The marriage of Miss Constance Hannah to Samuel Ross took place Thursday evening, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hannah, 256 Woodstock place, Kenilworth. Arches of smilax framed the doorway, and large bouquets of pink peonies, pink roses, gladioli, snap dragons and larkspur provided a summery touch of blending color. The ceremony was performed by Mgr. Kelley on the west porch, which was transformed into a bower of foliage and pink flowers.

The bride's attendants, Miss Elizabeth Hannah, the maid of honor, and Miss Mary Hannah and Miss Emilie Ross, the bridesmaids, were dressed in pink taffeta of varying shades, embroidered with clusters of flowers in the front of the tight bodice and on each side of the long, full skirt.

The bride was charming in her gown of white satin made in colonial style. White tulle formed her veil and train.

Mrs. Don Berwert, organist at the Church of the Holy Comforter, played the piano and Mrs. Murdock was the violinist. The bride and groom are spending their honeymoon in Asheville, N. C.

The marriage of Miss Priscilla Lloyd and Paul W. Chapin was celebrated in the Wilmette Congregational church Tuesday, June 29, at 4:30 in the afternoon.

Miss Marian Hadley of Coldwater, Mich., another classmate, sang. Owing to the fact that the bride's sister, Miss Dorothy, is in China, there was no maid of honor.

Lloyd White of New Haven, Conn., acted as Mr. Chapin's best man, and Harold Lane of Hammond, Ind.; E. P. Mead of Miami Beach, Fla.; R. C. Peltz of Clinton, Ill., and Horatio Fitch of Elmhurst, ushered.

The bridesmaids and soloist wore pastel shades of green, orchid, yellow, powder-blue and rose taffeta, combined with silver lace, and the decoration of the church was palms, ferns, delphinium and roses.

A reception was held in the church parlors following the ceremony, and the wedding supper was served at the home of the bride, 1035 Lake avenue, for the bridal party and members of the immediate families.

CAMP ROOSEVELT HAS ARMY BACKING CONFIDENCE OF OFFICERS

Sons of a Number of Them To Be Enrolled; Middle West Boys Welcomed With Chicago Lads

That Camp Roosevelt, the summer educational training camp of the Chicago public school system, at Fort Sheridan this year enjoys the confidence of officers of the army is indicated by the number of sons of officers who are enrolling. Officers of the general staff in Washington, officers from headquarters of the 6th corps area, and even officers at Fort Sheridan will have their sons become members.

Major F. L. Beals, in charge of the R. O. T. C. in Chicago schools and in command of the camp, says, "This interest of army officers in Camp Roosevelt shows that the camp stands well in the estimation of those men who are most competent to judge."

While the camp is primarily for boys of the Chicago schools, William McAndrew, superintendent of schools, has extended an invitation to boys throughout the middle west to attend.

There are three separate and distinct divisions of the camp. First, the summer high school, a real tent school, is housed in a large circus tent seating 600; the classes are held in smaller tents arranged about the assembly tent. This unique summer school is part of the Chicago system and credits are transferable. The second, or R. O. T. C. division is for boys 14 years of age or over and the program is one of greater physical activity than that in the summer school, although boys in both divisions participate in all of the athletic and swimming programs.

Camp Roosevelt also makes provision for boys 12 to 14 years of age in the Junior camp, in which attendance is limited to 120 boys. Their program is one of camp craft, scout craft, athletics, swimming and similar outdoor occupations. In the last two named divisions boys may attend for seven weeks, three weeks, or two weeks.

While this camp offers everything that the more exclusive and higher priced private camps have to offer it is in the nature of a public institution and the cost of attendance is reduced to a merely nominal fee.

The camp opens on June 23. Information about it may be obtained from the Chicago Board of Education, 460 S. State street.
