FUTURE MOTORING PROBLEMS NOTED

MANY VERY PERPLEXING

Increase of Automobiles in the Country Brings Necessity of Facing New Conditions Caused

Paving the way for solutions to motoring problems that are certain to develop in the near future has become one of the most interesting and vital phases of motor club activities, in the opinion of president Thos. P. Henry, of the American Automobile Association.

In a bulletin just issued from the organization's headquarters in Washington, Mr. Henry not only answers the question "What are the coming problems in motordom?" but also explains what the A. A. A. is already doing to prepare for their solution.

New Motoring Problems The bulletin lists a number of new motoring problems which are said to be on the way, many of which will doubtless surprise the motorist who has been inclined to believe that the work of the A. A. A. and its nearly 700 affiliated clubs would be finished when the present problems are solved.

"The problems on the way," Mr. Henry warns, "are even more perplexing than those with which the nation is now grappling, and unless American car owners make adequate preparations these problems may easily swamp us."

"Ten million - even five million - more automobiles in the United States will bring along new and important problems. Just the increased annual mileage per car would change the whole picture. The attitude of the automobile owner, moreover, changes from year to year, so that what does not seem to be a problem today becomes a serious one tomorrow."

Mr. Henry also gives special attention to the possibilities in motor problems.

Safeguarding Health "One of the most serious problems anticipated by the A. A. A.," he says, "is that of safeguarding the motorist's health in congested driving. The becoming more and more serious, and with the coming of vehicular tubes under the large water-ways, as well the development of underpasses, at prominent street intersections, it is going to be a serious matter to safeguard the people who do not want their health impaired."

"Intensified motoring has created numerous problems, and the automobile club has been called upon to provide a solution for many of these problems. The forest preserves in Cook county, for example, are a great recreation ground for local motorists, and for campers from all over the country. In order to protect the lives of these motorists, the Chicago Motor club in co-operation with Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, the Commissioner of Health, has erected warning signs at water courses so that motorists might be guarded against the germ of typhoid, which is almost as deadly as the germ of carelessness."

Teaching Walking "A problem of singular character is that being created by the growing use of the automobile. Thousands of people are riding more hours of the day than they walk. Teaching the motorist to walk safely will, therefore, be part of an automobile club's activities."

"Prevention of misuse of safety is just ahead. People are finding greater safety in more powerful brakes, gripping balloon tires, flexible motors, better body visibility and many other safety devices, but they are not learning the importance of being just as cautious as they were when these devices and improvements were not available."

"The A. A. A. frequently has pointed out the danger in not continuing to be cautious even after having attached chains to the tires, and it seems the new problem is to be some larger scale."

"The gasoline tax is going to be a serious problem before long. It is the easiest way yet devised for taxing the motorist, and therein lies the danger."

The Gasoline Tax "The gas tax in most states will probably go to five cents a gallon or more unless it is vigorously checked. A number of the affiliated A. A. A. clubs are preparing for this fight by resisting the tax altogether. In Illinois the Chicago Motor Club is at present waging a strenuous campaign against a gas tax measure."

"Commercial and passenger highway traffic and travel is a problem that will have to be met. The roads are not adapted to both types. One of the most difficult problems in motoring is to break down the old order of things. Passenger cars and trucks have always occupied the same highways. This fact will be the most annoying obstacle in the work of segregating the two."

Must Be Educated "The motorist must be educated to demand better automobiles. The matter of price is becoming uppermost in the minds of the majority of people, and it is a foregone conclusion that if manufacturers are forced to curtail quality in order to meet this demand motoring will be robbed of much progress that would otherwise be possible."

"Looking into the future it is apparent that a number of new problems are just on the horizon. Then, looking over the experience of the past twenty-five years, it is evident that it will require a gigantic organization of car owners to solve these problems. The A. A. A. is counting on its foresight in this important matter to insure it against failure to solve these problems through lack of preparedness."

COUNTY DRUGGISTS FORM ORGANIZATION

Highland Park and Deerfield Men in List of Officers; Purpose Given

Lake county druggists, representing a score or more cities and villages in the county, last week organized the Lake County Retail Druggists association and elected officers. The meeting was held in Waukegan, and Prof. W. Day, dean of the University Illinois pharmacy school, and Prof. S. L. Antonow, past president of the Illinois druggists, were the principal speakers.

The officers named were: Oliver P. Eimerman, Waukegan, president; Earl W. Geall, Highland Park, vice-president; B. Hooper, Lake Villa, second vice-president; Otto Knaak, Deerfield, treasurer; and R. A. Curlee, Waukegan, secretary.

A committee is to be named by the president to draft by-laws this week. Monthly meetings are planned.

The purpose of the association is to protect the public and promote the ideals of the profession. Through organization the druggists believe they will be able to obtain legislation that will force a higher standard of drug stores and pharmacists, which will assure the public of the best service and protection.

STATE MAY COLLECT INHERITANCE TAXES

Writ of Error To Be Sought In Delavan Smith Estate Case, Report

Illinois yet may collect the $97,000 inheritance tax claimed to be due from the estate of the late Delavan Smith, Lake Forest millionaire publisher of the Indianapolis News, it became known at the office of the attorney general.

The suit formerly was prosecuted by Assistant Attorney General Churchill of Grayslake, whose term has expired, will be taken into the Supreme court on a writ of error, it was said, as the state had failed to file within the time limit an appeal from a decision of a lower court.

STATE INSTITUTIONS TO GET 8 MILLIONS

Appropriation of Last Year To Be Distributed at Once; Court Decision

Eight million dollars soon will be distributed to state institutions as a result of the decision of the Illinois Supreme court in which the governor was given ten days after July 1 in which to sign bills approved by the general assembly.

When the legislature of 1923 adjourned July 1 of that year, it had appropriated $8,000,000 a year for two years to the state distributive fund. Governor Small signed the appropriation bill July 2, declaring it to be effective immediately. In influential quarters, however, it was held a bill signed after the adjournment of the legislature did not become effective until the next year. Consequently the 1923 distribution held until July, 1924 and the intended 1924 distribution held until July 1, 1925.

The public district school at Glen Ellyn, Ill., contested such procedure and in a decision the Supreme court held that a bill signed by the governor within ten days after the legislature adjourned, became a law immediately. Instead of holding the 1924 distribution until July 1 of this year, immediate preparations now are authorized for disbursement of the millions.

STATE'S ATTORNEY LEGION ADVOCATE

Appointed Chief of Judge of 8th District of Veterans' Organization

States Attorney A. V. Smith, who served with the rank of colonel in the World war, and who saw service on the border in 1916 at the time of the punitive expedition into Mexico, has been appointed judge advocate for the 8th district of the American legion. He will accept.

Besides being honored, it is understood that the post carries its share of work, and pertains to legal questions in which legion members become involved along the line of claims, bonuses, etc.

The 8th district extends through Lake county and beyond the limits a short distance. Notification of policies to follow, and the exact nature of duties are being dispatched to Col. Smith. He has been active in Legion work since his return from France and at one time was commander of Homer Dahlinger Post, resigning to enter the office of states attorney, the legion denying public officials the right to hold legion offices.

BROADCAST PROGRAM BY BUSINESS MEN

Fine Music Presented By Chicago Organization; C. Evans Conducting

The concert last Sunday afternoon at the Edgewater Beach Hotel which was attended by about twelve hundred people and which was presented by the Chicago Business Men's Orchestra, directed by Mr. Clarence Evans, received many enthusiastic comments. Among the best reports was the following taken from the Chicago Tribune, written by Elmer Douglass, the radio reviewer:

All of which, including a fine 4 to 5 kyw classical concert, led up to the real climax of the day—the Chicago Business Men's Orchestra on the WEBB 5 to 6 o'clock twilight musicale. This orchestra, consisting of ninety business and professional men, was heard at the same station several months ago, and it would be real musical philanthropy if this wonderful organization would play for us more frequently. Here is real music at its best, yes, and every listener is on his way to an appreciation and demand for programs of this merit, either on the air or in the concert hall.

There was a complex and colorful Prelude to Wagner's "Die Meistersinger"; the sublimely lovely concerto for two violins (D minor) by Bach (this is ringing in my ears right now); the first movement of Cesar Franck's massive symphony in D minor; two of German's graceful Nell Gwynne dances, and Tschaiowsky's tragic Marche Slav.

What could be finer or nobler or more inspiring than a program like this and played as this accomplished aggregation of business men—music loving men—played it? They no doubt enjoyed the playing, but, after all, they played for us, for you and for me, which makes it all the more beautiful. Let's close, right here.

The Chicago Business Men's Orchestra will play in Highland Park on Sunday afternoon, March 8, at the Elm Place auditorium.
