Ticket-taker at Highland Park Theatre: Funeral Held Tuesday Afternoon

Police of Highland Park were called to the office of the Highland Park theatre at 6:40 Saturday evening after Julius Peterson, 57, of Deerfield and Ridge roads, for a couple of years ticket-taker and attendant there, had dropped over, apparently dead from a sudden stroke.

The police upon their arrival found Mr. Peterson alive but evidently dying, and called Dr. Ingalls, who could not reach the theatre until Mr. Peterson had died. The body was moved to the Prior Undertaking parlors.

Dr. Ingalls, who had attended the deceased a number of weeks prior tohis death, attributed his demise to mild carditis with chronic nephritis.
