PICTURES IN HOME ADD DISTINCTION

Add Color and Beauty to Walls Otherwise Bare and Without Adornment

However simple and smart are the fashions of today, they all adhere firmly to this rule of good taste: Be severe as you please about the main part of a costume, but spend much time and thought on having beautiful accessories to go with it!

Just as every woman plans her wardrobe and takes thought for her personal appearance, so must she plan her home and its furnishings, if she would make it the cheerful and comfortable background for a contented family. And it is so easy to have a home of which any one would be proud, too! Just follow the simple rules of dress—simplicity for the main details, and beauty in the accessories that go with them.

A beautiful picture in a beautiful frame is the jewel which makes an ordinary room distinctive!

Luxurious chairs, expensive rugs, elaborate lighting—all these will go for little if the walls of your home are barren and dull. The life and color added to a room by a few well-chosen and correctly framed pictures are the secret which adds the transforming note. Let the wallpaper or tinting be of a soft neutral shade, to be a good background for pictures.

"When people realize that their standards and taste are judged, not so much by the showy parts of their life as by the unobtrusive but necessary details, they will have found the key to perfect recreation."

Pictures have the same effect upon a room that a gay handkerchief, a bit of perfume, or a smart jewel has upon a woman's costume. Without them, the ensemble is not complete—not satisfactory. With them, unnoticed beauty is brought out from where it was hiding.

Take this advice today—there is some space in your home that needs a bit of furnishing. Go to a picture store and find just the right framed picture to adorn your walls.

ED PURDY'S PHILOS

"Eph Landsown down in his grove the other day said he saw by the papers that some city picnickers had been there."

Clara: "Did you get that new coat you were raving over last week?"

Ruth: "Oh, yes, I got it the next day."

Clara: "And what did your father say?"

Ruth: "Oh, he raved too."

Particular

Tenor (prevailed upon to sing a song): "Will you accompany me?"
Giggly She: "Delighted, I'm sure—if you'll find a chaperon."
