

LEGION AUXILIARY NOTES OF INTEREST

Dedication of Hospital at Great Lakes Saturday, May 15; Meeting at Lake Forest

The American Legion Auxiliary spent a very pleasant day last Friday at the home of Mrs. Henry E. Mason, making curtains and pillows for the room they are furnishing at the United States Veterans' Hospital at Great Lakes.

There will be no regular meeting of the unit next week, but the members are all asked to come on Friday, May 7, at two o'clock p. m., to the home of Mrs. Henry E. Mason on Central avenue to finish the work on the dedication of the hospital which is celebrated on Saturday, May 15. The unit has purchased fiber reed furniture for this room and Dumaresq Spencer Post has helped bear the expense.

On Wednesday, May 19, the Legion Auxiliaries of the Eighth District will have a meeting at Lake Forest headquarters with the Lake Forest unit as hostesses. Mrs. C. M. Dargan, department president for Illinois, will be present.

Dumaresq Spencer Post conducted the initiation and installation of a post and auxiliary unit at Deerfield last Thursday night.

Members of the auxiliary are urged to remember dates mentioned above as all members ought to be and are expected to attend.

WALTER LICHTENSTEIN TO GIVE TALK TO CLUB

Sunday Evening Club to Hear Two Good Speakers at Next Two Meetings

Mr. Walter Lichtenstein of Highland Park will talk before the Sunday Evening club, May 9, on Economic Conditions in Europe. All interested in this subject are invited to hear Mr. Lichtenstein who is exceptionally well informed on the European situation. Recent developments in Great Britain call our attention once more to the critical economic and social problem facing that country. Mrs. Robert Seyfarth will act as chairman for the meeting, which will be held in the parish house of the Presbyterian church at 7:30.

The Sunday Evening club is pleased to announce to the citizens of Highland Park a lecture by S. Dumean Clark to be given at the Woman's club on the evening of the 16.

F. W. CUSHING HOME FROM LONG CRUISE

View Great Falls The party also visited Bulawayo, named for the kral of the great chieftain of the native forces, Lohengula, who was led to make peace with the British through the efforts of Cecil Rhodes. From there they went to famous Victoria falls on the Zambesi river, 1700 miles north from Capetown, and one of the scenic wonders of the world, where the Zambesi, a mile and a quarter wide, tumbles down a gorge 400 feet deep, among surrounding scenery of rugged grandeur. Here is situated a good hotel operated by the Cape-to-Cairo railroad and though the hotel is financially a losing proposition, it is maintained because of the effect it has in attracting visitors to the falls and consequently to patronize the road. They also visited Rhodes' tomb on the crest of the Matoppa hills, 40 miles by motor from Bulawayo.

From the great falls the party went on to Johannesburg, in the Transvaal and from there to Pretoria, former capital of that state in the days when President Krueger defied the British arms, and also the scene of the famous trial of participants in the Jameson raid, one of whom was John Hays Hammond, noted American engineer and financier, who recently celebrated his 71st birthday. Hammond and the others were at first condemned to death, but later the sentences were lightened, and the men were finally released.

Pretoria is noted for its broad thoroughfares, as a result of President Krueger's desire to have them wide enough in his day so that a team could turn in them. As a team in that country in Oom Paul's day consisted of from five to ten yoke of oxen, the streets in many instances are 200 feet in width.

Pleasant Trip This trip from Capetown until the steamer picked up the party at Lourenzo Marques, Portuguese East Africa, was made very comfortable by the courtesy of the South African Railroad Co., which operates the great railway which extends from north to south of Africa. The company placed two first-class special trains at the disposal of the party, provided with every possible comfort, even including a shower bath in each car.

The trip, Mr. Cushing says, was an extremely pleasant one, with the exception of some very hot weather while in both South America and South Africa, and until after crossing the Mediterranean to Naples.

The tour was so great a success, Mr. Cushing says, that he understands that it is planned to provide two steamships to cover the same route next winter.

WELL KNOWN SINGERS APPEAR IN "MIKADO" auditorium. This school stands alone now in having no suitable audience room attached and it sorely needs one.

With Japanese scenery, Fujiyama in the background, kimono costumes, mirthful burst of prelude and flash of fans, the older ones will be swept back forty years to the days when "The Mikado" took the western world by storm. Sullivan's charming, catchy choruses and Gilbert's great and pithy lines re-echo from the eighties, filling one with enthusiasm for those fine old collaborators, both of the British peerage, and challenge the present day playwrights to produce light opera with as graceful satire and as true literary flavor.

At the hilarious performances in Ravinia, there were some present from the more northerly part of Highland Park, who generously urged the cast to repeat its efforts on a more centrally located stage for the double purpose of spreading the pleasure again for a larger audience and of increasing the box office receipts which go entirely to the auditorium fund. Tickets may be purchased at the door Friday evening, or at Gsells.

The director, Mrs. William Mast, is sanctioning a number of innovations. It is announced that the "Kioto" said to be a current Japanese afterglow, if not intensification, of the Charleston, is to be featured as an entr'acte. It is whispered, furthermore, that certain delectable affectations of the professional Follies maidens are to be discovered in the chorus ladies of Japan.

The cast is as follows: The Mikado.....Lucien M. Brouillette

Nanki-Poo, his son.....Kenneth Bennett Pooh-Bah.....Harry E. Barackman Ko-Ko.....J. Easton Pish-Tush.....William Kuh Yum-Yum.....Maud Brouillette Pitti-Sing.....Mildred B. Keller, Henry Bacon, Perry Ronan, George Davis, Lois Larson, Catherine Mueller, Mrs. W. A. Alexander, Mrs. Helen Coale Staggs, Mrs. J. B. Garnett, Mrs. L. R. Rigdon, Mrs. E. R. Bann, Mrs. D. L. Barrett, Mrs. G. J. Hinn, Marie Horn and Patricia Hoffman and Olga Trevisan.

FITZGIBBONS HEADS N. S. BUICK COMPANY

"As a matter of policy and good, sound business practice, we like to feel that our transaction with a Buick owner is not complete until his car has delivered the last mile he requires of it, and above all at a cost that is within reason. That is what we mean by 'service'."

Evanston Headquarters The Evanston sales rooms of the North Shore Buick Co., located at 1030 Davis street, are in charge of Mr. James as retail sales manager. He also supervises the service station at 1532 Maple avenue.

A new building for sales and service has just recently been completed in Highland Park. It constitutes one of the most pretentious units of the new "motor row" facing the Northwestern tracks. This department of the business will be in charge of Mr. Houser as resident manager.

"We have made every effort to set up both sales and service facilities which are in keeping with the Buick Motor Company's plans for expansion during the coming year", Mr. Fitzgibbons stated in announcing the new corporation personnel.

Adequate Service "Every member and employe of our firm is convinced of the importance of adequate service to the automobile owner. To this end, we have set up the finest mechanical departments that money can provide.

"In reality there are two manufacturers of an automobile. In addition to the firm that builds the mechanism itself, there must be another factory equipped and willing to see that the car delivers to the owner the mileage that is built into it. That is the dealer's service station.
