Daniel Webster said, in a speech delivered in the United States senate, in 1835:

"There are persons who constantly clamor. They complain of oppression, speculation and pernicious influence of accumulated wealth. They cry out loudly against all banks and corporations and all means by which small capitalists become united in order to produce important and beneficial results. They carry on mad hostility against all established institutions. They would choke the fountain of industry and dry all streams. In a country of unbounded liberty, they clamor against oppression. In a country of perfect equality, they would move heaven and earth against privilege and monopoly. In a country where property is more evenly divided than anywhere else, they rend the air shouting about agrarian doctrines. In a country where wages of labor are high beyond parallel, they would teach the laborer that he is but an oppressed slave."

INCOME TAX LOWER

The direct effect in lowered taxes brought about by the Coolidge economy program has been felt recently by every payer of an income tax. Despite the fact that the public debt has been reduced more than three billions of dollars, and the annual cost of operating the federal government has been cut down more than two millions of dollars, yet it was possible, through enforcement of the strictest governmental economy, to lift some of the load of federal taxation from the shoulders of the average man, who pays the bulk of the income tax.

The tax of incomes has been cut this year twenty-five per cent. The difference between the income tax law of 1921, when the Republicans returned to power, and the income law of today is an outstanding example of the results of Republican economy and bringing order out of the financial chaos facing the nation when the Republicans took the helm of the ship of state in 1921.

A married man, having no children and enjoying an income in 1921, paid an income tax of $100 a year. Prior to that he paid $120 a year. The law enacted this year, and affecting incomes earned last year, reduces this tax to $75. Next year, when this man pays his taxes, he will have to pay only $50.

It is hard for a demagogue to convince any man that he has not received direct benefits from Republican economy, in the face of such facts as these.

DEERFIELD NEWS

An out of town wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends in Deerfield was that of Mr. John Kress, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Kress, to Miss Helen Dietrich daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dietrich, of Glenwood, which was solemnized in the Sacred Heart church, Hubbard Woods, Thursday morning Oct. 2nd at 10:30 o'clock with the Rev. F. Haarth officiating.

The bride was attractive in a pretty bridal dress of plaited crepe, trimmed with fur and she wore a coronet of rosepoint lace fastened with orange blossoms from which trailed a long tulle veil. She carried a shower bouquet of brides roses and lilies of the valley. She was given away by her father.

Miss Margaret Kress, sister of the groom was maid of honor and wore a frock of yellow canton crepe. Miss Dorothy Dietrich, sister of the bride and Miss Theresa Jay were brides maids. Miss Dorothy's dress was green canton crepe and Miss Jay wore an orchid canton crepe dress. All the bridal attendants wore tulle hats to match their dresses and carried arm bouquets of yellow and white chrysanthemums. Michael Schulte served as best man, Fred Kern and Lambert Dietrich as ushers.

Following the church ceremony a delicious wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents at which only the immediate families were present. In the evening Mr. and Mrs. John Kress left for a short honeymoon in Minneapolis, Minn., after which they will be at home in Highland Park, Ill., after Nov. 1st.

The regular monthly meeting of the Deerfield Grammar School Parent Teacher association will be held Friday afternoon, Oct. 10th at 2 o'clock at the school. The program committee has arranged an unusually interesting program on the American National Red Cross. The Chicago chapter has arranged to have a speaker and an exhibit portraying different phases of Red Cross activity, home hygiene, care of sick in public schools, work from volunteer service department, the elaborate embroideries and fascinating wood carvings from foreign schools and more practical "First Aid" kits which are used in time of disaster.

All parents are urged to take advantage of this opportunity and make a special effort to attend this meeting.

"A hearse is a poor vehicle in which to go to church. Better go while you are alive and attend a live church. Yes, our Bungalow church is a live one. It is located on Rosemary Terrace just north of Deerfield avenue." Printed cards bearing the above inscription were thrown from the parade of vehicles Sunday morning, when about twenty-five automobile loads of people, representing the Bungalow church, wound in and out among the streets waving banners. They were led by Rev. V. E. Stake-miller's car, in which was a calliope, playing patriotic and sacred music. It was indeed a novel way of advertising.

Miss Cecelia Miller of Randolph, Minn., spent the week end at the home of her uncle, Mr. James Fritsch. Miss Miller has been attending an adult conference on religious education in Chicago. She noticed many changes in Deerfield since her last visit twelve years ago. Miss Miller's mother was a Fritsch, and the Fritsch estate now has the old family home occupied by the Reichelt, Jr. family, and the new homes of R. E. Pettis and C. T. Andersons.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Andrews of Pottawage, Wis., were guests of Mrs. Andrews' cousin, Mrs. Reichelt, Thursday.

Mrs. Guy H. Newcomb has as her guest her aunt Mrs. A. L. Pfaff of Pasadena, Calif. This week Mrs. Newcomb is visiting her former neighbor, Mrs. Otis Helfrich of Moline, Ill. The Helfrichs lived at the corner of Waukegan road and Central avenue, before their removal to Moline.

Mrs. F. M. Malum of Central avenue attended a luncheon and bridge party Wednesday at the home of a high school classmate, Mrs. A. Hanson of Rogers Park.

Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Kiest and two children spent Sunday with Mr. Kiest's aunt in Elgin. On the previous Sunday they visited relatives in Waukegan.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Therrien of Northbrook were dinner guests at the W. B. Carr home, Thursday.

Mrs. G. H. Newcomb entertained some friends from Fitchburg, Mass., who were attending the Banker's convention in Chicago, last week.

Mrs. Rebecca Mernst left last Saturday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Comming of Gardner, Illinois.

Mr. and Mrs. Lincoln Pettis and Mr. and Mrs. Franc Hempstead left Tuesday morning for a fishing trip in northern Wisconsin.

Edward Cazel fell from his bicycle and dislocated his elbow, last week. He was taken to Wilmette for treatment and his arm was placed in a plaster cast.

Mrs. Thomas Gillilan and son Jack of Chicago are visiting at the Arthur Merner home. Mr. Gillilan spent Sunday at the Merner home.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fritsch and son Roy of Northfield were guests at the James Fritsch home on Sunday.
