

PLAN ORGAN DE LUXE FOR BIG CENTENNIAL

An "organists' organ," unlike any other such instrument in its specifications and one of the largest in the world, will be built for the Sesqui-Centennial International exposition which will open in Philadelphia, on June 1st. It was wholly designed by organists, the first time an important exhibition organ has been constructed in this way, as far as is known.

The instrument is valued at $150,000 and when completed will be one of the finest of its kind in the world. Plans for it were drawn by the following committee of Philadelphia organists: Henry S. Fry, chairman, president of the National Association of Organists; Dr. John M. E. Ward, Rollo P. Maitland, Frederick Maxson and S. Wesley Sears.

When installed, the organ will have a width of 100 feet, a depth of more than 45 feet, which will constitute the dominant decorative feature of the auditorium. The console will have four manuals and over one hundred selected stops. It will be movable, so that the organ may be played as a solo instrument from the stage or as an accompanying instrument from the orchestra pit.

Valentine Party

Decidedly unusual was the Valentine party given by the Deerfield Boys' club, which is composed of a peppy group of young men, Saturday evening. This particular party was held in the ballroom of the Masonic Temple, which adapts itself admirably to trimmings. An extensive assortment of red hearts adorned the walls which were fastened with gay colored paper ribbons; combined with the gowns of dainty evening shades worn by the young ladies lent themselves to the attainment of the desired effect. A charming addition to the room was the many colorful floor lamps which gave it a warm pleasant glow.

A special feature of the evening was the Charleston contest which called forth dancers who distinguished themselves in that irresistible most fascinating of intricate dances. Burton Hagi was awarded the prize. Refreshments, which makes a party complete were served through the evening.

The Melody Boys of Deerfield furnished their usual delightful music. Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Newcomb, Mrs. Ed. Bleimehl, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. O'Connor and Mr. and Mrs. William Haggie acted as chaperones. The proceeds of this affair will be used to outfit a football team in the fall.

Parent-Teacher Association

A school room in action was depicted for the edification of the Deerfield school Parent-Teacher association at the February meeting held Friday afternoon. Miss Mae Titus, whose room won the prize for having the most parents present, conducted the following school room program with twenty-two fifth grade pupils, "A Flag Salute," entire room; Melody of Patriotic Airs, entire room; Poem, "February Heroes," read by Edward Cazel, Samuel Daniel and Virginia Farmer; "A King," by Evelyn Williams and "America for Me," two poems, were studied, and "Boycott of Lincoln," was used as a reading lesson.

"Illinois" and "America the Beautiful," under the direction of the music teacher, Mrs. Alice Woods, were sung by the parents.

The association voted to entertain the faculty of the Deerfield-Shields high school and grammar school some evening in the near future. The president, Mrs. J. A. Stryker appointed the finance and social committees to take charge of the bakery and cold food sale, which will be held in the school at the March meeting. At this particular meeting bird houses, built by the school children will be on exhibition. St. Paul's Evangelical Church F. G. Piepenbrok, pastor Sunday school at 9:15 a. m. Morning service, 10:15 a. m. Lenten service, 7:30 p. m. Choir, Thursday, 8:00 p. m. Adult confirmation class Friday, 8:00 p. m.

The regular confirmation class continues to meet as usual every Saturday 1:30 p. m.

The new venture of a double service last Sunday worked just fine. The combined attendance at both services filled the church. Surely everyone will admit that this is much better than having just a German service with three-fourths of the pews empty for that day. The pastor hopes that members, friends and others will continue to come to the services. There is no reason why the church should not be filled every Sunday. If all the seats on the main floor should be occupied, don't fear for room, we still have the balcony, which affords splendid room in case of an overflow on the main floor.

Sunday we will have a morning and an evening service. Please do not make a choice of one of the services, but come to both. The evening services will be a Lenten service. These services will be held every Sunday evening until March 21. Special music by the choir will be a feature at these services.

Wanted, twelve more Sunday school scholars to help us reach the goal of 100 by Easter. Will we get the twelve? Why certainly we will. We will even get more than that if everybody is loyal to his Sunday school. Think of your Sunday school every day of the week and have in mind to bring a new scholar next Sunday.

Friday evening the lecture course for the adult confirmation class will begin. Any one who desires to become a member of our church is invited to attend these lectures. There will be no memorization required. The course will consist of five lectures on the fundamental teachings and requirements of the Christian church. Each lecture will be followed by an open discussion of questions and problems that might arise. It is hoped that many will avail themselves of this opportunity.

Bungalow Church Rev. R. M. Williams, pastor. Sunday school at 9:45. Morning worship at 11:00. Christian Endeavor at 7:00. Evening evangelistic service 8:00. The orchestra, adult choir, and junior choir will meet at their usual time for rehearsals at the church. It was a pleasure for the orchestra to welcome into their fellowship and services a new member who is saxophone player, now making the long hoped for saxophone quartet possible. The adult and junior choirs also extend a hearty welcome to the new members who have recently joined.

On Thursday evening the Christian Endeavor will hold its monthly meeting, business and social, in the church basement. A good time is looked for by those who have attended in the past. All committee chairmen are asked to bring a full report of their committee's work for the past month.

On Sunday, Feb. 21st, the pastor will speak at both morning and evening services. Come and enjoy the hearty song service, special musical numbers and message of the evening service.

Special. On Feb. 22, Washington's birthday, there will be a band concert at the Masonic temple from 11 to 12 a. m. under the auspices of the Bungalow church. Mr. Crittendon, an intimate friend of the pastor, who is in charge of the Park Kostner Boys' band, will be here with the 35 piece band and conduct the program, after which the ladies of the church will serve the boys with a luncheon. This is the annual holiday which the boys observe and they are scheduled to play at four such services Monday, Feb. 22.

The Men's Bible Class are planning a get to gether luncheon on the evening of Feb. 25, an interesting program. (Continued on page 8)

DEERFIELD MAN GETS ACQUITTAL IN COURT

John Evers, of Deerfield, who went on trial at Waukegan last week on charges of assault with a deadly weapon in the court of County Judge P. L. Persons, was found not guilty by the jury in the case. Evers was charged with driving his machine into an automobile operated by Magistrate Steffus, of Deerfield, some weeks ago. The magistrate sustained a fractured leg as a result of the crash, it was alleged.
