NEIGHBORHOOD JOTTINGS

Interesting Happenings About This Part of North Shore and Vicinity; County Seat Doings

Charles F. Fitzgibbons, a retired Chicago police officer, but for the past three years a resident of Libertyville and engaged in the real estate and insurance business in that village, died last week.

H. Clinton Burnett, president of the Waukegan National bank, that boasts assets of $4,605,000, last week was reelected president of the bank. The same officers and board were reelected.

An expedition to Pewaukee lake, Wis., near Waukesha, last week led to the death of two young men, one the brother of Theodore Morley of Wauconda.

Pushing two guns into his back and demanding that he hold up his Supervisor Edward Martin, of sport township, recently was held in his store at Millburn, where bandits carried away $50 in cash and tobaccos.

Padlocks are to be used by State's Attorney A. V. Smith, he announced today, in an effort to curb the liquor traffic in the county.

A shake-up in the Waukegan fire department that caused the status of several firemen, causing some to be transferred from the Central to the South side station, and vice versa, was put into effect last week.

A yearly gift of $1,000 to the Lake Forest college by Samuel Insull to be used in providing scholarships for the graduates of the Waukegan Township high school the Libertyville high school and the Gurnee high school, was announced at Lake Forest last week by Dr. Herbert M. Moore, president of the college.

Combined bank assets for Waukegan and North Chicago, as shown in reports of conditions just published, reach $13,318,308.28. This includes the Waukegan National, First National, Peoples State and Waukegan State in Waukegan, and the Lake County State in North Chicago.

Just 72 years ago last week the first train to arrive in Waukegan named into that city from Chicago and the din of a community gone mad in the celebration of an event that up to that time had been the outstanding event in the history of the community and for that matter in the lives of many of its citizens.

TWO N. S. STUDENTS WIN SCHOLARSHIPS

Are Among Seven Thus Honored by Northwestern Liberal Arts College

Based on ability only, seven freshman scholarships have been awarded by the College of Liberal Arts of Northwestern University, all being from outside of Chicago, say one. Competitive examinations were taken recently and an award of $150 each to each to apply on tuition has been won by the following students:

Miss Genevieve J. Gates, Lena, Ill.; William H. Nims, Noy.; Miss Ruth Orndorff, 4430 Wilcox ave., Chicago; Harold B. Wright, Woodstock; Miss Margaret M. Walker, 1315 Elmwood ave., Wilmette; Gordon McNeil, Dixon; Ralph Heineman, 913 Greenwood ave., Winnetka.

The competitive examinations covered the subjects of English mathematics and one foreign language, French, Latin, German or Spanish. Virtually all of the students who competed for the N.U. scholarships held leading rank in their classwork in high school, it is stated by Dr. Raymond A. Kent, dean of the college of liberal arts.

MORE 'PHONE LINES ACROSS CONTINENT

A third transcontinental long distance telephone line will be completed shortly after the first of the year.

The first, or central line, was opened to San Francisco in 1915. The second or southern line was built to Los Angeles about two years ago; now the third, or northern line terminates in the Pacific Northwest.

Transcontinental service will not be at the mercy of storms in any one section of the country. This is simply another link in the network of telephone wires which make a neighborhood of this nation. No other country has a service that can begin to compare with our unified system, which has made the telephone so common in the United States that nearly every family has one and any child can use it.—The Manufacturer.

THEATRE GUILD PLAY HERE JANUARY 24TH

TO PRESENT "HENRY IV"

Unusual Performance Promised With Basil Sydney as Star and Capable Cast; Fine Stage Settings

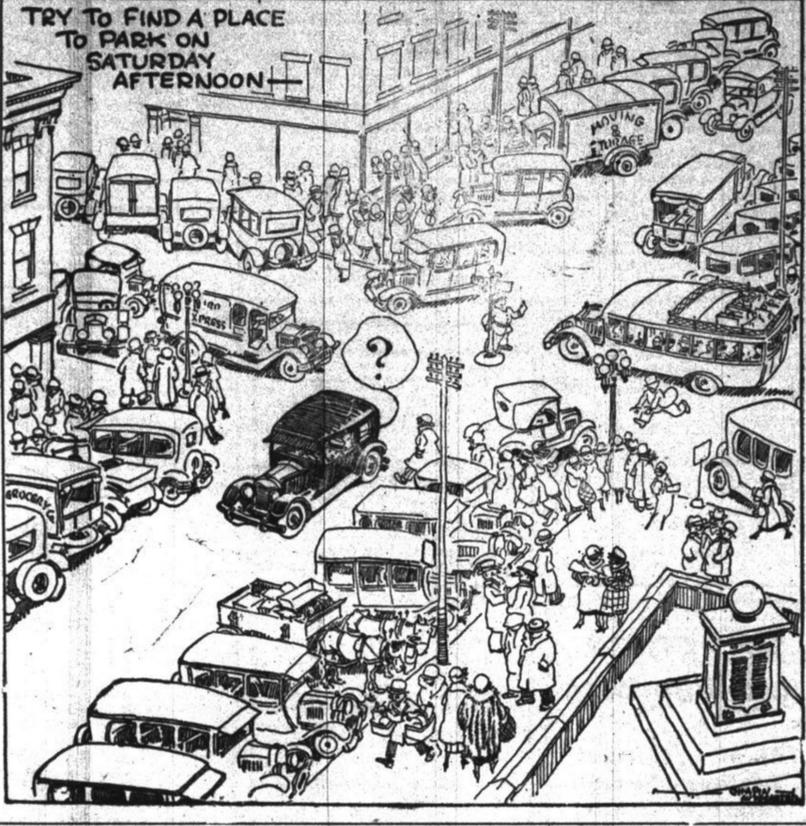

When the North Shore Theatre guild stages its production of Shakespeare's comedy, "Henry IV," at the Woman's club in Highland Park on January 24, the leading part will be taken by a Broadway star of more than national reputation, Mr. Basil Sydney, who will play Prince Hal. Mr. Sydney's appearance with the North Shore Theatre guild is a unique event in the history of the Little Theatre movement in this country, for this will be the first time that a professional actor of the standing of Mr. Sydney has appeared, supported by a non-professional group.

Prominent Actors Supporting Mr. Sydney will be a long list of the most prominent actors who have appeared in guild performances in the past. Samuel Otis of Winnetka has the part of Falstaff and J. Lincoln Gibson of Evanston will play Hotspur. William Boyden of Winnetka will play King Henry IV; Perry Smith, Winnetka, will play Poins; Waldo Allen of Winnetka will play Pistol; and Leslie Parker of Evanston will have the part of Bardolph. Peto will be played by Francis Fabian of Evanston; Mortimer by Wesley Brown of Winnetka; Glendower by E. Lyman, Jr.; and Westmoreland by Victor H. Hoppe. The part of the Prince of Clarence will be taken by Edwin Felke, and that of the Earl of Warwick by Eugene Macy. Henry J. Cary-Curr of Winnetka will play the part of the Chief Justice, and the Sheriff will be played by L. D. McKendry. The three women's parts, Lady Percy, Mistress Quickly and Doll Tearsheet, will be played by Erma Blaine McKendry, Mrs. Cecil Barnes and Janet Fairbank, and the Page will be played by Evelyn Brown. In addition to these, there will be a large number of other characters, soldiers, etc.

Sydney Well Known Basil Sydney is best known in Chicago by his performances here, two years ago, in the leading roles of the New York Theatre guilds productions of "Peer Gynt," by Ibsen, "The Devil's Disciple," by Shaw, and "He Who Gets Slapped," by Andrieu. He played Romeo in Ethel Barrymore's production of "Romeo and Juliet," and won fame in London a few years ago as leading man under Doris Keane in her productions of "Romance," and "Romeo and Juliet." He also played the part of Hamlet, in the "Modern Clothes" production of "Hamlet," which made such a sensation in New York last year. Last May, he played the part of Prince Hal in the New York Players' club revival of "Henry IV," the most famous all-star revival that has ever been produced in this country. Bethlehem Evangelical Church Sunday school, 9:45 a. m. Morning worship, 11 a. m. Christian Endeavor, 7 p. m. Evening service, 8 p. m.

Rehearsals of church orchestra, adult and junior choir will be held at the usual hour.

The mid-week Bible study and prayer hour on Wednesday evening at 7:45 p. m. We welcome you to this fellowship.

The E. L. C. E. will meet at the church parlors Tuesday evening, Jan. 25, for their regular monthly business meeting and social hour, a splendid program is being arranged and a special invitation is extended to the new friends of the Christian Endeavor to attend.

If in Deerfield on Sunday and not a member of one of our sister churches an invitation to worship with us is extended to you.

The Sunday evening program has an added feature of interest, as the musicians are planning a special number, the robed junior choir will also sing. Our pastor will speak at both services Sunday.

The annual church night was a very successful meeting; the budget for the coming year was unanimously adopted. Mr. J. A. Stryker was elected trustee, and a fine loyal and zealous spirit prevails as we enter upon a new year's work for our Master.

St. Paul's Evangelical Church F. G. Piepenbrok, pastor Church school, 9:15 a. m. English service, 10:15 a. m. German service, 11:15 a. m. Choir, Friday, 7:30 p. m.

The Young Men's class will meet for its regular business session Thursday, Jan. 27, 7:30 p. m.

A group of young people are busy rehearsing the drama that they intend to present at the Masonic temple the latter part of February. The play is a drama in three acts and represents a parable of a mother's love triumphant over the ingratitude and neglect of her children.

At the last meeting of the teachers and officers of the Sunday school Mrs. Henry Hirschenrader was added to the teaching force. She is teaching a group of senior girls.

You are always welcome to worship with us at our Sunday services.

Deerfield Presbyterian Church Mark J. Andrews, minister Sunday, January 23: Church-school at 9:30. Adult Bible class at 10:00. Morning worship and sermon at 10:45.

Vesper at 5 p. m. Continuing the missionary themes for the month of January, the pastor will speak of missionary enterprise in the Moslem world. These missionary themes are enlarging our horizons tremendously and are creating deeper interest in the enlargement of the kingdom.

Pastor's catechetical class for juniors and intermediates every Wednesday at 3:45 p. m.

Church-night service for praise, prayer and Bible study every Wednesday at 7:45.

A communicants class, above the junior and intermediate age, will soon be formed for those who desire to take a course in the meaning of the Christian life. This class will meet during the class period of the Church school on Sunday mornings and is especially provided for those who desire to unite with the church during the Easter season, but is open to all. It will be a discussion class entirely and no assignments will be required. Speak to the pastor or to the Church school superintendent if interested.

Always a cordial welcome to all and at all our services.

Boy Scout News

Boy Scout work has been reorganized in Deerfield. Greater interest than ever is being manifested in this work.

The Deerfield troupe is now a member of the North Shore area, thereby being privileged to enjoy and to participate in all that the Boy Scout movement has to offer under the leadership of a trained Boy Scout executive and other able men devoted to the work.

Members of the Deerfield Boy Scout committee are, F. G. Piepenbrok, chairman, Owen Savage, scout master and secretary-treasurer to be appointed, and the Messrs. Jess Strong, Harry Olendorf, John Stryker, Chas. Pieper.

Above committee meets every second Monday of the month. At the last meeting plans were laid for the observance of the anniversary of the Boy Scout movement, February 8. Definite announcements as to this observance will be published later.

In the meantime attention is invited to the fact that the Boy Scout work in Deerfield merits everybody's hearty approval and support, because it makes the boy who is a member of the troupe a better citizen, devoted to God, his country and his parents. Scouting teaches the boy the secrets of nature; he follows its laws and learns to take care of himself and others.

The people of Deerfield and community seem to be indignant because of the spirit of lawlessness and immorality that is being perpetrated within our limits. They have every reason to feel thus and at the same time be alarmed as to the safety of their property and their loved ones.

Within the last year repeated outrages have been committed that have aroused the citizens to a determined effort to stop these crimes. But recent outbreaks reveal that crime still has the upper hand.

It is hoped that the perpetrators of these crimes are non-residents of Deerfield, but if they are not, there should be no difficulty in calling the guilty ones to account. If the offender is a man or a boy, he is somebody's husband, son or boarder and with an earnest effort of being on guard the offender will soon be brought to justice.

Let us not criticize the authorities too much for their failure to arraign the criminals, but rather let us assist the men every way possible to rid our village of these pests and make our homes and loved ones safe against future outrages.

Mrs. Alex Willman; Deerfield, Ill. Dear Madam:

Will you please put a notice in your paper that the Public Library is open and free to any resident in Deerfield township? There seems to be a question in the minds of the people around the Wilmet school that because the library is in the Deerfield grammar school they are not to have its use. This is wrong. We are more than glad to have them come. In fact there are really no drawn lines.

We would be very glad to have the farmers also use our library. The library is fairly well stocked with books for the grown-ups but we are short on books appropriate for children from five to fourteen years old. There are many people in Deerfield who have books of this character in their homes and with which they are through. The library would be very glad to receive them.

Yours truly, Deerfield Public Library Assn., W. W. Geary, President.

Obituary

James M. Galloway was born in the township of Northfield on the County Line road about one and one-half miles southeast of Deerfield, September 23, 1846, the son of Bob and Emma Millen Galloway, who had come to this locality in the early days of the central west's development. He was one of a family of five children and was the last surviving member. Mr. Galloway grew to manhood on the old Galloway farm and when the nation was calling for men to save the Union, although but a mere boy, he volunteered and became a member of the 15th Illinois Regiment, Company G, and served almost a year under the flag of his country, participating in the march "From Atlanta to the Sea" under Gen. Sherman and being mustered out at Ft. Leavenworth in September 1865.

On October 22, 1877 James M. Galloway and Mary A. Gallagher were married at Chicago and after a residence of a few years in that city Mr. and Mrs. Galloway moved back to the old home in Northfield township, known as the Middle Branch farm, where they lived for many years. Mrs. Galloway passed away in August 1901. Four children were born to this union: Lenore having died in infancy, Bob lived to the age of sixteen, one son William J. and a daughter, Sadie Marie, reside in Deerfield. Mr. Galloway has lived in the village of Deerfield since his retirement from active work as a farmer about nine years ago. He was a man of sterling character and could always be relied upon to take a positive stand for every movement for civic betterment. His death Friday evening, Jan. 14, 1927, was quite unexpected although for the past two years he had been in poor health. Funeral was conducted Monday, Jan. 17, from the late home in Deerfield and from the Presbyterian church of that place. Interment was in the Deerfield cemetery.

Presbyterian Home

The Presbyterian home celebrated on Saturday of last week the completion of the entire third floor of the building, which adds forty rooms to
