

Musicians distinguish between Radio Receivers as they do between Pianos or Violin

Some are fine musical instruments; others are mere purveyors of sound

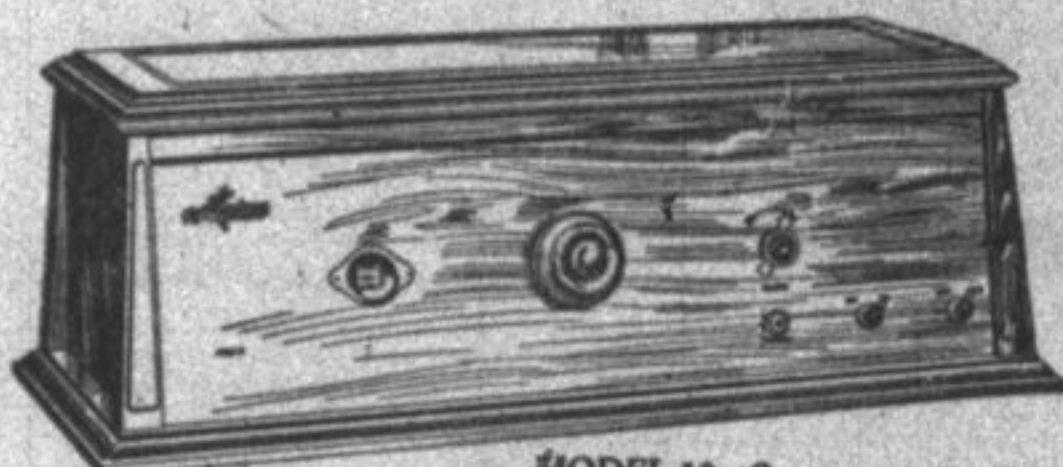

MODEL 10C—A complete 6-Tube Single-dial Console Receiver with Over-tone Speaker, Control Board, Battery Charger and Compartments for Batteries built in. Price $450.00 (less tubes and batteries).

Whether you are a musician or not, you want a radio in your home which can reproduce PERFECTLY the voice and tone of great artists. This can be done only in an OVERTONE receiver. Overtones are the heart and soul of music. They give depth and color to the human voice. Their perfect reproduction is the final test of radio.

In designing an Overtone receiver has given to radio a tone quality never before possible in long distance reception. He did so by finding a simple and uncomplicated means of controlling the radio stream from circuit to circuit so that no stray energy spills over. There is no interference to mar the pattern of vibrations which make the overtones. The tone comes through exactly as transmitted.

MODEL 10—Overtone single-dial 6-tube receiving set. Price $155 (less accessories)

Another interesting feature is the single-dial control, made possible by the same mastery of the radio stream above referred to, which prevents electrical inequalities in the circuits. The circuits are exactly alike, hence they can be PERFECTLY tuned with a single dial.
