ILLINOIS BUNDLE DAY BIG SUCCESS
 BEATS LAST YEAR, BELIEF

Supplies Still Being Received By Near East Relief, and Thanks Extended for Fine Response

With bundles of old clothing for orphans and refugees in the Bible Lands still arriving from all parts of the state, officials at headquarters of the Illinois committee on Near East Relief, in a statement issued recently, expressed confidence that last year's record will be substantially exceeded when returns are all in. Although more than two weeks have elapsed since the annual bundle day, the volume of packages for sufferers in the Near East reaching Chicago warehouses continues large. The total was near the half million mark a few days ago.

Thanks Extended
 A special message of thanks and appreciation to the people of Illinois was issued by Executive Secretary F. J. Michel, of the Illinois committee. "We wish to express our hearty thanks to you for the generous response which you made to the Near East Relief call for old clothing for the orphans in the Bible Lands," says the statement. "You will be glad to know that the response throughout the state was very fine, and you may be happy in the thought that some little child will be protected during the summer months and that many refugees will be protected from the cold winds of Armenia and that section during next winter."

The girls who are preparing to be June brides, are spending much time with the dressmaker, and their prospective husbands would not probably object if they spent an equal amount of it in the kitchen.

STATE REGULATION KEEPS PRICE DOWN
 Utilities Controlled by Commission to That End, It Is Declared

Once upon a time—not so many years ago—the directors of a newly organized company held a very important meeting, at which they discussed whether to charge $1 or $5 for a patented article which the company was about to place upon the market.

All the evidence indicated that they could profitably market the article for $1. Nevertheless they set the price at $5 and maintained it at that figure until their patents ran out.

The article undoubtedly saves its cost two or three times a year, and it lasts fifteen or twenty years. Therefore the price has been considered fair, and the inventor and the investors who made this article available were entitled to a goodly return.

If that company had been a public utility, it could never have charged $5. The law would have prevented it.

Illinois' public utilities are regulated by the state. The rates charged, character of service furnished, and the securities issued to provide the necessary capital, are all subject to the Illinois Commerce Commission.

Because of such regulation, a public utility necessarily operates under very distinct limitations—limitations that are in marked contrast to the freedom enjoyed by a private enterprise.
