

CONGRESS SESSIONS NOT TO BE RADIOED

So Much Inconsequential Talk Would Clutter Up Ether To No Advantage

Just before Congress adjourned there was quite an agitation to have broadcast the deliberations of that body. This was following in the lines of the proposal to broadcast the proceedings of the British Parliament.

to the public for many sessions to come, if at all. By the very nature of proceedings, more especially in the House, the ether waves would be cluttered up for many hours every day by a lot of inconsequential utterances made, in many instances for "home consumption."

NO PRAISE FROM REDS FOR DECISION

Supreme Court Ruling, Though Blow to Rich Won't Get Radical Approval

This country waits—in vain, doubtless—for its radicals to burst forth in songs of praise for the United States Supreme Court, which has just decided that the money derived from a trust estate is not a gift but is income and, therefore, taxable by the Federal Government even under the revenue law of 1913.

Here is a blow to many rich persons. Consequently the radicals, who love to talk about Supreme Court "tyranny," will neither praise nor blame that tribunal, but will remain silent, as is their custom on such occasions.

When the Supreme Court delivers a decision that seems to benefit the rich or the employers of labor the radicals call the court an enemy of the poor. Why do not the radicals now call the court an enemy of the rich?

BILL TO REGULATE USE OF HEADLIGHTS

A House bill has been introduced at Springfield, the purpose of which is to compel motorists to adjust their headlights so the light will not rise more than forty-two inches above the ground, according to the legislative department of the Chicago Motor Club.

This bill also provides that trucks carrying dangerous combustibles may use acetylene gas headlights. This provision is made because many heavy trucks now use acetylene gas in their headlights. Spot lights must be regulated so that their light does not rise above the ground at a distance greater than seventy-five feet, and dazzling lights thrown directly ahead of sideways must not rise more than three and one-half feet above the ground. A fine of not more than $25.00 is provided as punishment for violation.

PUBLIC SERVICE CO. YEAR BOOK ISSUED

Interesting Annual Beautifully Printed and Illustrated Is Sent Out

Local stockholders of the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois are receiving copies of their company's 1925 Year Book.

The Year Book, a beautifully printed and artistically arranged publication, contains a mass of information about the rapidly developing territory served by the company in northeastern Illinois. The company has over 25,000 stockholders each of whom will receive a copy.

Among the interesting features it contains are airplane views taken in the territory last fall. Several of the company's plants and the residential and business sections of a number of cities are pictured.

The book shows that 12 communities—Cahery, Kempler, North Riverside, Specialville, Buckingham, East Waukegan, Buffalo Grove, Fairview, Reddick, Orchard Place, Otto and Custer Park—were added to the company's lines last year.

In connection with the addition of these towns, the book points out that the company, by constantly broadening its field of service, was enabled to bring electricity and gas to these communities which otherwise might not have received the advantages of such service for years to come.

The publication also points out that the number of customers served at the end of 1924 was 283,629, an increase of 12.1 per cent over 1923. This increase, in itself, is an indication of the stability and growth of business in the territory served.

The final pages of the publication list the company's stores, offices, electric generating stations, electric substations, gas manufacturing plants, heating plants and the cities, towns and villages served.

CRAGIN A. A. WINS 9 TO 7

Errors Account for Most Runs; Libertyville Coming for Battle Here Sunday, June 21

(By A. Fell) Playing the brand of ball that would do justice to a bunch of grammar school kids the Elks lost 9 to 7 to the Cragin A. A. The Cragins scored two runs in the fifth after Hessler had struck out the first two men. They added another run in the seventh when the Elks were throwing the ball at each other, so to speak.

Glader hit a double scoring George. Fred came in on Pages single. Werner ended the inning by flying out. The rally fell one run short.
