AUTO SERVICE IN EUROPE DESCRIBED FOR AMERICAN-MADE CARS

Facilities Are Said to be Fair in Nearly Every Country, According to Report of Motor Club

Good service facilities for a number of American motor cars are available in nearly every country in Europe, according to the foreign travel division of the Chicago Motor Club touring bureau. American manufacturers have arranged with foreign distributors to carry stocks of spare parts and to provide efficient service. The touring bureau advises motorists to write to the manufacturers of their cars before going abroad, listing the countries they intend to visit and asking for a list of the car distributors in these territories. It is advisable to arrange for passage and cabin serveral months in advance. The American Automobile Association foreign department in New York will give advice on hotels.

Little Free Baggage

In foreign countries little allowance is made for carrying free baggage. The baggage charge amounts up rapidly when one has traveled a few hundred miles, so it is advisable to take only essential luggage. There is also the inconvenience encountered at the Douane, or custom house, at the border of each country when the traveler must get out of his car to watch his baggage searched. If a trunk is carried to be placed under the bed in the cabin, make sure that it is not more than fourteen inches high, two feet wide and three feet long. The de luxe staterooms, of course, are large enough to accommodate wardrobe trunks, hat boxes, etc.

Tax Receipt Unnecessary

It is not necessary now to present an income tax receipt, if you are a citizen of the United States. All foreign tourists and those traveling on anything other than an American passport, sailing from the port of New York, must appear personally before the agent in charge of the Internal Revenue at the Custom House, Bowling Green, New York City, regardless of whatever income tax clearance papers they have received from the Internal Revenue office in the city or town in the United States from which they have come, and receive in exchange a sailing clearance permit.

How to Carry Funds

There are two ways to carry funds while traveling—a letter of credit and travelers' checks. Travelers' checks are ready letters of credit for small amounts, issued in $10, $20, $50, $100 and $200 denominations. You put your signature on them once, when the checks are bought, and again as identification, when you cash them. They are accepted all over the world as currency, and can be cashed at banks, hotels and large stores. They are convenient and safe. Banks, tour agencies, and steamship lines issue these convenient checks. A letter of credit may also be purchased from any of these sources. It is a certificate that you have the amount stated on deposit with the organization which issues the certificate. It may be presented at any bank, or you may make out a draft for the amount you want to draw, payable to yourself. A memorandum of your draft is made on your letter of credit, and the money is handed to you.
