RELIGIOUS PAGEANT IS UNIQUE PAGEANT

Series of Living Pictures Presented at Elm Place Auditorium Friday

The children of Highland Park who have attended Sunday school and the religious education week-day classes through the winter presented a pageant at the Elm Place auditorium last Friday evening. The pageant was a series of living pictures taken from the Bible. Mrs. Ross J. Bently posed the pictures.

Mrs. Frank Pitt took the part of the mother who told these Bible stories to her child, the child being represented by Alice Schemer. The pictures which followed showed Abraham, Sarah and Isaac in one group, and in others, Miriam and her mother and baby on the river bank; Jacob blessing Joseph; Samuel at prayer; David and Jonathan; all scenes from the Old Testament which appeal especially to children.

The one picture from the New Testament was the manger scene, showing Mary bending over her Child.

The children taking part in the pageant were Alice Keller, Cecil Nestrick, David Morris, Bidwell Tillman, Miriam Fritsch, Grace Niebuhr, Olivia Pearl Swanton, Dorothea Himmeler and Florence Watkins. Ruth Drake and Ruth Jenkins sang solos, and Sara Margaret Mills represented the angel who introduced all the pictures.

Would Interest Parents

The purpose of Children's week was to arouse the interest of the parents in the religious education of their children, and that parents whose children already are in Sunday or week-day classes will inquire about the classes. Instead of indifference, or willingness to leave the entire responsibility to the council of religious education, it is hoped that parents will take a lively interest in this work.

It is also hoped that parents whose children are not receiving any religious education will be aroused to the necessity for it, and become acquainted with the work that is offered to all children here in Highland Park.

The week-day classes in religion at the public school closed for this year, but will be carried on again next year. The daily vacation Bible school opening the latter part of June will offer a further opportunity to Highland Park children.

Mary Joan Dexter won the prize for best children's week poster offered to the grammar school children and Margaret Crawford won the prize offered in the high school.

MANY ATTEND LAST CIVIC CLUB MEETING

Officers Elected for Ensuing Year; Delightful Program Is Rendered

The annual meeting and luncheon of the Woman's Civic club of Ravinia was held at the village house, Tuesday, May 12, at 1 o'clock.

Covers were laid for 85 members and guests and the tables were tastefully decorated with spring flowers.

After the luncheon, the regular business meeting was held, and reports of the club's activities for the year were given by the chairmen of the standing committees, and officers for the coming year were elected as follows:

President—Mrs. Ernest Nolting.
First vice-president—Mrs. J. Godfrey Eyer.
Second vice-president—Mrs. Kenneth Bennett.
Recording secretary—Mrs. Carl Haessler.
Corresponding secretary—Mrs. E. Converse Jones.
Treasurer—Mrs. Earl Gibbs.

The retiring president, Mrs. Earl K. Jerome, was given a rising vote of appreciation for her earnest and constructive work during the past year.

Directly after the business meeting a delightful program, "Robert Louis Stevenson in Story and Song," was given by Mrs. Arthur Byfield, soprano, Mrs. Carl Pfanstiel, reader, and Mrs. Dwight Orcutt, accompanist.

These artists had chosen their selections and arranged their program with great care, and gave to their listeners a keener appreciation of the fine work of Stevenson.

Mrs. Pfanstiel gave a number of intimate glimpses of the life of the great writer, deftly illuminating biographical facts with readings from his works.

Mrs. Byfield sang, in her inimitable manner, some of his exquisite poems which have been put to music. She was accompanied by Mrs. Orcutt, who is an accomplished musician.

FINAL ORGAN CONCERT IN EVANSTON MAY 19

Program by 3 Noted Organists; Members of Illinois Chapter A. G. O.

The final concert of the North Shore Community series of organ concerts on St. Luke's great organ, Evanston, is announced for Tuesday, May 19, at 8 p. m., and will be a "public meeting" under the auspices of the Illinois Chapter American Guild of Organists. The program will be given by three Guild members: Walter P. Zimmermann, organist of the Chicago Symphony orchestra; Arthur C. Becker, dean of De Paul University School of Music; and Herbert E. Hyde, dean Illinois Chapter A. G. O. They will be assisted by St. Luke's vested choir of 40 voices singing 8-part unaccompanied choruses from the Russian liturgy, and other music. The public is cordially invited.

Eva Emmet Wycoff invites those interested to attend a musicale given on Saturday afternoon, May 16, at 3:30 o'clock in the Gann School of Music, at 421 South Wabash avenue, Chicago. The following pupils will take part: Helen Coale Stagg, Mignon Murray Barrett, Murray G. Moon, William A. Gorman, assisted by John Benson, Jr., cellist, pupil of Hans Hess.
