

Have You Ever Tried Our Wet Wash Way? This Service Eliminates Wash-Day Labors and Cost But a Trifle

Our Wet Wash Service is a real wash-day help in every sense of the word. Simply bundle up everything; have our representative call for your things, and then forget all about wash-day. We wash all your clothes in a wonderful washer and the very purest of water. Then we remove the excess moisture, and return your bundle, sweet and clean, just damp enough for ironing, or to be starched and hung on the line.

Phone today and have us call for your bundle.

Not a sound from Chicago—that's selectivity

If you live in the suburbs the first requisite in the radio set you buy is selectivity. For here there are 12 large local stations nearby going full blast at once which you must break through before you can reach outside.

The Deresnadyne will not only tune out any 11 of these stations and bring in the 12th, but tune out the 12 to bring in distant outside stations without interference from Chicago. That's selectivity. And it will bring them in on your loud speaker with amazing clarity and strength.

The Deresnadyne does not sacrifice power for selectivity or vice versa. It combines both qualities. It sets new standards of radio reception.

A demonstration will convince you. Come in and arrange for one.

BOSTON NOW THIRD CITY IN TELEPHONES

Hub Where Phone Was Invented Is Next to New York And Chicago

Boston, where the telephone was born, is now the third telephone city in the United States in point of number of telephones in actual use. The greater Boston district has about twice as many telephones as the city of Paris and has one instrument for every 4.50 persons. In the whole United States there is now one telephone for every seven persons.

New York city has 1,303,179 telephones, Chicago has 714,508 instruments, and greater Boston, 382,994, a larger number of instruments than there were in the entire United States in October, 1895. The Boston telephone system has grown from 1,568 instruments in 1881 to the point where it is expected it will have over 400,000 instruments by the end of the present year.

NEIGHBORHOOD JOTTINGS

Happenings of Interest Here And There In This Part Of The North Shore; County Seat

Plans are being formed for the construction of a new home of the First Baptist church of Waukegan, the probable cost of which will be about $150,000.

N. L. Maher of Chicago, who lived for many years in Waukegan and Libertyville, died recently of pneumonia.

Two more realty deals are reported at Libertyville, as follows:

Ray Rice of Cooper & Rice has bought 24 acres opposite the Spring Valley Country club for $750 an acre and 40 acres one-half mile north of the St. Paul right of way at Libertyville for $600 an acre.

Mrs. Sybilla Meyer, 72, mother of 10 children, died last week at her home on the Meyer Brothers' farm near Wadsworth after being stricken suddenly two days ago. She died on the date of her birth.

While doing construction work on one of the new towers of the Zion radio broadcasting station Wednesday, John Arndt fell and fractured both his legs.

Realization of a new lodge home for the Odd Fellows, the Rebekahs, and other auxiliaries at Waukegan is nearing the building stage, and plans are now being prepared for a three story structure to cost between $40,000 and $50,000.

Judgment for $7,000.00 was given Joseph A. Kraus, 1720 Sheridan road, North Chicago, by a jury for injuries received in an explosion while employed by the Waukegan Chemical company, Waukegan.

Mrs. Bridget McNamar, 82, died at her home in Waukegan last week after having been in poor health for two years. She had been a resident of the community for almost 60 years, and was born in Ireland, June 22, 1842.

Fire of unknown origin destroyed the silo and barn and all of the contents on the farm of C. A. Truesdell near Paddock's lake last week, resulting in a loss estimated at between $8,000 and $10,000. Sixteen head of cattle, two horses, 20 hogs and a small amount of feed in the silo made up the major items in the loss. A barn 82x70 feet was completely destroyed.

PUT CHILD LABOR LAW UP TO VOTERS

PLAN OF LEGISLATURE

Illinois General Assembly May Decide to Pass Question To Referendum as In Massachusetts

Opponents of ratification of the proposed amendment to the federal constitution which would give congress control of child labor legislation, are endeavoring to find a way to refer the question to the people, the court of last resort, it is reported at Springfield, Ill., as legislators await the reconvening of the fifty-fourth general assembly.

They have appealed to Oscar Carlstrom, the new attorney general, for an opinion as to whether the general assembly can submit it to the vote at the next general election as a question of public policy.

The legislative reference bureau also has been appealed to draft a bill submitting this question to the people, if possible.

Fight over ratification of this amendment is expected to be the first of a series of subjects that will stir up heated debate in the assembly, and is expected to be presented very shortly—in fact it may be offered when the assembly comes back next week.

Opponents feel that many members, who would vote for the ratification on a straight out and out question, would welcome a chance to refer it to a referendum of the people.

An amendment referring it to the referendum, it is believed, will be offered regardless of the opinion of the attorney general.

It is pointed out that the legislature of Massachusetts referred the question to a referendum, where it was defeated by a four to one vote.

Organized labor and many women's organizations are demanding ratification of the amendment, while many manufacturing, business and agricultural organizations are opposing it. Lines are reported to be tightening as the time for action approaches.

Judging from the legislative reports, the table needs to be a capacious one from the many propositions that are being laid on it.

Some folks claim water is unsuitable for use for drinking purposes, but perhaps what they need is to give it a more extensive trial.
