WEST

When the curtain rose on the set for the "Millennium," there was a prolonged applause for the striking beauty there presented. In accord with the spirit of the play, allegorical scenes represented the place of ultimate perfection. An extremely difficult subject to put into form on such a small stage. However, with the use of drops and lighting effects, giving the stage in semi-darkness, and focused upon the back drop, where a pictured the iridescent Temple of Life, the beautiful effect was ingeniously produced in the shadowy eyes of this place of the "Millennium," the great ones, the poet, the artist, inventor, musician, theologian, scientist, man of wealth and the King of the Bergers argue together as to which one is the greatest, each one claiming that place for himself.

Youth, however, comes dancing in, inspired by the three wise men of the star shining over the manger, declares that the meaning of life lies in its limitless possibilities. With the exception of Faith as man as Youth, the cast was made entirely of men. James Cady Bell was a magnificent, groveling beggar, who punctuated the conversation with cries of "Alms, for the love of Allah." The others were impersonated by Lionel Robertson, John Bergen, Fred Cozad, J. M. Easton, Thomas Allison, Kenneth Bennett, David Clark, Orrin Keller, William Wrenna, Clyde Terns and Joseph Ten.

Among the member of the Arts Committee, Woman's Civic Club, responsible for the success of the plays Mrs. L. M. Bronillette, publicity chairman, Winnifred Miles, Mrs. Evelyn Pardo, Mrs. David Clarke, Mrs. T. M. Wilder.

The party will begin at 8 o'clock in the evening and there will be dancing and refreshments.

SYMPHONY PROGRAM GIVEN AT NEW TRIER

George Dasch, conductor of the Symphony Players of Chicago completed a fine program for the third concert of the orchestra series at New Trier high school Monday evening, December 14, which served as calculated to off-set the wear and tear of Christmas shopping. It began with that jolly overture of Johannes Brahms, which the composer misnamed, "Academic" in name only, and displays Brahms in his most jovial moods. Mr. Dasch also presented two of his first violins in the double concerto by Bach—Messrs. Fritz Itte and Walter Hancock.

PROVIDE ICE RINK NEAR INDIAN HILL

Park Board of Winnetka, at a recent meeting, Takes Steps to Aid Skating

At a recent meeting of the Winnetka Park board it was voted to provide a small pond for ice-skating at the Indian Hill Station park. This pond will be primarily for the use of small children. It was explained that it would be impossible to construct a large rink at this park as most of it is underlaid with tile drains, and it is only in the very coldest weather that water will freeze before it drains away. It was also said that the park district is financially unable to support a large rink as it is spending large sums of money on other projects.

DR. GOODWIN ACCEPTS WINNETKA PASTORATE

The most interesting feature of the annual business meeting of the Winnetka Congregational church last Wednesday evening was the reading of a letter from the Rev. Thomas A. Goodwin in which he formally accepted the call of the church to be one of its ministers and stated that he will complete his service at Dundee January 6, and move to Winnetka immediately thereafter.

The annual meeting of Glencoe Masonic lodge was held last week with an attendance of about 75 members. The retiring administration reported an unusually successful year and Worshipful Master George H. Matthews is indeed to be complimented and congratulated on the record which he and his staff of officers have established.

The membership roll now numbers 260 with a number of candidates waiting to be initiated, so that numerically Glencoe lodge has now regained the position which it had attained when 65 members withdrew three years ago to help form a new lodge at Winnetka.

LAKE FOREST FIRE IS BELIEVED INCENDIARY

Summer Home of A. S. Nahin, Formerly Dr. Fisk Estate; Burned Friday Night

Just as fire was discovered in the $30,000 summer home of A. S. Nahin of Lake Forest last Friday evening, two men were seen to run from the rear of the place, jump into a Ford sedan and speed away, according to report received by the police. In the excitement of calling the fire department the man who saw the two leave the home, neglected to get the license number of the car and the Lake Forest police are baffled in their attempt to run down the fire bugs.

By the time the police and firemen reached the home, the entire interior was a mass of flames and no chance was given them of investigating the fire. The efforts of the fire fighters were directed at saving the surrounding property. The house was burned to the ground. It was formerly the property of Dr. George Fisk of Chicago, who sold it to Nahin.

N. S. MUSIC GUILD HAS GOOD MEETING

Encouraging Progress Reported at Session at Home of Mrs. Cotton, Winnetka

A meeting of the board of directors of the Music Guild of the North Shore, Mrs. Homer E. Cotton, president, in the chair, was held at her home recently in Winnetka. A great deal of encouraging progress was reported; many prominent members of the musical profession have joined since the last general meeting, November 4, and a great deal of constructive work of value to members of the teaching fraternity in this vicinity, has been accomplished.

Another general meeting of the guild will be held soon to ratify the proposed constitutions and by-laws at which time all those who have not yet joined are invited to be present. Notice of this meeting will be given in an early issue of this paper.

Persons immediately interested in the guild are asked to communicate with Mrs. Cotton or with J. S. Meek, secretary, 4917 N. Hermitage avenue, Chicago.

A dispatch from Harrisburg says that Governor Pinchot has again failed to end the anthracite strike which means that the price of hard coal won't go up for awhile yet.

SEVERAL WINNETKA POLICE ARE "OUT"

1 DROPPED; SOME RESIGN

At Least That Is the Information Given; Result Speed Trap Probe Is Shakeup In Force

That $2,800 police speed trap investigation which flourished like the proverbial bay tree for a time and then seemed to wither and die away, parched by lack of the nourishing waters of publicity, has at last borne fruit. The veil of secrecy which has shrouded all the proceedings of the investigating committee and its report, secretly handed in to the village council some weeks ago, was rent asunder following a secret meeting of the village council last week, when Sergt. John Iverson was dropped from the department "for good of the service" and the resignations of Motorcycle Policemen John Hanselman and Albert Ottone and Patrolman Theodore Anderson were accepted.

President Quoted
"This is not a general shake-up," explained Village President John S. Miller in commenting upon the changes, according to the Winnetka Talk. "Ottone, Hanselman and Anderson voluntarily handed in their resignations. There were no serious charges against them.

"I do not anticipate any further changes in the personnel of the police department," continued President Miller, "but some of the recommendations contained in the report of the committee will be followed in building up the department. These will be along the lines of education of the men and some changes in policy."

It is understood that one of the recommendations of the investigating committee which has already gone into effect is that all applicants for positions on the Winnetka police department be required to pass examinations similar to those required of Chicago policemen. The department is now six men short of its strength at the outset of the investigation, as Motorcycle Policeman William Merrill resigned recently to return to the taxi business, and Patrolman Adam Scott has handed in his resignation to take effect December 16, when he also will enter the taxi business in the village.
