dance was held, which was much enjoyed by those participating.

The address of Mayor Hastings was as follows:

"The vision of the management of this great North Shore Electric Line is an example of courageous faith in the future of the electric railway business. When the present management took hold of this system it was at a very low state of efficiency. Their earnestness and devotion to their business has developed one of the best and one of the most popular means of electric transportation in the country, and with this development has been cultivated a service to the public that has created an astonishing amount of good will for this organization. Their courage in the future is exemplified in that high speed line that they are building west of where we are now standing. It took vision to figure out the needs of this growing district, and Highland Park is fortunate in having within its boundaries this line through the heart of our city, and an additional line for very rapid traveling on the western boundaries of our city.

"We congratulate the company on the efficiency of its management, and we congratulate Highland Park in being within the district that this company will serve. Step by step improvement demonstrated the sincerity back of the management's point of view. As these improvements were put into effect, signs of good will permeated the community.

"Financial problems are among the great needs that a road like this has to confront; then comes service, and that is the keynote of the management, and employees of this electric line. Out of this service, first has developed confidence, enthusiasm and co-operation which make all other accomplishments possible.

"We congratulate Ravinia on the persistence of its efforts in securing one of the neatest, nicest, most picturesque electric railroad stations on the North Shore. It is a credit to Ravinia and a credit to the company.

"The confidence established between the public and the company is due to the fact that the company is as rapidly as possible carrying out the provisions of its franchises, which means better service and more good will.

"Uniform courtesy on the part of the trainmen and the motormen, to its patrons, is one of the outstanding features of the service rendered by the Chicago North Shore Electric Railroad company, and it is the reason for a very large part of the many words of praise that we are constantly hearing from the patrons of the road. Keep up this good work, you railroadmen, and Highland Park citizens will never regret their generosity in granting franchises that you have for this road as well as for the one that will be voted on tomorrow for your western line."

THANK OFFERING TO BE GIVEN WHITSUNDAY

Trinity Church to Celebrate Annual Event; Special Service May 27

At this time of year throughout the world women connected with the Episcopal church are gathering at services held in great cathedrals or in little cross road churches to offer their individual gifts of thanksgiving for the many mercies of the past year.

Recent converts among the women of China, Indian women of the plains, Negro women of the south and social leaders in great metropolitan centers, all make their way at the appointed time to the church of their devotion and at this service offer their gifts in testimony of the loyalty they bear to their common Master and His program for the world, as an indication of their thankfulness for what He has meant to them, or in return for some special act of mercy or kindness for which their hearts are grateful.

Collected annually these sums of money are forwarded to the appointed Diocesan treasurer and every three years are presented at the time of the general convention in a great service of devotion which is the high point of all those great meetings. Last year at New Orleans the gifts totalled almost one million dollars and this sum is being used as given by women for the support of women who labor for the benefit of women.

This great and consecrated endeavor throughout the Episcopal church at large, finds local expression in the service to be held at Trinity Episcopal church on Whitsunday, May 23 at 7:30 a. m., when the women of the parish gather in a Corporate Communion service for the presentation of their gifts and the rededication of their efforts to the spread of Christ's kingdom.

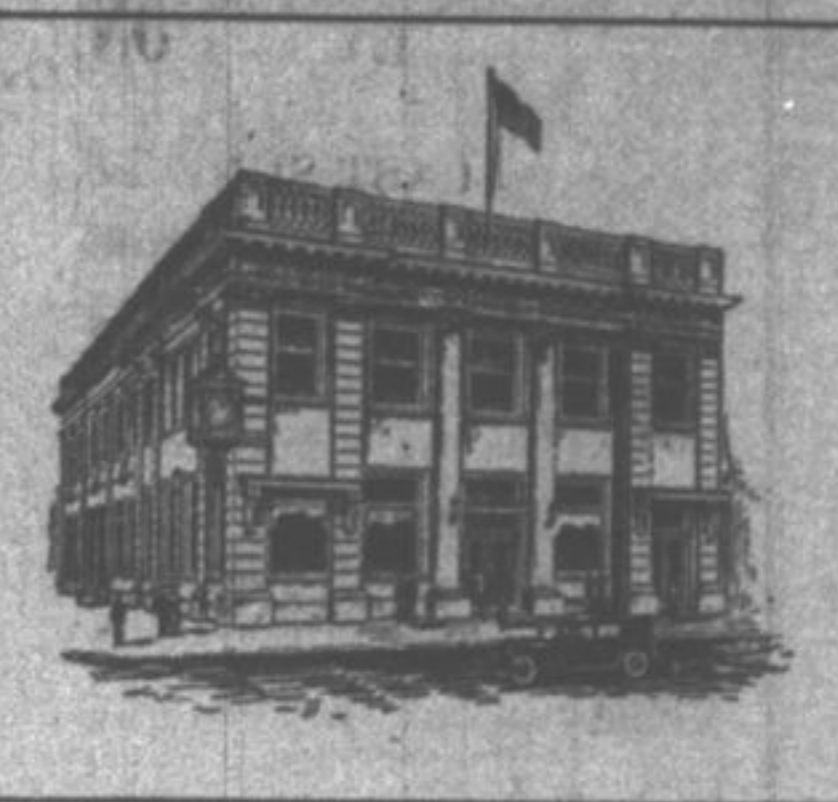

On Thursday, May 27, at St. Luke's church, Evanston, the gifts thus collected in the individual parishes throughout the diocese will be presented at a special service at which the Rev. G. C. Stewart, D.D., will be the preacher.

PICTURE EXHIBIT IN RAVINIA IS ENJOYED

Last Event of the Ravinia Civic Club for Year Held Saturday and Sunday

The exhibition of paintings, handiwork and heirlooms which was arranged by Mrs. Peyraud, chairman, and Mrs. Miles of the arts committee of the Ravinia Civic club, and held in the corridors of the new addition of the Ravinia school last Saturday and Sunday was a great success.

The display was the final event of the year's work of the committee, which has endeavored to present to the public the creative production of the artists of the community in their various lines. In the autumn, literature and drama was expressed in the three plays given which were written, produced, staged and directed by local talent.

In early March music was presented through the fine concert by the great cellist Hans Hess, assisted by the charming and talented Miss Freward, who to be sure is not a local singer, but will link up with our community by singing here in Ravinia Opera this summer.

This last effort of the committee gave a showing to the graphic arts, painting and handiwork created in our neighborhood, also the beautiful work of the past which has been the inheritance of many of us.

The paintings were from the studios of Ravinia and Highland Park artists, and would have done credit to any art community. It was a non-jury show with choice pictures by our professionals and some very creditable sketches by our amateurs.

The handicraft was of divers sorts. Some beautiful table cloths had been made by Mrs. Glace and Mrs. Martin and a lovely Swiss one loaned by Mrs. Watson, modern quilts, bookend rugs, smocked childrens dresses and embroideries by Mesdames Brouillette, Jerome, Grinnell and others, Mr. Searles with a finely designed and wrought lamp and lantern.

Miss Wood of the high school and her pupils contributed very interesting work in modeling and gesso.

Miss Stovward exhibited charming specimens of modern china decorating, also block printing on linen and batik.

Some of the little girls sent exhibitions of their work in modeling and picture making.

There was a beautiful modern tapestry of modern needle point by Mrs. Hirsch.

An entire corridor was hung with handsome old woven counterpanes and quilts which have been inherited by our lucky members, Mesdames Bigelow, Miles, Horn, Peyraud, Reiser, Terns and Warmington.

On these walls were also hung two large and handsome old portraits of ancestors of Miss Coolidge. Their old fashioned oval frames making a charming relief to the rectangular lines of the coverlets and quilts.

In the room with the modern paintings were hung some fine shawls, scarves, bell-pulls and tapes, loaned by Mesdames Rosenwald, Stern, Hoffman, Horn, Reiser and Miss Mason Anderson.

In the show cases were rare and lovely laces, jewels, fans, books, etc., from Mrs. Hoffman's remarkable collection, with many exquisite additions by Mesdames Buck, Coolidge, Jerrens, Greenberg, Browning, Wrenn and Milligan.

A table with a rare old pewter communion set from the Sam Hoffman collection, lustreware by Miss Bigelow, vases and candle sticks by Mrs. Armstrong, old statues by Mrs. Hess, lamps by Mrs. Jerrens, all added to the beauty of the room.

The Misses Anderson loaned an interesting group of fine old Norwegian heirlooms and some of their own needlework.

Two walls of samplers of the quaint workmanship of the tired little girls of long ago were contributed by Mesdames Reiser, Jerrens, Horn and the Misses Anderson and Jewett.

Miss Twohig loaned a fine example of colonial pressed glass. Altogether it was an exhibition of which our community might well be proud.

The new corridor forms a very charming background for exhibitions and should frequently be used in that way.

The reception of Sunday afternoon was well attended by an appreciative crowd. Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Hirsch of the social committee served a delicious and refreshing fruit punch.

SECURE BIG GERMAN GUN FOR CITY PARK

It shows considerable use, being in the condition in which it was captured, with camouflage painting still visible, though dimmed with age and weather exposure.

The big gun is a notable addition to Highland Park's patriotic collection and is one of the biggest of the guns captured from the Germans which have been made available by the government for placement in city and town parks and memorial places.

How Obtained

That Highland Park was able to secure this trophy of American valor in the world war is largely to the efforts of Mayor Samuel M. Hastings and the city administration generally and the local post of the American Legion. It is doubtful if the gun would have been secured however, without the co-operation of Congressman Chindblom of this district and Congressman-at-large Rathbone, both of whom, when requested by Mayor Hastings, exerted their influence to assure the issuance of a gun to the City of Highland Park by the War Department authorities, under the act of congress making such war trophies available for memorial purposes.

It was necessary also to obtain the support of the military authorities of the State of Illinois in guaranteeing shipment expenses, etc., and the Adjutant General Black of this state thus aided materially in helping this city to obtain the howitzer by aiding in clearing away red tape entanglements.

This huge gun, which is pictured on the first page of this newspaper, is one of the largest which has been allotted to any city the size of Highland Park. When placed in permanent location and properly mounted and decorated it will become a patriotic symbol to coming generations as evidence of the gallant service of American troops in contributing the final punch which won the world war.

About the only result of the senate Volstead investigation was to leave the drier drier and the wets wetter than they were before.
