

WAR MEMORIAL SITE IN PARK IS CHOSEN

BY COMMITTEE AND ARTIST

Foundation to Be Put In Immediately and Work Will Be Completed on Time; Big Difficulty

On Thursday afternoon of last week the site for the Highland Park War Memorial was chosen in Memorial park. Mr. James Cady Ewell the sculptor, had a cardboard replica of his monument, full size, and this was placed in different parts of the park at Laurel and Prospect avenues. Mr. Jens Jensen, Mr. Rudolph Ingerle, Mr. Fredrickson of the Anderson Monument Co., several members of the War Memorial committee and Mr. Ewell spent two hours deciding on the location, which was finally chosen toward the west end of the park.

The concrete foundation is being put in at once so as to settle during the winter. Mr. Fredrickson told the committee that the huge granite slabs for the monument, specially quarried, are in Chicago, and everything ready to have the work finished on time.

To Preserve Beauty
The desire of Mr. Jensen and the committee was to preserve the park in its natural beauty and it will not be necessary to take any trees out, which will be good news to many people. Bids for the landscaping will be asked for just as soon as possible.

The most difficult situation which confronts the War Memorial committee at present is to find the correct names of the men and women who served in the war. The following unclaimed letters have been returned from the post office, addresses unknown. Will any one knowing where any of these persons can be found either telephone or write to the chairman, Mrs. John F. Mackenzie, 195 Laurel avenue, Telephone H. P. 133. The names are:

J. C. Boylan Dies in Waukegan Hospital; Funeral on Sunday

James C. Boylan, native of Highland Park and a resident here during practically his entire life of 42 years, died at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, Dec. 3, at the Victory Memorial hospital, Waukegan, following a brief illness of heart trouble.

The funeral service was held at the Immaculate Conception church at 8 o'clock Sunday morning, Dec. 6, and burial was in the cemetery at Everett.

Mr. Boylan, who was a traveling auditor for the United States government, returned from a trip early in November apparently in his usual health. About a week later he was taken ill and three weeks before his death he went to the Waukegan hospital for treatment.

Born Here in 1883
James C. Boylan was born in Highland Park, Oct. 1, 1883, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Terence Boylan, early residents in this section. He was married Jan. 10, 1906, in Highland Park, to Miss Margaret McClory, also of this city, and who survives him.

There are four children, John and Joseph Boylan, twins, aged 19, and both seniors in the Deerfield-Shields high school, where they have distinguished themselves in athletics, and two daughters, Dorothy, aged eight, and Agnes five years. Two sisters of Mr. Boylan also are living, Mrs. Samuel Bowden of Ravinia and Mrs. Henry Dugdale of Evanston.

In Government Service
Mr. Boylan entered the service of the government in a clerical capacity during the World war and at its close remained in the employ of the government, holding at his death a position of trust and importance. Previous to his government service he had held various positions in Highland Park and was well regarded among his business associates. He was a member of the Outimette council, Knights of Columbus, at Wilmette.

He was well known in Highland Park, where during his lifetime he had a host of warm friends by whom he was held in high esteem for his many qualities and genial personality. Wherever he was known, the news of his death was received with deep regret, and his wife and family have the sincere sympathy of the community in their sorrow.

The funeral was held on Monday at Fort Sheridan and the decedent was buried with full military honors in the Fort Sheridan cemetery.

BUSINESS MEN SIGN LETTER ON ZONING

PRACTICALLY UNANIMOUS

Favor Apartments Over Stores in Business District; Are Opposed to Proposed Amendment

In connection with the public meeting to be held Friday evening in the Elm Place auditorium for further consideration of the proposed amendment to the zoning ordinance, the following open letter has been prepared and signed by 90 per cent of the property owners in the business district of Highland Park. It will be transmitted to Mr. F. W. Cushing, chairman of the zoning committee, with the request that it be read in open meeting Friday evening.

The Letter
Highland Park, Ill.
December 7, 1925

Mr. Frederick W. Cushing, Chairman, Zoning Committee, Highland Park, Illinois.

Dear Sir:
We respectfully call your attention to certain paragraphs in the present Zoning Ordinance and in the proposed amendment thereto.

On page 2 of the present ordinance in Section II, we find:
"The powers conferred under this ordinance shall not be exercised so as to deprive the owner of any existing property of its use or maintenance for the purpose to which it is lawfully devoted at the time of the passage of this ordinance."

This clause appears to be omitted in the amendment, and we believe it should remain as originally incorporated.

In Section 7 of the proposed amendment we find the height of the buildings in the business district is limited to forty-five feet or three stories. We believe that this should read sixty feet, with proper restrictions as to construction.

NEWS AT DEERFIELD QUITS; PRESS OFFER

WILL TAKE OVER SUBS.

This Paper Will Be Sent Weekly to All Who Have Paid Year in Advance to News; Show Receipts

Reports from Deerfield are that the Deerfield News, a small newspaper which has been printed in Evanston and circulated in our neighboring city for several weeks, has ceased publication on account of financial difficulties. The Deerfield News was published by the Deerfield Publishing Co., not incorporated, H. Schmidt, proprietor. In all about 20 issues were distributed in Deerfield.

While a fairly good-looking paper, the News evidently did not enjoy sufficient support to insure its permanency and indications were that it was printed at a loss every week of its existence.

It is reported that quite a number of Deerfield people have paid a year's subscription in advance for the News, and with its suspension they have little expectation of getting value received.

Makes Liberal Offer
Just here is where the Highland Park Press comes to the rescue. The Press believes that because of the many things which these two communities have in common, a spirit of co-operation should always be mutually manifested. And, while the Press had no connection in any way with the defunct News, it does not wish to see any Deerfield resident lose by this experience with that paper.

Therefore the Highland Park Press makes this offer: To all Deerfield residents who have paid for the Deerfield News a year in advance, the Press will agree to send the Highland Park Press free until the expiration of their subscriptions to the News, providing they are not already subscribers to the Press.

Believes in Co-operation
It is not often that a rival newspaper assumes any such responsibility as this, but the Press would like to have every family in Deerfield on its lists. It believes that with the children of both communities attending the same high school, with a wide, hard road connecting the two towns and with so many things of common interest to the two communities, the citizens and organizations of both

GIVE A CHRISTMAS TO A LITTLE CHILD

Mrs. John F. Mackenzie in Charge of Distribution of Stockings

For many years Highland Park has taken care of the poor children at Christmas time by sending filled stockings to Mrs. Henry S. Vail. This year Mrs. Vail is in California and the stockings are to be sent to Mrs. John F. Mackenzie, 195 Laurel avenue.

Will you buy a pair of stockings, put one in the toe of the stocking, and then fill with toys. If for a girl a doll gives more joy than anything else. A bag of candy is also welcome but please do not put any fruit in as it will spoil.

The stockings are delivered in Highland Park and Highwood and the lists of where to send them are provided by the school and city nurses. It is hoped a generous response will be made to this annual appeal for those children who are not fortunate enough to have a Christmas unless it is sent them.

Please put a card on the stocking, stating the age and whether for a boy or girl. Deliver to 195 Laurel avenue by December 17th.

NOTED PREACHER TO SPEAK HERE SUNDAY

Next Sunday, December 13, the Rev. Harold Pattison, D.D., until recently pastor of the Washington Heights Baptist church in New York City, will preach at the eleven o'clock service at the Highland Park Presbyterian church.

Dr. Pattison is one of the able preachers of the metropolis and is much in demand among the colleges and universities throughout the east. He is widely travelled, a scholarly and able preacher. He is making a week-end visit with some former parishioners who are now associated with the work of the Presbyterian church and it is through their kindness that he has been secured for the local pulpit. The public not worshipping regularly elsewhere is invited to hear this visiting preacher.

Syndicate to Erect 150 Houses on Ridge Road for Nixon Co.

A syndicate headed by Michael J. Howard and Natalie Rodriguez, contractors, in association with Edward Grossman, architect, has closed a deal with George F. Nixon and company, realtors, whereby they take over the development of a large section of Nixon's Highland Park Gardens subdivision along Ridge road, which runs north and south just west of Highland Park, with a program calling for the completion of not less than 150 homes by the fall of 1926. This is probably the biggest contract of its kind undertaken in this section.

These homes will sell at prices varying from $12,000 to $20,000. Construction is to immediately begin on ten houses and the entire program carried out in units of from ten to twenty.

The Nixon company is now completing several houses in this subdivision, which is close to the Deerfield road station site along the new electric extension. The first unit of ten houses to be built by the syndicate are to be ready for occupancy in the spring. All construction is to be under the supervision of A. L. Fridstein in charge of the construction department of the Nixon company.

Th houses will be in various architectural designs, with a leaning toward individualized design, particularly Colonial, Dutch Colonial, Old English, and Spanish.

This is the first announced program for extensive home building in the new territory opened along the new Skokie line, and is to be followed by other building announcements according to the Nixon company.

The Nixon company, controlling large sections along this right of way, through the co-operation of the North Shore city planning commissions and boards has maintained a high standard of zoning and restrictions in its subdivisions, with a view toward developing along the already established North Shore line.
