FORMER AMBASSADOR TO ADDRESS ROTARY

RICHARD WASHBURN CHILD

Noted Author To Be Speaker at District Meeting, Evanston;
Editor Nation's Business Also

Richard Washburn Child, former United States ambassador to Italy, and Merle Thorpe, editor of The Nation's Business, are booked as headline speakers for the northern Illinois conference of Rotary International to be held at the Evanston Country club, April 19 and 20.

"Early registration points to an attendance of 2,000 Rotarians and their wives," declares Earl C. Iredale, 1723 Benson avenue, Evanston, secretary of the local club. "If the weather clears, the majority of them will probably come by car."

The annual Governor's Ball, in honor of District Governor Harry Kelly, of Ottawa, will be held in the grand ballroom of the Edgewater Beach hotel, Chicago, the first night of the conference.

To Entertain Ladies
While Rotarians are occupied in business sessions, a bowling tournament that is now being arranged, or otherwise engrossed, their wives will be entertained by the Evanston Ladies' auxiliary. Auto drives along the north shore, luncheons, and a matinee party are being planned.

"The Practical Way to World Peace" is the title of Mr. Child's address, and because of his prominence in world politics, will undoubtedly prove the greatest drawing card of the conference. He will be introduced by President Walter Dill Scott, of Northwestern university.

Mr. Thorpe's address will be "Let Washington Do It." Former college professor, business man and editor, Mr. Thorpe has won a wide reputation as a student of American business problems.

Other speakers on the program include Paul P. Harris, founder and president emeritus of Rotary International; Major Will R. Marler, Jr., of Nashville and Bishop James Wise, of Topeka, Kansas.

VETS APPRECIATE WARTIME INSURANCE

Ex-Service Men Should See That Theirs Is Reinstated, If
Has Been Lapsed

From the number of conversions of war time insurance that are coming into the Veterans' Bureau daily, it is evident that the ex-service men are keenly alive to the advantages of this class of insurance. The proposition of life insurance has been approved in principle by the best minds of every civilized country in the world, but it remained for America to develop a particular kind of policy which could maintain its war-time economical features and still be adaptable to peace time conditions.

Policies of this character, six in number have been prepared by the actuaries of the Veterans' Bureau keeping true to all that is traditionally best in the theory of life insurance, but keeping always in mind the need for making such policies as economical a "buy" as possible for the benefit of the veterans for whom they are issued.

Under the liberal legislation governing the reinstatement and conversion of the original "war time" insurance, thousands of veterans who had given up their insurance as lost to them forever on account of lapsation, are now getting in "under the wire" before the last call, July 2, 1926, and the Insurance Division of the Bureau reports 11,547 applications for conversion alone, received during January and February. Of these applications, 9,632 have already been approved.

Every ex-service man of this neighborhood should get in touch with the officers of the American Legion posts at once and they will gladly assist him in the preparation of the forms for reinstatement and conversion of his war risk insurance.

WOMAN'S AUXILIARY OF N. S. MOTOR CLUB

First Meeting of New Organization Last Week; Purpose
Is Outlined

The Woman's Auxiliary of the North Shore Motor club, 5600 Sheridan road, Chicago, held its first meeting on the afternoon of April 7, at the Rainbow Garden Radio room. After a short business meeting, cards were played.

The aim of the North Shore Motor club is to remove obstacles, petty and major, that confront the motorist, in order to make driving enjoyable. Many bills have been presented in the legislature by inventors and others who have sought authority to compel motorists to affix to their cars certain accessories, such as governors, stop lights, fenders, etc. It is estimated that in one year the cost to each motorist for such appliances would have been approximately $250 had all the measures been passed. Through the work of motor clubs throughout the state, all of the measures were defeated.

The Woman's auxiliary will work in co-operation with the North Shore Motor club, and is looking forward to the club house now being planned. Mrs. George Pretzel, of Skokie Heights, Glencoe, is president of the Auxiliary.

HELD TO GRAND JURY ON FORGERY CHARGE

Gino Bellei, of Highwood, who was arrested about two weeks ago by the sheriff, Edwin Ahlstrom, on a charge of forgery, was bound over to the grand jury on bonds of $1,000 last Thursday morning by Justice of the Peace Harvey C. Coulson, in Waukegan.

Bellei was arrested on a complaint filed by George H. Koon, of the Koon Motor Sales company, in Highland Park. Bellei was behind in his payments and a judgment was obtained against him in the Circuit court. On the stand Mrs. Bellei denied having signed the note.
