

H. P. ELKS DEFEAT EVANSTON GIANTS

FIRST GAME OF SEASON

Score Is Two to One in Close Contest with Big Crowd; Mason Park Team Next Sunday

Before a large opening day crowd, the H. P. Elks beat Evanston Giants 2 to 1 in a fast ball game. Hepler pitched a steady game striking out 9 men and not walking a man.

The Elks infield fielded perfectly and gave Hepler good support. The only weakness of the Elks is their batting and that will improve that with their coming games.

Evanston scored the first run when Ore, first man up in the first inning, hit a high fly that went over the fence for a home run. After this lucky hit they never had a chance to score during the rest of the game.

The Elks tied the score in their half of the first, after two down McCormick walked and stole second. He came in on an error of the right fielder who misjudged Stallmans easy fly.

The Elks could do nothing with Padrone, the star Evanston pitcher. In the seventh however, Smith tripled and scored when the third baseman bungled Rudolph hit.

The brand of ball that the Elks played Sunday stamps them as a strong team and should be able to trim any of the semi pro teams that come out here.

The lineup is as follows:

HERE'S ONE WAY TO PAY NATIONAL DEBT

If any of the American States or the American Government attempts to follow the Australian practice of fining non-voters for failure to participate in governmental functions, there would be no worry about the payment of the national debt. After reviewing the figures of the voting electorate in the several States, it would seem as if enough revenue could be secured from the eligible non-voters to meet all public demands. In the Southern States this would be particularly effective. In Texas for example, out of a potential electorate of two and one-half million people only 657,000 votes were cast. In Georgia, only an adult out of every twenty voted. Alabama in 1924 voted 30,000 less than in 1896. New York polls a higher vote than all the States of the Solid South with Oklahoma, Kentucky, Missouri and one or two Western States thrown in.

POULTRY EXHIBIT FEATURE OF SHOW

The largest poultry show ever held in the United States will be a feature of the Sesqui-Centennial International Exposition, which will be open in Philadelphia from June 1 to December 1.

There will be 6000 chickens and 3000 pigeons entered from all parts of the United States. The exhibition will be under the auspices of the American Poultry association and will be managed by D. Lincoln Orr.

KURENKO TO SING ON NEW TRIER PROGRAM

Mario Kurenko, the Russian soprano, will sing next year at New Trier auditorium in one of the artist-recitals, sponsored by the Winnetka Music club. The north shore is indeed fortunate in having an opportunity to hear so great an artist. Though it is less than a year since Madame Kurenko made her American debut she has already established herself firmly in favor. She is spoken of as the "Russian Nightingale." Only last week she sang in Washington in place of Lucrezia Bori, who was forced by engagements at the Metropolitan Opera House to cancel her appearance there. She proved a delight to all who heard her.

CECELIA HANSEN WILL ADORN RECITAL SERIES

Classmate of Jascha Heifetz to Appear as Recital Artist Next Season

Cecilia Hansen is another world-famous musician who will be brought to Winnetka by the Winnetka Music club in its Artists-Recital series of 1926-27.

Not since Jascha Heifetz made his famous debut in 1917 has a violinist made so sensational a debut as did this gifted young woman, who, in 1922, astonished the New York critics.

Miss Hansen was born in a Cossack settlement, and heard her first music from military bands. While a native of Russia, her grandfather was a Dane, and it is from the Hansen family that she inherits her Norse name and her Scandinavian type of beauty. Russia, however, is this violinist's native land, and Russian is her native tongue. She began playing the violin at an early age. Her first teacher was Zukovsky, now a member of the Chicago Symphony orchestra. She continued her studies with Prof. Leopold Auer, winning at the age of 16 first prize at the Petrograd Conservatory in 1914, where she was a classmate of Jascha Heifetz and Toscha Seidel. The war interrupted her plans, but after many hardships and vicissitudes she made a dramatic escape from Russia through the fog of the Baltic sea in a flimsy rowboat. In Finland, then, she made a triumphal debut, blazed a trail of brilliant recitals through Germany, Austria, Czechoslovakia, and Scandinavia, and now she has won the acclaim of the American critics by her remarkable series of appearances in the United States.

Plays "Like a Man"

While Miss Hansen possesses great beauty, charm, and a magnetic personality, yet of her the critics say: "She plays like a man." It is upon this basis she is judged. Her tone is individual, and of tremendous power and purity. Technically, she is an acknowledged master of her instrument—a famous Stradivarius once owned by Wilhelmj. Miss Hansen is one of the world's great violinists. It is as a worthy colleague of Heifetz and the rest that she deserves to be heard. Her appearance in the north shore will be a notable event.

It is significant that in her first season in America she was engaged for appearance with the Chicago, Boston, St. Louis, Detroit, New York Philharmonic, State Symphony and Metropolitan Opera House orchestras, and that the Chicago Symphony, the first orchestra with which she played in this country, re-engaged her for another pair of concerts within the same season—of itself a rare tribute.

10TH DISTRICT MEETING OF I. F. W. C. MAY 12

The Tenth District, I. F. W. C., will hold a Board Meeting at the North End club, 6200 Sheridan Rd., at 10:00 a. m., Wednesday, May 12.

At the Annual Meeting of this district, the following officers were elected:

Second Vice-President: Mrs. Wm. W. Lill, Ravenswood Woman's club; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Jervis O. Newton, Rogers Park Woman's club; Treasurer, Mrs. Henry W. Price, Woman's Club of Evanston.

"A Jersey City man found such fault with the household expenses that at last his wife said: "The only other retrenchment I can see is to get rid of the cook. Do you think we could get along without a cook John?"

"Yes, I think we could", John answered gloomily. He mused a moment, frowning. Then he said: "Yes, if the worst comes to the worst, you can do the cooking and I can get my meals at a restaurant."—Pittsburgh Chronicle.
