LINCOLN'S MONUMENT

The rapid extension of the state of Illinois hard road system is making the state parks and memorials more popular year by year, giving opportunity as it does to citizens in every section of the state to visit the different scenes of historical interest.

Lincoln monument—the last resting place of the martyred president—and Lincoln homestead—the only improved real estate owned by Lincoln—a home where he experienced most of the joys and some of the sorrows of his life and from where he went forth to glory and the grave are yearly attracting more visitors to Springfield from all parts of the world.

Lincoln's tomb was visited by 121,140 persons during 1926. During August there were 26,720 callers registered, almost double the number in any other month.

Among prominent persons who were included in the throng were: Queen Marie of Rumania, Princess Ileana, Prince Nicholas, Cardinals von Faulhaber of Germany and Piffel of Austria. The 5,000 ex-soldiers who attended the American Legion convention last fall constituted the largest delegation to the tomb during the year.

Number of visitors, by months follows: January, 2,600; February, 3,880; March, 3,600; April, 4,840; May, 14,240; June, 14,280; July, 19,120; August, 26,720; September, 11,720; October, 8,600; November, 8,460; December, 3,080.

Many plans for St. Valentine activities are under way both in the morning sessions of the DeForest school, as well as in the afternoon craft classes held twice a week. Valentines are being made and mailed to friends and playmates who are away with their parents in the west or south during the winter months. Some of these original valentines are most unusual and well worth an exhibit.
