

DEERFIELD NEWS ITEMS

Wednesday, September 16. After a brief business meeting a paper was read by Mrs. Carl F. Stadler on "Native Trees." Her paper was of particular appeal as she had been so fortunate as to obtain, among other books, a booklet entitled the "Flora of Lake county," written by our neighbor, Jesse L. Smith, who is such an authority. Thus the members were acquainted with trees right in their own vicinity. There followed an informal discussion of the subject and the meeting adjourned to Mrs. Johnson's yard where any number of specimens of native trees were found. Light refreshments were served and the members went home feeling on more intimate terms with nature.

Carnival Song by J. M. Grantham Miss Louise Kersten who was selected Queen of the Carnival for the Deerfield Fall Festival and Street Dance on Saturday, Sept. 26, has selected, as her attendants, Miss Ruth Patterson and Miss Hazel Easton.

The school children who will also participate in the parade are learning a song, "What Deerfield Will Do," written by Mr. James M. Grantham, which is as follows:

A song we'll sing and make it ring With purpose strong and true, With flag unfurled we'll show the world, What Deerfield can do. She will not shirk a needle full of work, However hard or new, Until she's tried, who dare decide What Deerfield will do. The happiness of all her folks She ever keeps in view, What can be done for wholesome fun That Deerfield will do. Her hand extended to each old friend, And passing stranger, too. For every guest, provide the best That Deerfield will do. Our dear old flag of stars and stripes, The red, the white, the blue She'll always fly in God's free sky That Deerfield will do.

Chorus: Deerfield will do, what ever is good and true, Whatever's right, with all her might, Deerfield will do.

WINNETKA PEOPLE SEE AIRSHIP WRECK

While on a motor tour of the east, R. H. Schell and family, who returned to Winnetka this week, saw the wreck of the Shenandoah, Ohio. Mr. Schell said that they were not far from the place where the airship fell and motored over to see it the next morning. He said that there was a solid line of cars coming and going to the spot for miles along the principal highway that led to the wreckage. The party of the wreckage which he saw was the stern of the craft, and he said that it seemed to have landed easily. While on their trip the family visited Elkheart, Ind.; Toledo, Ohio; Akron, Ohio; Pittsburg, and stopped for a while with relatives in Cortopolis, a suburb of Pittsburg. They were gone two weeks.

AUTO LIMERICKS

BUSINESS IS GOOD SHE DIDN'T CRY 'PITY POOR NEW YORK THINKING IS HARD

Business IS GOOD. Tell that to your inquiring friends. The value of crops will be TEN THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS. Farmers are more cheerful, prices good. Commercial business in cities is improving steadily. Extraordinary showings will be made for August by many department stores and other big institutions.

The state of New York pities itself because it pays $500,000,000 income tax, almost a third of the entire national tax.

New Yorkers shouldn't forget that if they pay $500,000,000, it is because forty-seven other states send all their wealth to New York banks, spend millions in New York shops and hotels, and allow New York's high finance to tap with its corporations and its interlocking ownerships the sources of wealth all over the United States.

Since New York gets the income, it should be content to pay the tax.

"President Coolidge will leave the coal situation for the present to Congress and hopes there will be no profiteering in the meantime." So reads the dispatch.

That is a large hope, for "in the meantime" may dealers have raised the price fifty cents a ton. With the public, panic-stricken, rushing to buy, that means comfortable profiteering.

Mrs. Elsie Eaton Newton, an Ohio lady, found herself facing the emptiness of life, with her two daughters married. Many ladies would have sat down to have a good cry. Mrs. Newton went to Marietta College, worked hard, got her A. B., with her two grandchildren sitting in the audience, to cheer.

Now she is Dean of Women in Marietta College, and happy.

There is no life emptiness, except in the brain. Keep that busy and life is all right, even if your daughters are married and your husbands dead.

The next generation will read about "the navy patrolling the route," to save the fliers if necessary, and that will seem as strange as to send an automobile with a carrier pigeon in case it should fall down.

Mr. Konkle in New York, to prove gratitude for the recovery of his son, supposed to be hopelessly ill, will build a 65-story building, partly religious, partly commercial, made up of a church and a hotel, with 4,500 bedrooms. Ten per cent of profits will go to missionary work, looked after by the son. The father will look after the profits.

The dining room will hold 2,000 in the tallest building, thus far, in the United States.

This religious building contrasts interestingly with the old sinful Tower of Babel, which probably was about one-half the proposed height of this 65-story hotel.

The great Bernard Shaw, in a mood of unusual but accurate humility, says the world a thousand years hence will know nothing about him except that the great French sculptor Rodin, once made a bust of Shaw, biographical dictionaries will contain this:

"Shaw, Bernard; subject of a bust by Rodin; otherwise unknown."

Even that's an overstatement, for in a thousand years Rodin won't be remembered any more than Shaw.

Rodin in art, 1,000 years from now will be as unimportant as Kipling in literature or Shaw in philosophy.

After the war broke out, the Czar put Russia on a cold water basis, stopping the sale of vodka absolutely.

This column then suggested that absence of whiskey would mean more cold thinking by Russians, and that one result of such thinking would be the absence of the Czar. That prophecy was fulfilled.

Now Bolshevism restores vodka to its old alcoholic power—about forty per cent.

Men to whom thinking is new dislike the unpleasant sensation and effort.

And governments that want to rule in peace find their work easier when the crowd ruled is well supplied with whiskey.

Some towns are advertising their drinking water, but this does not seem to satisfy those who demand hooch.

Not all the people that howl at the grocery stores about bad government, can be found at the polls on election day.

Everyone favored having the wages of postal workers raised, but no one seems to be willing to pay for these advances.
