"SCANDAL," FEATURE MAJESTIC THEATRE

Waukegan Players Present Cosmo Hamilton's Success This Week

Any number of morals are pointed out in "Scandal," the big Cosmo Hamilton, comedy success that is to be the special offering of the Majestic players, at the Majestic theatre all next week, but one of the most important is the utter folly of trying to mix of the Bohemian, and drawing room breeding.

Beatrix a young lady of an exquisite nature, decides to have an unchaperoned peek at Bohemian, and the studio of Sutherland York, in particular. She runs into town, and is taken to the studio by York. Across the hall is Franklin, the man whom her family have selected as husband for her but have been unable to land. Presto, the family appear and, in order to offset a scandalous bit of news associating her name with that of York, Beatrix announced that she and Franklin have been married secretly for some time and that her visit to York's studio was to afford an opportunity of seeing her husband.

Franklin takes the challenge and decides to teach the young lady a much needed lesson. The method he adopts and the outcome of his efforts provide the two remaining acts of the most delightful comedy conceivable.

HELPING HAND VIA RED CROSS ROLL CALL

Does your heart respond in sympathy when you read of some disaster to our brothers and sisters, whether it be across the sea, or from some remote corner in our own dear land, as has just happened in the south-eastern part of the United States?

The answer is "yes," of course. Strife may seem rampant in certain localities, individual financial, political and civic opinion may contend for what it believes is right, but at the first news of disaster, petty bickerings cease, greed and strife are forgotten and the call for help welds thought in the common cause of extending "the helping hand," not from a sense of charity, but that of service.

One may not be able to rush off to the scene of disaster, in person nor would it be wise, but whether you are a business man, a messenger boy, a housewife, clerk, or digging a ditch, there comes a happy thought "I'm helping."

The proceeds of the yearly Red Cross roll call and drive, which your contribution helps enlarge, go in response to the human cry for aid and whenever and wherever it comes, regardless of creed, color or politics, "the helping hand" is extended.

Won't you be ready to form a part in this great work as much as you can and aid the work of the voluntary workers by your voluntary contribution when the drive starts?

ELM PLACE P. T. A. TO MEET SEPTEMBER 27

Opening Session In School Auditorium Monday; Reception to Teachers

The Parent-Teacher association of Elm Place school will hold its first meeting of the year in the auditorium Monday, Sept. 27, at 8 o'clock. The evening is in the nature of a reception to the teachers and board of education and a most delightful program has been arranged.

Miss Jessie Harding of Chicago will give some of her inimitable readings aid Mrs. Ben H. Ball will furnish the music of the evening. After the formal program there will be an opportunity for everyone to renew old contacts and make the new ones that each of school life brings. Mrs. Raymond Herman and her committee will serve.

Miss Harding is too well known, both in Highland Park and throughout the country, to need any introduction. She has given several programs here assisted by Mrs. Annette Jones or Miss Priscilla Carver. Her "Man without a Country" has become a classic, so much so that she has given it with Mrs. Jones, in Washington at the national convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution. While her programs have been most enthusiastically received in New York and other cities, she is also known here for her association for many years with Miss Anna Morgan in her studio in Chicago. Her being here Monday evening is a generous and gracious expression of her affection for Highland Park and her friends here. She is in the truest sense of the word an artist.

Mrs. Ben H. Ball belongs to us, for her home is in Highland Park and she is a member of the Elm Place P.T.A. After studying the piano in this country she went to Berlin and there made her professional debut. Her concert work has received well deserved praise.

Every member and friend of Elm Place is cordially invited to attend this first meeting Monday night. It promises a pleasant evening for everyone, and a large audience will be not only a fitting welcome to our teachers and school board but also an act of appreciation for two such talented and generous friends.

MAYOR PRESENTS PLAN FOR LAKE DRIVE

Presents Suggestion to Illinois Manufacturers' Association Last Week

Plans for a 400-foot outer lake drive to cost $200,000 a mile and extend all the way from Michigan City to Milwaukee, were presented to the board of directors of the Illinois Manufacturers' association Friday by Samuel M. Hastings of the advisory committee of the association and mayor of Highland Park. The project was referred for further consideration by members of the group who will take it up with state, county and federal highway executives.

The Hastings plan calls for an outer drive and park system 400 feet wide, with roadways of 100 feet each for traffic in both directions, separated by a 100-foot strip of park-way and a 50-foot lane of trees on either side.

Access to the road, which would be located on made ground 2,000 feet out in the lake, would be arranged as local communities required. For example, a 500-foot drive from Central avenue, Highland Park, east to the road, and in larger cities two such links.

"This drive," Hastings said, "would be an interstate road, controlled by commissioners appointed from the states of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois and Wisconsin. Federal and state aid would be needed, plus a reasonable tax from property benefited, running from ten to twenty miles from the shore.

"Maintenance of the great causeway would be met by a charge of 25 cents for each vehicle using it. It is estimated that the average number of cars per day would be 20,000, a total revenue of $5,000, which probably would maintain workmen and repairs.

"If this roadway is connected with the proposed 200-foot drive through the Skokie Valley," Mr. Hastings pointed out, "it will make a 250-mile round trip of well regulated and safe travel over super-highways."

One Short
The boat was sinking. The skipper rushed up to a crowd of scared passengers.

"Who among you can pray?" he asked them.

"I can," answered the minister.

"Then pray, mister," ordered the skipper. "The rest of you put on life preservers. We're one short."

Hammernill Bond.

After being driven off private land by no trespassing signs, the pedestrian returns to the street to be pursued by automobiles.

Political temperature is rising, which will no doubt help ripen the plum crop.
