The Progressive club of the Wilmot school will meet at the home of Mrs. A. J. Johnson, Wednesday afternoon, January 19.

Miss Luella Willman and Mrs. Carlsson of Chicago were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Willman.

Mr. and Mrs. Christ Willman and family attended the birthday anniversary celebration of Mrs. Willman's mother, Mrs. Johanna Grenning of Glenview, Monday.

Miss Ida Knaak, Mrs. Frase, Mr. William Barrett, Mr. and Mrs. Thilo Toll and Mrs. C. Sherden attended the installation ceremonies of Lake Forest O. E. S. chapter, Monday evening.

On Friday evening, Jan. 21, the regular meeting of the Wilmot P. T. A. will be held in the school. An interesting program is being planned.

Mrs. R. Sherman entertained for her mother, Mrs. Bock, on Tuesday afternoon. Guests from Northbrook and Wheeling attended.

Mrs. Frase, Mr. and Mrs. Thilo Toll and Mrs. Sherden visited the Park Ridge O. E. S. chapter Tuesday evening.

Dr. Walter B. Metcalf spoke to the students of the Deerfield-Shields high school in their weekly assembly Monday morning. These gatherings have been charged from Friday to Monday morning for the remainder of the year.

Dr. Metcalf spoke on "Posture and its Relation to Health." The Boys' and Girls' Glee clubs sang. The Boys' Glee club also sang in the Lincoln school, Highland Park, assembly last Friday morning and will appear at the meeting of the Deerfield Parent-Teacher association, in the library, next Friday evening.

Charlotte and Ann Goelitz who were at home for the holidays returned to Milwaukee-Downer.

The Deerfield committee of the civic committee of the Highland Park Woman's club held the January meeting at "Westfield Lodge," the home of Mrs. Adolph Goelitz, Friday afternoon. The assessment of one dollar per member for the philanthropy fund was voted to be sent to the equipment fund of the Wilmot school.

Several matters of civic improvement were delegated to different committees for investigation and recommendation. Mrs. Truitt, of "Arbor Vitae" on Waukegan road, will be the next hostess, the second Friday afternoon in February.

Tony Sarg's Marionettes will give a show in the Elm Place school the afternoon and evening of January 20. Those who had the privilege of viewing their performance last year will wish to see them again.

Misses Bernice Love and Helen Reichelt with fifty-eight students and their music teacher, Miss McCormick of the Northern Illinois State Teachers college attended the opera, "Martha," at the Auditorium in Chicago, Sunday evening.

Mr. Raymond Lord, Jr., of Chicago, visited his aunt, Mrs. Emil Frederick, Friday.

Jean Brand entertained the Friendly Five club at her home on Deerfield road Saturday afternoon. Her cousin, Shirley Clark, whose home is on the same tract of land, the Brand homestead, will be the next hostess to the club.

Mrs. Charles E. Timson gave a dinner party at her home, Hickory Knoll farm, Friday evening.

Mrs. Patterson of Briarhill will leave for Bermuda on the fifteenth and Mrs. Carleton S. Scribner will go to California on the same date.

A formal dance was given in the clubhouse in Bannockburn field, the Alken subdivision, that was formerly the John Huehl farm, last Saturday evening.

While Mrs. Frank Russo and Mrs. Chester Wolf were in the Deerfield public library checking up their book list last Wednesday evening, a few minutes after the library closed at ten o'clock, they were terribly startled when a large rock was thrown through the window. It crashed against the wall, on the opposite side of the room, and made the whole building vibrate, as if an explosion had occurred. The women were, fortunately, seated at the desk between the windows, but they were too frightened to move, lest another rock follow the first, and they were struck.

There is no telephone in the library and the office of the principal was locked and in darkness. After half an hour of fearful anxiety they left the building to seek a policeman and Mrs. Russo fainted from the shock.

The experience came as a disagreeable surprise, for the room had been filled all evening with a quiet, orderly, interesting group of young men and boys, who seemed eager for good reading material and a pleasant reading room. A telephone will be installed in the building and some man will accompany the volunteer women librarians each evening that the room is open, and a policeman will patrol the neighborhood.

Bandits are beginning to infest the heretofore peaceful country lanes. Mr. Adolph Goelitz, who moved from Highland Park to "Westfield Lodge" on the Wilmot road, a charming red cedar building among evergreen trees, was held up as he alighted from his automobile at his garage recently. A slim, crouching, masked man, with a voice muffled to disguise it, commanded Mr. Goelitz to hold up his hands and get back in his car. As the thug's hand shook so much that his victim feared that the revolver would be discharged, Mr. Goelitz told the man to take the car if he wished it, that it was too dangerous for him to get in behind the shaking gun. The man said that he didn't want the car but the "roll," and ordered Mr. Goelitz to walk away from the house and across the fields, with the revolver pressed to his back. As soon as they had gone far enough away to satisfy the man Mr. Goelitz emptied his pockets of bills and change, which amounted to thirteen dollars. The men then cautioned Mr. Goelitz not to move till he made his "getaway." When Mr. Goelitz returned home he notified the police, but no trace of the robber could be found.

American Legion Auxiliary

The Deerfield American Legion auxiliary held an interesting meeting at the home of Mrs. J. Strong, Monday afternoon. The new officers, Mrs. Glenn Bowman, president; Mrs. H. Whitcomb, vice-president; Mrs. Alex Willman, secretary; Mrs. Harry Man, sergeant-at-arms, were duly installed by the eighth district committee woman, Mrs. Charles Benson of Highland Park. Mrs. J. Farner, newly elected treasurer, Mrs. Bruce Blaine, chaplain were unable to attend.

The following chairmen were appointed by the president: Membership, Mrs. E. Jacobson; social, Mrs. C. Steiner; publicity, Mrs. A. Willman; finance, Mrs. J. Strong.

In order that all members would have an opportunity to attend the meetings the unit voted to hold one afternoon meeting one month and an evening meeting the following month. Seventeen attended the meeting, including Mrs. Roberts and Mrs. Fred Gallagher of Highland Park. Mrs. Carl Anderson and Mrs. Alex Willman were assistant hostesses.

American Legion

The American Legion, Deerfield Post No. 738, held their regular meeting in the Masonic temple, Wednesday evening, Jan. 12. The Legion has had a very successful membership drive.

On January 29 and 30 a two-day convention will be held at Rockford, Ill.

On February 9 there will be a banquet at Lake Forest and any member of the local post who would like to attend the affair should notify Adjutant Clarence Huhn.

Another interesting event being planned by the post is a party for Deerfield post members, their wives, auxiliary members, and their husbands.

Flames were discovered coming from the second floor of Mrs. Mary Cook's home on East Osterman avenue, about seven o'clock, Tuesday morning. Mr. and Mrs. E. Lemm who occupy the first floor were unaware of the fire until the arrival of the fire department.

The stairway leading to the upper floor was so badly damaged that firemen had to break their way in and soon had the fire under control.

Mrs. Cook, who lives with her daughter, Mrs. Oscar Benz, had a considerable amount of furniture, rugs, etc., stored in the apartment, all of which were greatly damaged. The fire, however, was confined to the second story, due to the prompt arrival of the fire department.

Mrs. Cook, Mr. and Mrs. Lemm are most grateful to all who so readily offered their assistance. They are at a loss as to the origin of the fire.

Deerfield Chapter No. 940, O. E. S.

Against a background of white and a profusion of palms and flowers the officers of the Deerfield chapter No. 940, O. E. S., with impressive ceremonies were installed at the Masonic temple, Thursday evening.

Pauline White, member of Grand Chapter committee, O. E. S., was installing officer; Vivian Scott, past worthy grand matron was installing marshal; Pauline Clow, past worthy matron, installing chaplain; Gertrude Thomas, past worthy matron, installing organist; Ambrose J. Montavon, flag bearer; escorts, Henry F. Clow, James J. Cain, Charles White; retiring officer, Alma Deck, worthy matron; Harold Vant worthy patron.

Delightful musical numbers were given by the Oriental quartette of Chicago throughout the evening.

Sir Knights of Waukegan Commandery No. 12, formed the archway for the worthy matron and worthy patron.

The following are the officers for the year 1927: Ruth M. Frase, worthy matron; William B. Barrett, worthy patron; Adelaide Steiner, associate matron; Charles Frey, secretary; Bernice Maw, treasurer; Elsie Sherden, conducting; Christina Knaak, associate conductress; Carolyn Becker, chaplain; Ellen M. Klug, marshal; Irma L. Krieg, organist; Barbara W. Derby, Odah; Ella S. B. Lutz, Ruth; Leola M. Vinyard, Esther; Florence Uchtman, Martha; Clara L. Vetter, Electa; Annie Willman, warder; Thilo H. Toll, sentinel.

A large number of guests attended, including members from neighboring chapters.

Deerfield-Shields High School P. T. A.

A delightful change in the type of programs provided by the committee that has them in charge, was given Thursday afternoon, when lectures on educational subjects were set aside for an entertainment by three local artists: Miss Zae Comer, the teacher of public speaking in the Deerfield-Shields high school, ran the gamut of emotions from grave to gay, in readings from modern poets and telling anecdotes in R. H. L.'s Linebook of 1926, published by the Chicago Tribune. Her reading of one of Robert Frost's drab little poems of the New England man who did not understand his wife, was so poignant that applause was withheld. It seemed a sacrilege to the telling of the story. Silence was the best compliment to Miss Comer's art. From poems of childhood to those of adult life Miss Comer's versatility was exhibited in her individual, charming manner.

Mrs. Helen Abbott Byfield, wife of Dr. Arthur F. Byfield, with Mrs. Elizabeth McCrystle Heath at the piano, sang "If There Were Dreams to Sell" by John Ireland; "A Bally-nae Ballad" from County Antrim; "Idyll" by McDowell; "A Piper" (music by Michael Head, words by Sen-mas O'Sullivan); "Grandfather's Love" by Glenn Hier; "Miss Mariar" by Floy Little Bartlett; and two negro spirituals, "Little David by Grant Schaefer, and "Run Mary Run" by David W. Gulon.

The popularity of these three women or talent was evidenced by the applause for encores, and the beautiful flowers presented to them.

Women of Lake Forest were hostesses during the social hour.

The February meeting will be held in the evening, when Dr. Horace J. Bridges of the Chicago Ethical society, will be the speaker.

O. E. S. Meeting

Thursday evening, Jan. 6, Mrs. Alma Deck presided at the last meeting of the year 1926 of the Deerfield chapter O.E.S., at which time the officers for the ensuing year were installed.

Mrs. Alma Deck, has, as worthy matron of Deerfield chapter, guided the affairs of that organization in a businesslike manner and the year has proved a very prosperous one. She is to be commended upon the remarkable growth of the chapter during the year in which she presided. Mrs. Deck has formed many firm friendships for the chapter with suburban chapters and also with many lake shore chapters.

As a token of appreciation the officers of Deerfield chapter and friends presented her with numerous beautiful gifts and flowers.

TURN TO OCEAN FOR RAW MATERIALS NOW

Various Manufacturing Plants That Utilize Matter From Sea Are Reported

Industry, backed by science, has turned to the ocean for raw material. A floating factory has put to sea to draw bromine from sea water that the automobiles of the country may run with less gas.

There is plenty of wealth in sea water—that has been known for years—but the job has been to get it out at a price which would be profitable. Not so many years ago a company to get gold out of sea water was actively selling stock. And no one could dispute that there is gold in sea water, about an ounce in 6,000 tons, but the company paid no one save its promoters.

Thus far our chief products from the sea have been fish, and salt, pearls and shell, kelp and sponges—valuable, but insignificant in value compared with the things that are there which we haven't touched and most of which we don't know how to touch.

Sea water isn't the same in the amount of solid matter it contains, but the makeup of this solid matter is strangely constant. There is less than one per cent of saline matter in sea water in the Baltic, and it runs up to 5 per cent in the Red Sea. Water from the Gulf of Mexico showed a total salinity of 3.63 per cent and the average salinity of the ocean is 3.5 per cent.

Of this saline matter, analysis showed among other things approximately 55 per cent chlorine, 17 per cent bromine, 30.8 per cent sodium, a little over one per cent of both potassium and calcium, and 3.5 per cent magnesium.

If you want something more dazzling to reckon with, there are gold, silver and radium in the sea, one investigator having found about 5 milligrams of gold per ton of water.

SUBMITTED BRIEF

SERMON ON THRIFT

A man who makes a living with his head was bewailing the other day that he had not begun saving earlier in life, and that he had not saved more.

"Well," said a consoling friend, "you've still got your head, and its still works. Why thriftless?"

"Yes," said the thriftless one, "but the trouble with me is that I have never set aside enough for depreciation on the intellect."

Submitted as a brief sermon on thrift by the Nation's Business.

FILM SHOWS FAMOUS FRIGATE IN ACTION

"Old Ironsides" in Battle With Pirates of Tripoli Subject Aid For Fund

A phantom "Old Ironsides," done in celluloid at a reported cost of $2,500,000, has sailed across the silver screen of a Broadway theater, in New York, in aid of a $600,000 fund to preserve the frigate constitution, the original "Old Ironsides" for posterity.

The receipts of a premier will add a goodly sum to the $250,000 already collected. Seats sold for $10 each, boxes for $100, and the proceeds were donated to the fund.

The film shows the one-time pride of the navy in battles with the Tripoli pirates of 1804 and was produced by the Ramour Players-Lasky corporation with the co-operation of the navy. The story was written by Laurence Stallings.

A dinner at the Biltmore hotel by the "Save Old Ironsides Fund," at which Curtis D. Wilbur, secretary of the navy, spoke and which was attended by prominent naval and motion picture men, preceded the showing.

LAKE VILLA CHIEF ORDERED REMOVED

Action Taken by Court on Verdict of Jury in Charge of Malfeasance

Chief of Police Bernard Hamlin of Lake Villa Wednesday was ordered removed from office by Judge C. C. Edwards, in the circuit court, as judgment on the verdict of guilty voted by a jury four weeks ago after charges of malfeasance in office had been heard against the officer.

Under the law the court could have removed Hamlin from office and assessed a fine not to exceed $10,000 or both. The removal and costs of the case were placed against the officer.

Judgment was entered after Judge Edwards had denied the motion for a new trial.
