The Girl Reserves are going to make sure that the boys at the Association House are not neglected when it comes to presents this Christmas. It seems that there is often a shortage of gifts for boys, and so the different clubs here at the Highland Park Y. W. C. A. are supplying twenty-two gifts to help fill the gap. Each is also making a gift for one of the children at the Deoras Home, west of Highland Park, on the Deerfield road, where Miss Artis is doing a wonderful piece of mothering to her family of forty-seven little folks. "Service" is the thought uppermost in the girls' minds this month. The girls are not thinking so much what they can give this year, as what they can give to make other people happy. This same spirit runs through all the Y. W. C. A. club work. The Friendship Club has been discussing their Christian responsibility to their job. A new note to strike in these days when the usual thought seems to be not what I do to earn my salary, but how high a salary I can get for the minimum of work.

It's house-cleaning time down at the "Y" this week, and while the process isn't so much fun, the results are going to be wonderful! With the help of Lionel Robertson, head of the interior decorating department of Tobey's Furniture Co., who has been kind enough to offer his services and advice, which have proved invaluable, the entire downstairs is being redecorated in harmonious colors. New curtains are to add to the effect, and we feel sure when next you step inside you will not know the place in its new costume. Surely it needed rejuvenating, and it is a pleasure to see it taking place in such a thorough-going manner.
