After All, the Owner's Word Is Final!

Anyone may sell an oil burner. Anyone may buy one. Most advertisements sound splendid. But the final analysis is: what oil burner gives the best service? What oil burner saves its owner the most money and the most labor? Let the folks who own them tell you. Owners of the HARDINGE have written us about their experiences with the

HARDINGE Fuel Oil Burner

We have copies of these letters and will very gladly send them to you. You'll find in them most interesting revelations about oil burners and homes—as well as factories and industrial plants. Write for your copies of these letters today. The only thing we ask is that, before you buy an oil burner, you compare the HARDINGE with every one in existence. That's fair enough, isn't it—to both of us?

BOY SCOUT CAMP FOR LAKE COUNTY IS ON DIAMOND LAKE

Selection Made by Committee of Waukegan-North Chicago Council of Scouts and is Good Site

The Camping committee of the Waukegan-North Chicago Council, Boy Scouts of America has made final selection of a camp site for this summer's Council Camp. Camp Waunochico IV will be conducted on the west shore of Diamond Lake. This is not to be confused, however, with the site on the south shore of the lake, where last year's encampment was held. The selection made by the committee came after five trips in search of a suitable place for the Waukegan-North Chicago Scouts to hold their summer outing. During these five trips, eight lake and one river site in Kenosha County, Wisconsin, and five lake and one river site in Lake County were investigated.

Particular Advantage
The particular advantage of this year's camp will be that the boys will have a large plot of ground reserved for their own use. In addition, they will have the privilege of some use of the old Bartlett farm, which within the next few years will be completely subdivided. On the plot reserved for the use of the boys alone, there is an old farm house. This will be used as a mess hall, kitchen, camp store, and officers' quarters. Tents of the various patrols attending camp will be pitched in a line north and south, and adjacent to the farm house. East of the line of tents will be the drill field, recreation field, and flag pole. Beyond the field is the beach which will be used for the regular camp swims.

Part of the leadership for camp has already been selected. W. E. Biodgett, Scout Executive, will act as director and be assisted by Assistant Scoutmaster James Casey and J. R. Walsh, Scout Executive of Merrill, Wisconsin. Among the volunteer leaders are Leo Poretsky and Robert Gustie who will act as Senior Patrol Leaders of Troops in camp. More volunteer leaders will be named later.

For County Scouts
An opportunity is to be given all troops in Lake County to attend the camp conducted by the Waukegan-

North Chicago Council. Attendance at camp by troops outside of Waukegan and North Chicago is contingent upon the visiting troop meeting its share of the overhead expenses.

The camping committee will this week send out letters to the various troops of the county, as well as to local troops, giving full information regarding the camp. Applications for both scouts and scout leaders will also be sent out.

The cost for each scout for a period of thirteen days will be $9.00. Local scout headquarters has provided a plan whereby a scout may save money and purchase camp stamps. These stamps are placed in a folder and as soon as the folder is filled it serves as a scout's admission ticket to camp. This "Camp Stamp" plan has already been put into operation and quite a number of boys have availed themselves of this method of saving for camp. The time for receiving applications from Waukegan and North Chicago Scouts was closed on July 15. The time for county scouts was closed on July 1.

ANOTHER ECONOMY DRIVE IS PLANNED

Budget Commission Authorized by President to Try to Cut Expenditure
Another study of the governmental departments will be made at the order of the President by the Budget Commission to ascertain whether there cannot be further reductions of expense which will be reflected in the tax reduction program next year. The President is said to believe that it will be possible to bring the budget down below the three billion mark which has been set for the next year.

The budget director is said to have told the President that the number of employees now on the pay roll at Washington, 65,000, is entirely too large, and that reductions in the personnel have not been made as general as they should have been in line with the present program of economy. The largest forces are now carried in the Navy and War departments and in the shipping board, it is said. The study is being made not only for the next fiscal year but for the entire period of the Coolidge administration. The order sent to the heads of departments calls for reports on what can be reduced for the next fiscal year and for the period up to December, 1928.

The director of the budget feels that some of the cuts possible cannot be made preemptorily and he has furnished the different heads of departments with an estimate of the amount their appropriations might be reduced at once and for the entire period of the Coolidge administration. In some cases, it is said, he has gone so far as to point out specifically where the reductions might be made for the good of the service.

TELEPHONE GANG FISH FOR CABLE

Chop Hole in Ice of St. Louis River and Angle for Damaged Section

Fishing through the ice is a popular winter sport, but up in Duluth on the Shores of Lake Superior telephone men had the experience last winter of fishing through the ice, not for the funny tribe, but for a damaged telephone cable. Last summer a 32-pair steel armored submarine toll cable, under the draw span of the Northern Pacific Railroad bridge across the St. Louis River, was damaged by the bucket of a dredge excavating in the river channel. The cable connects Duluth, Minnesota, and Superior, Wis. Seven cable pairs were put out of order, but as there were sufficient spares, it was not deemed necessary to attempt to clear the trouble. During a sleet storm on March 9, however, falling toll wires came in contact with street trolley wires, carrying foreign currents into the submarine cable and causing a burn at the damaged point causing a burn at the damaged point, thus putting the cable entirely out of commission.

The ice was 30 inches thick and had to be cut away at the point where the cable entered the river. The cable was grappled, raised to the surface by a specially constructed derrick and laid to one side on the surface of the ice. This process of cutting and raising was continued all along the route of the cable until the damaged section was located and brought up. A new channel was then cut through the ice and the cable restored to its watery resting place. This entire piece of work was completed in only four and one-half days and under the most unfavorable and trying working conditions.

Now that reunion time has come, it would seem appropriate for all the descendants of the monkey tribe to have a family gathering.
