URGE IMPROVEMENT IN USE OF MAILED BETTER ADDRESSES, NEED
Postal Department Emphasizes Great Loss Caused by Failure of Senders to Write Clearly, Etc.

While it is generally accepted that this is not the age of miracles, nevertheless, there are thousands of patrons of the United States mails who take it for granted that Uncle Sam has many wonder-workers on his payroll. The very fact that there are wizards in the employ of the Post Office Department—men and women who are uncanny, to say the least, in deciphering illegible handwriting—has caused no end of trouble and expense to the government as well as to the taxpayer, along with inconvenience in the receipt and delivery of mail matter.

Annual Revenue
Yet, with all this expert handling and careful study of handwriting on the part of the postal clerks the annual revenue from dead mail matter received by the government amounts to approximately $300,000. Last year, the Dead Letter Office received $120,000 from the sale of orphaned packages which could neither be forwarded to the addressee nor returned to the sender because of inadequate addresses. The same office turned into the United States Treasury $55,523.96 in cash removed from misdirected letters or found loose in the mails.

Postage stamps were taken from letters or found loose in the mails having a value of $12,165.67, almost double the entire revenue of the postal service in 1789.

Three-cent fees collected for the return to senders of letters which could not be delivered totaled $92,007.54.

Not Half the Story
But this is not half the story. Checks, drafts and money orders, whose owners could not be located, and amounting to $3,546,542.54 finally found a resting place in the Dead Letter Office.

For want of complete or correct addresses 21,000,000 letters were deposited in the Dead Letter Office, not to speak of 800,000 parcels which had been improperly addressed or wrapped.

Strange to say, this depositing of letters and packages in the mails with incomplete, inadequate or incorrect addresses and wrapping comes, in a large majority of cases, from those patrons who are the most liberal contributors to this branch of the United States government.

Directory Service
It has been estimated by postal officials that 200,000,000 pieces of mail are given "directory service" every year, which means that employees must take time from the regular handling and dispatching of mail in the endeavor to provide correct addresses for this huge volume of misdirected matter. In New York City alone, the cost of this service approximates $500 every day in the year and the total amount through the country is stupendous.

While the revenue from the Dead Letter Office is sufficient to keep that branch of the postal service functioning, it is not nearly enough to pay the annual toll for the support of the "Nixie."

What a Nixie Is
A "Nixie" is a letter or parcel so improperly addressed that it can neither be delivered to the addressee nor returned to the sender without special treatment. This special treatment costs the Post Office Department or the taxpayer in the final analysis approximately $1,740,000 every year.

In order to lift this tremendous burden from the shoulders of the Post Office Department and on the pocketbook of the American people, the first week in June has been set aside by Postmaster General New as "Better Mailing Week." An active, nationwide campaign will be conducted during that period for the purpose of impressing on every viewpoint of using more care in the addressing of his mail, not only letters but parcels as well.

U. S. NOT AT FAULT SAYS GEN. O'RYAN
Has Had Nothing to Do With War Talk or Moves Since World Conflict
Major General John F. O'Ryan, of New York, in a speech before the Cincinnati Peace League, said that Europe sees in the United States the greatest menace to world peace. It was not the United States that disturbed the peace of the world in 1914. Since the close of the World War the United States has had nothing to do with staging the score of big and little wars that have occurred in Europe. The best contribution any citizen can make to neighborhood peace is to attend to his own business and keep his nose out of other people's. It is as good a peace program for a nation as for an individual. If Europe regards the United States as a menace to world peace it is overlooking a good many things much nearer home.

SUPREME COURT SAYS TAX PUBLICITY O. K.
Finds Law Valid Permitting the Publishing of Income Reports
The United States Supreme Court has just decided that the publication by newspapers of lists containing the names of income tax payers is legal. This decision settles the question as to whether Congress, when it provided for publicity of tax payments, failed to repeal a previous statute which carried with it a penalty for the disclosure of information contained in income tax returns. The decision of the Court was that the provision of the 1924 revenue law superseded previous statutes. Other decisions of interest handed down by the Supreme Court were that the Japanese or Chinese wives of Americans are not permitted to enter this country under the immigration act of 1924; that a native born Japanese is not eligible to become a citizen, despite the fact that he may have served in the Army; that the federal government has no priority of claim in any bankruptcy proceedings, except in the matter of tax collections; that the Federal capital stock tax on corporations has to be computed on the value of the net assets of the company.
