JANUARY BUILDING TOTAL HERE LARGE

for January and augurs well for a big building year in Highland Park. Local Record Fine

That this city is more than holding its own is shown by the fact that while the totals of building improvements in many towns and cities of the United States decreased during 1926, and the total falling off in the country was over $300,000,000 from 1925, according to some estimates, yet this city showed an increase. And with the splendid beginning in January it seems pretty certain that Highland Park will hold its own and maybe show still further gains by the end of the year.

The improvements for which permits were issued by City Building Inspector S. D. Morris during January are as follows, with the name of the owner given first followed by the character of the building, its location and the estimated cost as shown by the records in the building inspector's office:

APPOINT GARNETT SCOUT OUTFITTER

Local Merchant Named by National Council of Organization; Ready Soon

J. B. Garnett has been appointed Scout outfitter for Highland Park, and scouts of Highland Park and vicinity will soon be able to purchase uniforms and other scout equipment in Highland Park, according to an announcement issued early this week by national council of the Boy Scouts of America following Mr. Garnett's commendation by the North Shore Area council.

In order that scouts may purchase the best of equipment at a price which can be within the reach of all, the retail price is fixed by the National Council which allows only a minimum margin of profit for the retailer.

Scout equipment can be purchased only by scouts in good standing, upon the presentation of their membership card.

REFUGEES MAKING SHOES IN SYRIA

Manufacture Started in Aleppo By Near East Relief Now Important Industry

The manufacture of shoes and slippers in Aleppo, started by the Near East Relief three years ago to provide work for refugees, now holds second rank in the local industries of that great trading center.

All types and styles of footwear are produced, all sorts of upper and sole leather are employed, and the best quality local product compares favorably with high-grade footwear manufactured in Europe and America.

There are now 500 shops engaged in this trade in Aleppo, employing an average of five or six workmen each. None of these shops are large, being managed and owned by refugee artisans who take an active part in production. Wages are a third less than prevailed three years ago.

scended from the car and walked in the wrong direction. It was her custom often to visit the Misses Mason at Ravinia and it is supposed she had started to do this last Thursday.

Relatives Here

Near relatives are Dr. Edwin P. Norcross and Attorney J. V. Norcross of Highland Park and Frederick F. Norcross of Chicago, and Mrs. George A. Mason of Highland Park, who are nephews and nieces.

Miss Norcross was a woman held in high regard by her many friends in Highland Park and by those who knew her intimately she was greatly beloved for her many fine qualities, and there is deep sorrow among them at her tragic death. The relatives have the sympathy of the entire community at this time.

The funeral service was held at Trinity Episcopal church at 4:30 o'clock Friday afternoon, the Rev. George S. Keller officiating, and the remains were taken to her home in Janesville, Wis., for interment.

Another Death

Frederick W. Littlefield, an inmate of the Railroad Men's home for the last seven years, died last Thursday. The remains were cremated Friday, following a service at Graceland cemetery, Chicago.

LIVESTOCK INDUSTRY DEPENDS ON CROPS

Without fertile soil and good crops the livestock industry could not flourish, says the United States department of agriculture. Corn, clover, and alfalfa are of great importance in the production of our meat supply. Eighty-nine per cent of the corn crop is used in the production of livestock whereas only 11 per cent goes for export, human food, and other purposes. Approximately 50 per cent of the sustenance of the livestock of this country comes from pasture, 25 per cent from corn, and the rest from other harvested feeds. Legumes in the rotation help to maintain the fertility of the soil and result in high corn yields.

A Landslide to the HUPMOBILE EIGHT

During the last two years, the Hupmobile has done more than make a brilliant conquest of the eight market.

That is only one side of the picture; for today there is literally a landslide of buying opinion toward the Hupmobile Eight. For Hupmobile has proved the prestige of eight power and performance.

Hupmobile has proved that an eight reaches the very apex of smoothness and ease.

Hupmobile has proved that an eight can be economical, by building an eight that gives generous gas mileage.

Hupmobile Eight owners, thousands of them, will testify that an eight can be as simple and as free from repair complications as a six or a four.

Finally, Hupmobile has proved that an eight can be produced in volume and priced as reasonably in proportion as a six. In other words, on the score of value alone, Hupmobile—as an eight—has proved its superiority conclusively.

Hupmobile—by proving these things over a period of two years—justifies in every way our belief that the Hupmobile straight-eight is the greatest car of its class in the world.

And Hupmobile Eight has set in motion a change of buying preference in its price range that will be as far-reaching and conclusive as the historic changes from two to four cylinders, and from the four to the six.

There is more farm land worked in Illinois than in the continent of Australia.

Eight Illinois municipalities sold their municipally owned or operated electric light and power businesses to private companies during 1926, a report from the National Electric Light association shows. The municipalities are: Middletown, Grayville, Weldon, Lombard, Clay City, Cambria, Divernon and Newman.

In the United States 105 municipalities sold their municipal light plants during the year, making a total of 1,234 municipal light plants sold, abandoned or shut down within recent years.

The growing towns brag of their population, and the declining ones claim they are improving in quality, so the town boosters are all happy.

The educators say the boys and girls should be taught to work with their hands, but observation suggests that they are more interested in working with their feet.
