

Tit for Tat
 Spiteful: "We are going to move soon and will be in a respectable neighborhood!"
 "So will we."

If there is anything in this theory that people take on the nature of the food they eat we suggest clams be put on the menu of some congressmen.

A Vacation Romance
 "Now that we're engaged let's jump in my roadster and dash over to the preacher's."
 "Don't you think we better be introduced first?"

Reduced Rates
 "How much is a ticket to St. Louis?"
 "Six dollars and six cents."
 "Gosh! I can go over to the next town and get one for less than that!"

Prize fighters should be strong believers in the saying, "Tis better to give than to receive!"

Now I'll Tell One
 Doctor: "That's a very bad eye you have sir. How did you hurt it?"
 "I came home late last night and struck it on a kitchen utensil."

A Good Reason
 "Someone said you don't sing in the choir any more!"
 "No, I thought it best to stop."
 "Why—what's wrong?"
 "Well, I missed one Sunday and all the congregation wanted to know when the organ was fixed."

When a woman is in love she acts like a fool, but a man in love isn't acting.

Life's Mirror
 Reflections by Panne
 No silver frame stands on my dresser
 No smiling counterpart upon my desk
 Nothing material to gaze at,
 Or hold, or kiss.
 Ah, but deep planted in my memory
 Where always close you seem
 And framed within my heart
 I have your picture.

No Doubt True
 "Do you know of a man who whistles at his work and is not happy and contented?"
 "Yes—our letter-carrier."

Across With a Bang
 Here lies what's left
 Of Good o' Bill.
 He slept too near
 A steaming still.

Specific
 Father: "So your heart is broken?"
 Daughter: (home from vacation)
 "Yes, in two places—at Mountain Top and Lakeview."

With Good Wishes
 First Scotchman: "Did ya give Sandy a birthday present?"
 Second Scotchman: "Sure—a pair of homing pigeons."

Zeb Spink has never been the same since he was fired out of the Lasy Man's club because he held the lantern while his wife chopped wood. He reformed after that—but they haven't readmitted him into the club.

Conscientious
 Mère Man: "I want to get a present for my wife."
 Nice Clerk: "Would you like to see something nice in silk things?"
 Mère Man: "Why—er-r yes. But let's tend to the present first."

Fair With Her
 Bold He: "Will you marry me?"
 Shy She: "Yes—but at this time I think I should tell you that I am a somnambulist."
 Bold He: "Oh, that's all right—you can go to any church you want to—and I'll go to mine."

Reflections by Panne
 I have been drinking
 The summer sunshine
 And gazing at the ocean
 And thinking of the restfulness
 Of life; and wondering why
 Men struggle so—
 When at most we live and die.

Not To Be Caught
 A little boy was told that he must go to a hospital and have his tonsils and adenoids removed. The youngster was not visibly disturbed by the prospect, according to a visitor who called with his mother. The visitor found the little boy deep in thought, and questioned him to find out if he were afraid. The reply was addressed partly to his mother, "Mamma, I ain't 'fraid of going to the hospital. I'll be brave and do just as they tell me. But I'm not going to let them palm off a baby on me, like they did to you when you was there."

Goodness Knows
 Mother to young daughter: "I'm surprised at you reading such a novel! If you read this stuff now what will you read when you are my age?"

Life's Mirror

 INSPIRATION,
 The Goddess
 To which all art must bow
 Upon which the world depends.
 Though born of love or hate, or pain,
 or ecstasy,
 Though clothed in poverty, or injury
 or death,
 She reigns supreme
 This Goddess
 INSPIRATION.

In the Hospital
 Nurse: "Your baby's skin is irritated—do you use baby talc?"
 Mandy: "No mam—we done don't use no baby talc—we use nuffin but de best English speakable."

Smilin' Charlie Says.
 "When opportunity comes I call and she finds you asleep—remember she ain't gonna wait for you I get up and get dressed ----"

Probably True
 Judge: "Say Mr. Brown, this is a purely domestic affair and it is a shame to get a divorce on such petty charges. Why don't you and Mrs. Brown settle it out of court."
 "Yes suh judge—ah 'grees wif yo all—but every time we starts settlement de police allus stops us!"

Wanted
 Strong, husky young man to work on farm that drives horses that speaks good English.

Righto!
 Stingy housewife to butcher: "It sure is tough when you have to pay 80 cents a pound for beef."
 "Yes, but it is a whole lot tougher when you pay twenty-five."

Any henpecked husband admits the strength of women's clubs.

Life's Mirror
 Reflections by Panne
 A fight between
 A thousand doubts
 A million fears
 We've travelled many routes
 And wasted many years
 Before the battle's won.

Not So High
 Mother: "Hello doctor, will you come up to 43 Baxter street, my little Willie has a temperature?"
 Doctor: "How high?"
 "Oh, only on the second floor!"

A little better material—
 A little finer workmanship—
 A little more advanced styles—
 and a whole lot more comfort.

"I suppose you want a suitable inscription on the stone?" inquired the tombstone salesman of the widow.
 "Well, no—just something conventional."

Not a Chance
 "Don't let me miss my train."
 Chauffeur: "No danger sir, the boss said I'd lose my job if I did."

We may destroy our handsome forests, but anyway the motor tourists can still have the billboards to look at.
