Y. M. C. A. MAN ON VISIT TO JAPAN

IS ENTERTAINED LAVISHLY

Finds No Show of Resentment at American Immigration Law; Urges Co-operation To Relieve Strain

"We have been wonderfully received by the Japanese people and if there are any evidences of resentment against Americans, I have not as yet been able to discover an iota," writes W. F. Hypes, general sales manager of Marshall Field & Company, and president of the Y. M. C. A. Chicago, who with Mrs. Hypes is taking a trip around the world.

Although planned as a vacation trip, Mr. Hypes is being used by the local Y. M. C. A. in every city in the Orient to meet with leading business men to discuss business questions and also the moral and religious problems of young men.

Entertained by Viscount
On their first day in Japan, Mr. and Mrs. Hypes were entertained at the country home, near Tokyo, of Viscount Shibuzawa, often called "the Harriman of Japan," and who, notwithstanding his eighty-four years, is still, according to Mr. Hypes, a tremendous influence throughout the empire.

"After the luncheon where I met many prominent business men and members of the nobility," writes Mr. Hypes, "the Viscount took us for a walk through his beautiful garden. I had met the Viscount on his three last trips to America, the first time about fifteen years ago as a member of the reception committee of the association of commerce. He was then Baron Shibuzawa. The party wound up at a summer house, where tea was served and it was here that speech making was in order.

Friend of U. S.
"The Viscount has always been a good friend of our country and has devoted his entire life, using his great power in promoting his friendly relations, not only with the U. S., but with other foreign countries as well. The exclusion act dealt him and others, as broadminded as himself, a body blow. At the same time, he is counseling patience and hoping that these relations may be greatly improved in the near future.

"In my reply, I told him I was not in this country to talk political problems in any way, but that I was convinced that there were enough men of influence in both countries, whose good sense and level-headedness would straighten out these matters, which at the moment seem to be so vexatious.

Urges Co-operation

"I took the occasion to tell him that the new American ambassador, Mr. Edgar A. Bancroft, of Chicago, was a man in whom they would find an extremely brilliant lawyer, but a man far-sighted and extremely level-headed, who has found time in a very busy career, to help materially in developing character and good citizenship, not only in his city, but throughout the country; that in my opinion he was the best man in the U. S. who could have been selected at this time as ambassador to Japan. I suggested to these Japanese leaders that if they would rally around Mr. Bancroft and assist him all they could, they would find that he would help them as much as any one, to solve their problems."

If we could have a few less clean sweeps at elections, and a few more clean sweeps in the political offices, it would be for the public benefit.

The Power of the Spoken Word

THE demand for additional telephones continues unabated. This means that we must keep adding to our plant at present day costs, which are greatly in excess of those of ten years ago, thus constantly increasing our average investment per telephone. Unless the revenues derived from our business keep pace with this condition, we cannot hope to meet the demands for expansion and maintain the quality of our service to the public.

"WORD of Mouth" is always more effective than the written message.

Correspondence is often long-drawn-out and futile. How much better to turn to your telephone, call the party by long distance and settle the matter in a friendly talk!

Station-to-station service saves you about 20 per cent on the long distance charges. Evening and night rates for station-to-station calls are still lower.
