800 EXPECTED DEERFIELD

Number of Schools Open Tuesday, Balance Wednesday, Forty-seven Instructors at High School

The public schools of Highland Park, with the exception of those in district 108—Lincoln, Ravinia and West Ridge—will open the day after Labor Day, Tuesday, September 8. The latter three will open on Wednesday. The school of the Immaculate Conception, both in grades and high school, will open Tuesday.

Deerfield-Shields High School
With a teaching staff of forty-seven in addition to Principal Sandwick, Deerfield will enter upon what is expected to be a greater year than has been seen in its history. Its growth has been steadily large; and its courses of study and personnel have expanded and grown to meet the emergency. The new auditorium, work upon which has been delayed a number of times, will be used from the beginning of school, since all seats are in, the curtain is being put up, and nothing remains uncompleted save the stage equipment. Deerfield-Shields' attendance last year was 785, of which number some 30 per cent were Lake Forest students. Mr. Sandwick expects a total enrollment for this year of well above 800.

In addition to those teachers who are returning, 15 of whom did graduate work in various universities this summer, a number of new instructors come to the high school this term:

Miss Ruth Wilson, Dear of Girls, a graduate of Grinnell college, comes with high recommendations from several years' teaching experience at her alma mater and at Chicago, where she did graduate work.

Miss Constance Welch will have charge of the important position as instructor in public speaking and director of dramatics. She comes from a similar position at the Oshkosh Normal school and with the recommendations of Alexander Dean and Lew Sackett, popular professors in the school of speech at Northwestern, where she studied.

Miss Grace Campbell takes a position in the department of Household Arts. Miss Lucy Burwash has been promoted to the head of that department to fill the place made vacant by the resignation of Miss Hesler, who will take a position in a suburb of New York where she may be with her sister.

Mr. John W. Heaton comes with the growth of the Latin department as an instructor in Latin. He has a master of arts degree from the University of Chicago.

Mr. Blandford Jennings, new teacher of English, was formerly head of the English department at the Green Bay high school. He graduated from the University of Wisconsin and did graduate work at other schools. He comes highly recommended.

Miss Whiteman, who has been in charge of the study hall, will this year teach zoology and elementary science. The study hall will be in charge of Lormira Perry, former dean of girls at the Kankakee high school. Miss Della L. Whittemore, the new

Ravinia Annual Frolic Is Largely Attended Saturday

The annual street dance was given by the Woman's Civic club of Ravinia Saturday evening, Aug. 29, in Ravinia. It was the largest and most successful of any of the costume street dances Ravinia has ever seen since they became an interesting and popular institution in Ravinia several years ago.

This is a carnival fete with a charm which is strictly Ravinia's own. The interest in the event is very keen and it is entered into with such a spirit of the romantic and of the artistic, as well as that of fun, that it becomes a beautiful and joyous occasion.

The many colored lights softened by Japanese lanterns sparkling through the trees, cast a beautiful glow over the kaleidoscopic scene of costumed dancers and gaily decorated booths.

Spanish costumes of all periods, forming quite a large and interesting group, were the predominant note.

Prizes for the most beautiful costumes were awarded to Miss Charlotte Robertson, daughter of Mr. Lionel Robertson, who wore the costume of the Infanta of Spain of the early 17th century, copied from that of the Infanta in one of the famous portraits of Velasquez, and to Mrs. George R. Miles, who wore a de Medici costume of the Renaissance period, which she copied accurately in every detail and made herself.

Mr. Frank C. Peyrand as a Spanish courtier of the time of Velasquez, won the prize for the most striking gentleman's costume. Wm. Edward F. Brizzolara as a cow boy of the wild west, astride an artificial bucking bronco, won the prize for the funniest costume. One of the most original costumes was designed and worn by Mr. and Mrs. James Cady Ewell who made a striking picture in black and white. Mr. Ewell is often called the "Black and White" artist and it is said that some of his work in black and white suggested the design for their costumes.

Mr. Lionel Robertson and his daughter, Miss Charlotte Robertson, led the parade of costumed revellers in the early part of the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Vittorio Trevisan were other noted artists present.

J. M. APPEL RETURNS FROM TRIP ABROAD

President of State Bank Reports Good Crops; Financial Conditions Unsatisfactory

J. M. Appel, president of the Highland Park State bank returned yesterday on the Columbus, from a two months European trip, having visited the principal cities and points of interest in England, France, Switzerland and Germany. He was accompanied by his wife, son and daughter-in-law.

Mr. Appel found wonderful crop conditions throughout these countries. On the other hand, he found much unemployment, low wages and a general feeling of unrest. In France particularly, the financial situation appears in a very unsatisfactory condition.

In Germany, the industrial interests are suffering from lack of capital and the interest rates are exorbitant. While groaning under the terrific tax burdens imposed by reason of the loss of the war, the German people, sensitive of their loss of power have buckled down to hard work, apparently determined to meet their obligations and place their country back among the leading nations of the world.

Mr. Appel found very little Anti-American feeling either in France or Germany.

NORTHBROOK BIDS "GOODBYE TO MUD"

TEN THOUSAND PRESENT

Completion of Village Paving Marked by Ceremonies of "Northbrook Day"; Many Notables Present

The ceremonies incidental to Northbrook's formal "good-bye to mud" assumed county-wide importance when a check-up revealed that some two thousand cars had driven in from Chicago and neighboring towns. A casual onlooker from those towns would have thought that "Highland Park Day" or "Deerfield Day" was being celebrated, judging by the number present from those towns. The crowd, it was estimated, was larger than that patronizing any other of the North Shore towns' "days." Seven thousand bottles of liquid refreshment and six thousand ice cream cones were served from the refreshment stands.

A big motor parade, with numerous decorated floats, started at ten in the morning, and, traversing the village, wound up at Baronsheer Grove, where Sheriff Peter M. Hoffman of Cook County, Frank J. Wilson and William Busse, county commissioners, Lawrence F. King, president of the sanitary district and Col. W. G. Edens, president of the Illinois Highway Improvement association, were heard from the platform.

The new Northbrook pavements, the completion of which was celebrated, cover practically every foot of inhabited street in the village. There is on record no similar instance of a similar village having a like amount of paving. Rudolph Lauer, president of the village, and the committee in charge, wish to extend thanks to the city and citizens of Highland Park who helped in making the day a success.

A feature of the day was the awarding of prizes for the best decorated floats, novelties, and in the races. Little Ruth Warneke, with a coaster wagon filled with mud, took a prize for her slogan "Goodbye Mud." Bulow Draws Ajax.

Mr. William Bulow, of Chicago a former resident of Northbrook, drew the lucky number for the Ajax given away on that day.

Prizes in commercial floats were won, first, by the Public Service Company of Highland Park, and second, the Wheeling Business Men's association.

Northbrook lodge of I. O. O. F. took first prize for their float in the lodge float class, the Modern Woodmen getting second. The Nash Sales of Desplaines took first prize for the best decorated float in the pleasure car class.

Al Dehnes' horse, decorated in red, white and blue, took first in the saddle horse group, and Volney Hand-when second. For novelties, first prize went to Albert Haworth as George Washington and second to Ardath Mentzer, in a large yellow flower.

70 Prizes Yet Unclaimed

Of the 325 prizes in the registration booth, seventy remain unclaimed. Those mentioned as winners may claim their prizes by presenting their stub to Mrs. Henry Therrien, of Walter street, Northbrook, any time after Labor Day.

The list of prize winners will be published in next week's issue.

BRILLIANCE MARKS RAVINIA CLOSING

FINAL PERFORMANCE MON.

Acts from Three Operas With Cluster of Stars in Triple Bill Offered Monday Night, Sept. 7

There are many elements which have served to make the fourteenth season of Ravinia Opera and Concerts which is just closing, not only the most brilliant season which has ever been enjoyed by this North Shore shrine of music, but also one of the most brilliant ever given in this country. Long before the beginning of the season Mr. Eckstein made elaborate plans all of which have been culminated. The roster of artists this year has been more than unusual containing as it does, the names of a large number of opera stars who stand in the very front ranks of the artists of the world. Never before have so many stars of first magnitude been brought together in one organization as those who have been heard at Ravinia this year.

Another performance of "La Tosca" with Mme. Raisa in the title role will be given on Saturday night, Sept. 5, Giuseppe Danise being heard as Scarpia and Mario Chamlee as Cavaradossi. Others in the cast are Louis D'Angelo, Giordano Paltrinieri, Paolo Ananian and Merle Alcock. Gennaro Papi will conduct. The last lay of the season will be entered Sunday afternoon, September 6 when a concert will be given by the Chicago Symphony Orchestra with Alfred Wallenstein, cellist, as soloist.

Sunday night, "Carmen," one of the most popular operas of the standard repertoire, will be given its only performance of the season with Mme. Bourskaya in the title role. Armand Tokaty as Don Jose and Marie Sundelius as Micaela. Others are Giacomo Rimini, Paolo Ananian, Margery Maxwell, Louis D'Angelo, Philine Falco and Giordano Paltrinieri. Louis Hasselmann will conduct.

Triple Closing Bill

The season will reach a fitting climax on Monday night, September 7, when, in accordance with long established custom a gala program will be presented that all reflect in splendid manner, the dazzling brilliance which has been characteristic of the entire season. Mr. Eckstein has arranged a triple bill for this occasion which will bring before the footlights an array of opera stars who have rightfully been described as the brightest jewels in the diadem of opera. It is a well established fact that no place in the world have so many stars of world magnitude been brought together in one organization as are to be found at Ravinia this summer, and on the occasion of the season's gala closing, they will appear in a program of opera scenes which may be called representative of their best work. The first act of "Madame Butterfly" with Mme. Raisa in the title role and with Giovanni Martinelli appearing for the first time this season as Lieut. Pinkerton, will open the program. Little remains to be said concerning the "Butterfly" of Mme. Raisa, who singing the role for the first time in her career at Ravinia this summer, immediately won the acclaim of all who heard her and added to her repertoire one of her greatest roles. Mr. Martinelli has long been considered one of the world's greatest exponents of the role of Pinkerton and one can readily imagine the heights to which these artists will climb in the famous love duet that closes this act. Giacomo Rimini will be heard as Sharpless, a part he has not sung at Ravinia but which holds important place in his repertoire, and Mme. Bourskaya will be the Suzuki. Giordano Paltrinieri will appear as Goro and Paolo Ananian as the Bonze. Gennaro Papi will conduct. Massenet's "Manon" will provide a splendid vehicle for Mme. Lucrezia Bori and Tito Schipa, the second and third acts of this work being given, which means the inclusion of the famous St. Subice scene. These artists have been in these roles several times this season, each presentation of the work being followed by public demand for its repetition, and in it Mme. Bori and Mr. Schipa are found at their best. It has long been known that Lucrezia Bori was one of the best Manons and that Mr. Schipa was the premiere Des Grieux. It was little wonder then that when they should be cast vis-a-vis at Ravinia this summer, they should bring new meaning to this brilliant opus of the French school. Leon Rothier will figure importantly in the presentation of this work, being heard as the elder Des Grieux in the St. Subice scene. Others are Louis D'Angelo, Desire Defrere and Virgilia Grassi. Louis Hasselmann will
