SUBURBAN TRAFFIC FACTOR IN SURVEY

IS SHOWN IN THE REPORT

Conclusion Is That More Than
Million and Quarter Cars
In Chicago Region
Before 1950

If the towns, villages and cities within a forty mile radius of Chicago's loop district continue to grow and increase the use of the automobile at the present rate there will be 1,281,700 automobiles operating in the Chicago Automotive Region by 1950.

This fact is brought out in the traffic survey just completed by the Chicago Association of Commerce. The complete report of this survey conducted by the street traffic committee of the association will be transmitted to the city council in two or three weeks at which time the recommendations of the committee for scientific control of traffic in the Chicago region will be made public.

Covers Suburbs Also
In making a survey of the congestion and traffic problems of the Chicago area Miller McClintock, director of the Albert Russel Arskine Bureau for Traffic Research, the engineer in charge of the survey, has made a complete study of traffic flows, street needs, congestion snarls and other features of the street use which may be applied effectively to Chicago and suburban residential communities. Plans for traffic control in urban Chicago cannot be differentiated from a plan for the entire Chicago area, Mr. McClintock points out because of the constant exchange of vehicular traffic between the big city and the suburbs.

All users of motor vehicles in the suburbs of Chicago will recognize that there is no distinct line between the streets of these communities and the county highways which are in many cases continuations of crowded city streets. In making our survey we found that only through co-operation between city, county and suburbs can satisfactory improvement be made in traffic relief. Some suburbs are deluged with motor cars on Sunday's because arterial highways pass through their boundaries, a fact that emphasizes the relationship between the large city and suburbs in the treatment of the traffic control problem.

Cites Example
A striking example of this close relationship between a large city and neighboring residential suburbs is found in the Los Angeles situation, say officials of the traffic committee. Following the adoption of the McClintock traffic code and a modern traffic control system by the city of Los Angeles, nearby communities after seeing the success of them, voluntarily installed the major features of each thus linking up with the larger city. Following this co-operative tie-up to unravel traffic snarls and speed up traffic the Automobile club of south California launched a movement to establish the Los Angeles code in all southern California cities in the interest of safety and convenience to motorists.

Eagerly Awaited
Business men, motorists, pedestrians, suburbanites—all are eagerly awaiting the recommendations of the street traffic survey which has been under way for ten months, as street conditions in the Chicago area are disastrous because of unscientific methods of traffic control. Arterial highways, parking, traffic police, light systems for traffic control, pavements, a simplified traffic code, and many other subjects are covered by the survey which has applied the most modern engineering science to solve the traffic troubles of the Chicago automotive region.

DECISION WRECKS SCHOOL DISTRICT

GIVEN IN CIRCUIT COURT

Ouster Is Ordered for Non-High
School Directors at Round
Lake by Judge Edwards
Last Week

The non-high school district, that was to furnish a high school for parts of Avon, Grant, Fremont and other townships, was wrecked last week by a ruling of Judge Edwards in the circuit court when he ordered a judgment for ouster against the directors, recently elected.

His action was based on a recent supreme court ruling that found invalid the law of 1923 under which the non-high school district had been formed, according to Attorney Wm. E. Herr, for the district.

The Fox Lake district had been represented by Attorneys Runyard and Behenna who were prepared to argue that the district was contiguous and that it had not been formed under the proper act.

Previous to the election of a directorate the district had voted for a high school and had then voted for a site, located northwest of Grayslake and a short distance out of Round Lake.

This had brought a series of objections, bringing a quo warranto proceedings demanding by what right the district had been formed.

Attorney Herr prayed an appeal and stated that he might carry the case up in spite of the decision that made the organization invalid.

The only act under which a non-high school district could be formed now, it is understood, is under the one of 1919.

FAMOUS SINGER AT LAKE FOREST SOON

Claire Dux to Appear Oct. 16 In First of Music School Concert Series

There is great cause for rejoicing that Claire Dux is coming to Lake Forest to sing on the evening of October 16 in the first Subscription Concert of this season under the management of Lake Forest School of Music. Not since the great Teresa Carreno opened this course eleven years ago has a concert been more keenly anticipated.

When Claire Dux was a very little girl she kept a diary to which she confided two of her ambitions, one to become an opera singer, the other to visit America. She has attained the highest possible eminence in the field of her childhood dreams, and as for America, she took it by storm upon her very first tour of this country.

Claire Dux knows how to make discriminating and captivating programs. She has many languages at the tip of her enchanted tongue, in each of which her diction is perfection itself. She loves to bring out new songs, or those that are seldom heard with unerring good taste and impeccable judgment of musical values, and everything she sings she invests with poetry, musicality, and that irresistible charm which has endeared her to her audiences here and abroad on the operatic as well as the concert stage.

Her program in Lake Forest will include songs by Mozart, Schubert, Leoncavallo, Bizet, Carpenter, and others. Season tickets and single tickets for the first concert are obtainable at the Music School.

Having a bomb hurled at him in Rome seems to be worth as much as a million votes to Mussolini.

CHICAGO U. HEAD TO SPEAK AT WINNETKA

Max Mason, president of the University of Chicago, will be the speaker for the opening meeting of the Winnetka League of Women Voters at Community House Monday, Oct. 11. The luncheon will be served at 12:30 o'clock in Rudolph Matz hall.

This is a meeting to which all women of the village are invited whether members of the league or not. They are, however, urged to make reservations for luncheon by notifying the corresponding secretary, Mrs. Eugene Rummel, Winnetka 1097, on or before Friday, Oct. 8.

As this is President Mason's first visit to Winnetka, a large crowd is expected to be present. President Mason will be accompanied by Mrs. Mason. They will be guests of honor at a reception to be held at 12 o'clock noon in the Campfire room just prior to the luncheon. Winnetka women are delighted to have this opportunity of meeting the new president of the University of Chicago, and Mrs. Mason.

Other honor guests at the reception and luncheon will be Mrs. Harold Ickes, president of the Chicago Woman's club, and Mrs. Herman B. Butler, president of the Chicago Y. W. C. A., both of whom are members of the Winnetka league. The members of the new Kenilworth league, of which Mrs. Mark Cresap is president and of the new Lake Forest league, of which Mrs. George Richardson is president, are also expected to attend the meeting.

This opening day is known as Education day, the program being in charge of the education committee, of which Mrs. William B. Moulton is chairman.

October 11 will thus open the year's work of the Winnetka league in a most auspicious manner.

BOY BADLY BITTEN BY WINNETKA DOG

Richard Sauer, 7 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sauer, 1022 Ash street, was knocked down and severely bitten by an unmuzzled dog last Saturday, Sept. 25. He was playing in the back yard of his home when the dog attacked him. The sight of his right eye was feared for, but further examination showed that his eye just escaped the bite. The dog not only wore no muzzle but was without a license, and is now in the hands of the police.

WINNETKA POLICE FORESTALL THEFT

Discover Car With Burglar's Tools In It; Auto Was Stolen

Winnetka police probably forestalled a burglary early last Thursday morning when they discovered a stolen car with a well equipped bag of burglar tools in it. The car had been abandoned on Betting lane near Sheridan road about 1 o'clock in the morning, and one of the squads which patrol the streets at night discovered it. Evidently the burglars had parked the car while they looked for a house to enter. The car was watched but the men did not return and it was finally taken to the station. According to the records it had been stolen June 3 in Chicago. In spite of a close watch on railroad stations and roads the supposed burglars escaped.
