BANQUET FRIDAY NIGHT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Camp Fire Program and Ideals Will Be Presented in Play By Camp Fire Girls

The Mother and Daughter banquet of the Presbyterian church will be held in the parish house, Friday evening at six-thirty. Miss Bertha Faxon, younger girls' director of the central branch Y. W. C. A. of Chicago will be in charge of the singing. Fathers and sons will serve. Following the dinner, the Lewa Camp Fire organized about four months ago, will present a three act play depicting the spirit and ideals of Camp Fire. "Wohelo" is the Camp Fire greeting and watchword. Split into three parts, the word stands for work, health and love. What three better things could you want your child to have than these three, work, health, love? If she grows to womanhood knowing all those, trying to develop in understanding and practical demonstration of her three key words, she will run a high chance of being happy. And that's what we want our children to be—happy." The above is a quotation from an article by Kathleen Norris on Camp Fire. Camp Fire holds a message for mothers, as well as for girls. It brings romance to the everyday, humdrum things of life.

The cast for "Spruce Cone and Bunch Berry" is as follows:
Mrs. Shubal Pinkham... Josephine Hall
Phyllis Pinkham... Phyllis Dexter
Elvira Pinkham... Peggy Crawford
Martha Pinkham... Georgina Barnett
Mr. Shubal Pinkham... Barbara Balke
Esther Whitcomb... Margaret Crawford
Reservations must be in by Thursday evening. Phone H. P. 683.

MAJOR BRADLEY HAS THRILLING ESCAPE

Brother of Mrs. Fitt Falls in Airplane in Canal Zone, Is Uninjured

A dispatch to the Chicago Tribune from the Panama Canal zone under date of Feb. 28, reported that Major Bradley, commander of France field air station, in the zone, had a narrow escape when the plane in which he and an observer, Major Jones, were in, developed engine trouble and fell into Gatun Lake. Launches rescued the men, but the plane was a total loss, the dispatch said.

Major Bradley is a brother of Mrs. Frank Fitt of Highland Park and has frequently visited his sister here, having flown here in a plane on several occasions for that purpose, while stationed at flying fields in this country. His friends here rejoice to learn that he was not injured in the fall reported.

who was returning from Chicago, and ordered him to follow the Ford. The chase continued north to County Line road, where the sedan turned and the fatal shooting ended the pursuit.

Say Christopher Was Sober

Several witnesses who had seen Christopher in Highland Park shortly before 11 o'clock testified that they noticed no odor of liquor and did not think he had been drinking.

Edward J. Therrien saw Christopher at the Odd Fellows hall about 10:40, he said. John Dompke, 699 Deerfield avenue, store manager for the National Tea Co., saw Christopher in the Muzik pool hall between 11 and 11:10. He was alone and apparently sober. Albert Gastfield, Deerfield talked to him after lodge and met him again in the pool room. Witness could not smell liquor on him.

J. M. Ray, Northbrook chauffeur, was at a refreshment stand near the corner of Waukegan and County Line roads. He heard at least one gun shot and perhaps two, he was not sure of the second. An officer came and called up headquarters, reporting that a man had been shot. He accompanied the officer to the scene of the shooting, 150 to 200 feet down County Line road, where the two-door Ford sedan was facing east, with the wounded man in a crouched position leaning over to the right side of the car. One rear tire was blown and there was a hole in the rear glass of the sedan near the right side. Ray said there was no indication that the officers had been drinking nor did he notice any smell of liquor about the Christopher car. He helped put the injured man in the officer's sidecar.

R. C. Cameron, 125 North Green Bay road, lineman, testified that he examined the scene of the trouble the following day and found four cartridges. The car was gone.

Bring Him to Hospital
Bert Easton, Deerfield, had seen Christopher at the Odd Fellow's hall and believed he was sober. He was riding with Art Kiest near the Fish Inn later than night when the officers stopped them and asked them to take the wounded man to the Highland Park hospital. He did not recognize Christopher then. The man did not bleed much, he said. Helped lift the man into the car; smelled no liquor. He thought it was about 11:15 and they reached the hospital about 11:30.

William Giacomini, employed in the Koon garage, testified to having his car commandeered by the officers to chase the Ford sedan. The officer got on his running board, he said and jumped off at the County Line. Several shots were fired between Dundee and County Line road, he testified. The officer was firing at the wheels of the car ahead.

The inquest was held by Coroner John L. Taylor, and the jury was composed of Herman Goldberg, John Hart, Herbert Huber, Fred Botker, Charles Donner, Julius Zimmer.

Officer Held to Grand Jury
A verdict was returned to the effect that Christopher died from wound inflicted by a bullet fired by Arthur Kline, the deputy, and recommended that Kline be held to the Lake county grand jury. The man died in Lake county, but as there is some question regarding whether or not the fatal shot was fired in Cook or Lake county, it is not clear whether the case will come up in a Lake or Cook county court. Kline was on Tuesday released on bond to await action of the grand jury.

Funeral Wednesday

Mr. Christopher was about 35 years of age and had an excellent reputation in Highland Park, where he had lived for several years. His friends declare that he was sober, industrious and a good husband and father. His father lives in Kentucky; his mother is dead. Four brothers came from Kentucky to attend the funeral, which was held at two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, at the H. M. Prior company's chapel. Burial was in Oakwoods cemetery on Milwaukee avenue.

Wide Interest Shown

As a result of this tragedy there was considerable feeling in Highland Park following the affair, and the general comment expressed was that under the circumstances there was no excuse for the officers firing at a man, who by their own testimony, they knew was unarmed and had committed no other offense further than speeding on the highway. The interest in the case here was manifested by the large attendance at the inquest, where fully 150 persons assembled to hear the proceedings.

waukee railroad at Mundelein at a cost of $50,000 has been authorized by officials of the road. Construction will start at once and the station is to be ready to handle the crowds at the International Eucharistic congress next June.

Creation of a new business center for Mundelein is foreseen as a result of the location of the station. It will be nearly half a mile south of the present terminal, which is opposite the station of the Soo Line. The new station will be located in a two-acre park at McKinley and Prospect avenues. The property fronting the park is zoned for business.

Nineteen Indictments

Nineteen indictments out of nineteen cases were returned Tuesday by the Lake county grand jury, in session a day and a half, considering facts concerning criminal prosecution against 26 people. Instead of adjourning the jury it was excused to give States Attorney A. V. Smith an opportunity to present the Arthur Kline case later if he desired. Kline is charged with manslaughter in the death of Samuel Christopher.

Special June Term

A special June term in the Circuit court was ordered Monday by Judge Claire C. Edwards. There will be no jury trials during the special term, however, only chancery matters to be acted upon by the court. Because of the long period between the regular terms of court, from March to October, the court felt it would be best to handle as many cases as possible at a June term.

ALL-BROTHERS CAGE TEAMS TO CONTEST

Two basketball teams each composed of brothers, and all residents of Lake Forest, will play for the All-Brothers championship in the high school gymnasium on Tuesday evening, March 3. Proceeds of the game will be divided between the Lake Forest Young Men's club and the Lake Forest Municipal Golf course.

As a curtain raiser to the main event, the Lake Forest girls' team will play the Tri-Chis from the Fourth Presbyterian church of Chicago, a team which is a match for the Lake Forest girls' ability. The Tri-Chis Trunk Brownies are accounted the best in Chicago.

NEW BUILDING TO REPLACE LANDMARK

street, where it is still standing and in use as a dwelling.

Former Owners

Mr. Hammond built the new house and later added a wing at the rear. He lived there until his death, and after him his widow. Then the property passed to their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Warren, and Mr. Warren sold the house to the Y. W. C. A., which occupied it as headquarters for about seven years, selling to Mr. McKillop a few months ago.

The erection of a handsome new business and apartment block on this corner marks another step in the development of the west side and indicates continued demand for west side property in the business district, with fine prospects for further development and increased values in real estate in this section.

It is a far cry from the old log house which stood on this site some sixty years ago, one of the few houses in a pioneer settlement, to the present rapid growth of a beautiful suburban city, with every modern facility.

Death at Highwood

Rudolph Z. Swanson, a meat cutter, residing in Highwood, swallowed a quantity of strychnine late Thursday night of last week, while in a despondent state, and died in a few minutes, according to testimony at a coroner's inquest held later at the H. M. Prior company's office. A verdict was returned to the effect that death was in the manner described.

Mr. Swanson was aged 44 years, six months and nine days. His rash act is believed to have been due to despondency and was a shock to his friends and neighbors who expressed high regard for him as a good neighbor and a citizen of integrity and good reputation. His wife and two sons, Warren and Burton, have the deep sympathy of all.

The funeral was held at the H. M. Prior company's chapel on Monday afternoon and burial was at Memorial Park.
