Friday Night Blaze Ruins Part of Aged Structure Which Is Unoccupied

The old Sheridan Inn at Lake Bluff, one of the oldest landmarks along the route between Chicago and Waukegan and at one time the playground for the aristocracy of wealth along the North Shore, was hit by fire again last Friday night, but the Lake Bluff fire department was able to save the greater part of the ancient structure.

Calling on all available volunteers, the firemen battled for over an hour before the flames were subdued and the remainder of the building remaining standing. Firemen estimated the damage at about $1,000 despite the fact that the place has been unoccupied for several years.

BRIEF NEWS ITEMS FROM LAKE COUNTY

NEIGHBORHOOD JOTTINGS

Interesting Happenings About This Part of North Shore and Vicinity; County Seat Doings

The first electric car of the Chicago North Shore and Milwaukee railroad rolled into the yards of the new terminal in the rear of the postoffice building in Waukegan last Friday.

One Waukegan voter didn't have much trouble picking his candidates in the primary election. His own name begins with "S" and so he felt loyal and adopted the slogan: "I'll vote for the ones whose name begins with 'S.'" Accordingly, he said he voted for: Smith, Stratton, Sindlinger, Stewart and Stahl.

Fire believed to have been started by tramps, last week, damaged the old Strong residence, one of the oldest landmarks in Waukegan and threatened for a time to destroy the ancient structure.

Fire did $8,000 worth of damage to the boys' camp building at the Bowen Country club near Waukegan last week. The fire department was absolutely powerless to save the building or the contents because of the high winds, the lack of water, and the fact that the fire was too well started.

The new members of the board of the Waukegan and North Chicago Chamber of Commerce as selected by ballot by the membership are: M. L. Baade, Philip Brand, C. O. Brown, J. G. Hart, Minard E. Hulse, Dr. L. B. Jolley, Harvey W. Miltmore, Charles N. Steele and D. S. Thomson. The holdover members are: G. L. Brewster, A. E. Judd, T. J. Killian, C. E. Staley, A. G. Taylor and Garrett Wilson.

April 13 will be a day long remembered by 52 crippled children of Waukegan and North Chicago who were guests of the Waukegan Kiwanis club in a trip to Sells Floto circus in Chicago.

The Illinois Commerce commission at Springfield, last week, passed an order authorizing North Shore Gas company to establish, effective March 31, 1926, optional rates as stated in the company's schedule for industrial gas service in Waukegan, Lake Forest and Highwood.

Women of the North Shore branches of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs are busily engaged with their springtime plans for the convention to be held May 18-21, at the Edgewater Beach hotel. Other musical numbers will be added as the program matures.

MANY WOMEN ATTEND CLASSES ON MEATS

Women in a number of cities have taken seriously charges by the government that housewives know very little about meat buying and cooking. Large groups are going to meat schools to brush up on the finer points of this art, according to the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

These schools are being conducted by the national board with the U. S. Department of Agriculture co-operating. Thus far they have been held in Cleveland and Columbus, O., and Syracuse, N. Y., and Pittsburgh, Pa. Other cities are to be announced later. Women's clubs and parent-teacher associations are co-operating to make the school a success. Authorities on the subject from the board and the department are present in each city to give instruction.

A bill has been introduced in the Senate which would authorize the President to sell coal and gasoline in time of emergency. So you may live to see the day when there will be a couple of filling stations on the White House lawn.

GLENCOE PLANNING NEW VILLAGE HALL

BOARD CONSIDERS PROJECT

Tentative Plan Would Provide Adequately for All Departments; Further Report To Be Made

The need of a new and larger Village hall in Glencoe was given first public consideration by the village board, at its meeting last week, and, if the preliminary steps taken at that time materialize, Glencoe will soon have a building of which all the village will be justly proud.

The tentative plan would adequately provide for the needs of the various village departments, the Public Library, a theatre and also a number of store rooms.

H. W. Butler, building commissioner, submitted this outline to the board for its consideration, which will be further considered by a committee appointed by President Walter, comprising H. W. Butler, chairman, Otto R. Barnett, representing the Library board and trustees Miller and Sager and village manager, H. H. Sherer and assistant manager Williams, representing the village, who will report at a further meeting of the board.

The present Village hall was erected in 1894. It is far too small now for the present needs and the recent annexation of territory and the future growth of the village coming rapidly, plans for a number of years in the future are included in the outline submitted by Commissioner Butler.

ARTISTS FIND GOOD FIELD IN INDIANA

A number of Chicago artists have been finding good painting ground down in Brown county, Indiana, for the past twenty years. The country is hilly, wild, and more or less unsettled. It is untraversed by railroads and there are few good wagon roads penetrating the picturesque hills. The country is too broken for farming, hence it has been left in its wild state all these years. Charles W. Dahlgreen, Adolf and Ada Schultz, Lucie Hartrath, T. C. Steele and other Chicago artists who are regular exhibitors at the Art Institute, have found inspiration for their brushes in Brown county for many years past. Now comes information that the state of Indiana has purchased six thousand acres of this picturesque land and will hold it for recreation and park purposes. The consideration is said to have been $10.50 per acre.

WARNS OF DANGERS OF HOME MECHANICS

Surgeon General Hugh S. Cummings, of the Public Health Service, who is one of the men in Washington who can be credited with knowing what he is talking about, has issued a warning designed especially for the home garage automobile tinkers. Motors, he said, should not be run longer than thirty seconds in a garage even though the door or window may be open unless the exhaust is directly connected with the outside air. Starting the engine and getting in under and peering into its entrails, the surgeon says, is virtually inviting suicide. The increasing habit also of using motor fuels for cleaning purposes involves an element of danger to the human system.
