INSTALL NEW FIRE SIREN IN DEERFIELD

A large fire siren alarm has been installed on the John Stryker building in the very center of the town, which is electrically operated, either from the telephone switch-board or from the Deerfield State bank. The formidable sound can be heard throughout the town so that everyone is aware of a fire in this vicinity. It is a great improvement over the former method, which was to strike an old engine wheel with a metal mallet, sounding very similar to the old fashion charivari.

Henry Hofmann is the Deerfield fire chief and Harry Mulke is assistant chief.
