Valuable Property
Sunset park contains more than 20 acres, situated close in and easily accessible from all parts of the city.
This and the Sunset Valley Golf course and other park property, purchased when prices were much lower than at present, have proved a splendid investment for the city, and the total value of the city's park property is now estimated at more than $750,- 000, because of the recent rapid increase of property values here. This indicates the worth of the foresight shown by the purchasers of the land at a time when it was available at moderate prices. At present it would be practically impossible to acquire such valuable land so conveniently situated for the purpose.

With the special decorations and myriads of electric lights arranged by the Chamber of Commerce yesterday for the celebration of Highland Park day in the park, the entire place was a scene of color and beauty, and the crowds which visited it manifested their appreciation of this splendid city playground by their notable enjoyment of every minute of the day's outing.

The closing session of the Daily Vacation Bible school will be held Wednesday evening, August 4 in the lecture room of the church house, at seven-thirty o'clock. All parents and friends are cordially invited. The program will consist of the worship program in which the children take part each morning. Their memory work in Scripture, hymns and dramatization of stories. A missionary thank offering will be taken. There will also be an exhibit of the handwork the children have done for the various missions.

The cash prize awards will be given as soon as possible after the meeting of the executive committee and announcement will be made in next week's Press when and where prizes may be obtained.

Thanks Extended
The parade committee takes this means of expressing sincere appreciation for the co-operation of all who participated in the parade, their sincere thanks to the prize award committee and to the ladies who assisted with the children's division and the police department. We hope, with the experience gained, that each year the parade will be bigger and better.
The committee regrets that the full names of all children in their division were not obtainable.

The parade was honored by the presence of Edward Moroney, grand marshal, Acting Mayor Frank L.
Cheney and Ex-Mayor R. G. Evans, Wm. Dooley and John Oliver, and the Rev. Geo. Keller who issued the address of welcome. Rev. Keller was introduced by Acting Mayor Cheney.

At Sunset park the program was carried out as scheduled, everything going through without a hitch and with plenty of entertainment features to keep the great crowd interested and pleased throughout the day. About $500 worth of prizes donated by the merchants were distributed during the day. In addition to the list of prizes printed last week there was added two donated by Victor Killian, plumbing engineer, which were one Chicago Co.'s Classic faucet valve and one Toidy seat valve.

The decorations throughout the business district for Highland Park day this year were especially worthy of note. The large flags placed along the curbs by the Chamber of Commerce to be used as permanent decorations for all such affairs made a uniform and appropriate showing, and the additional decorations on lamp posts bearing shields with welcome greetings and the strings of bunting in yellow and white, the colors of the Chamber of Commerce, which were stretched across the streets at intervals, added to the gaiety of the scene.

Window Decorations
The store window decorations also were elaborate and beautiful, each business house vying with the others in the excellence of its display and many of these were especially fine.

Baseball Game
The principal feature of the afternoon program was the baseball game between the Highland Park Elks and the Highwood team. This attracted a huge attendance of fans and proved to be an especially interesting battle. The rain stopped the game in the eighth inning, with the score 2 to 1 in favor of Highland Park. The attendance exceeded all records.

The various games and athletic events for children later in the afternoon were pulled off according to program and were viewed by many interested spectators.

Free dancing on the new concrete dance floor in the park was a feature of the afternoon and was enjoyed by a great crowd. Dancing also was

Splendid Success
Altogether it was a great day, the greatest Highland Park day celebration in the history of the city, with plenty of amusements and everybody enjoying every minute, and the Chamber of Commerce committees are to be congratulated on their ex-

SUNDAY SCHOOL ENJOYS PICNIC AT SUNSET PARK About 250 members and friends of the First United Evangelical Sunday school of this city gathered at Sunset Park Saturday, July 24, to celebrate their annual picnic. Races, games, and eats were the order of the day, and the affair was pronounced the best the school ever had, by all those attending.
