Supervised practice plays such an important part in piano study, as does supervised study in school, that those who are fortunate enough to do their daily practice with a parent, or a practice teacher have nothing to unenvy, go to their weekly lesson and receive a perfect grade.

Progress in music is thus much more rapid, and public appearance more accurate.

On the performance of tiny Ethel Selig, with her dimpled baby face, to the advanced playing of Eva Rosey, the piano recital given by the pupils of Miss Frances Biederstadt in St. Paul's Evangelical church Monday evening, Feb. 14, was a triumph for teacher and pupils in technique.

One delightful part of the ensemble was the number of mothers who played duets with their children.

The lovely madonna like profile of Mrs. Metcalf as she sat at the piano with her son, Walter, made a charming picture.

It is difficult to mention individual performances from such a large class, many of which gave perfect presentation of their numbers. They all played with the ease and freedom that comes from a perfectly relaxed condition, and with poise in reading and memorizing.

The complete program, as artistic as the pen of the Rev. Mr. Piepenbrok could make them, was printed in last week's Press.

AMERICAN LEGION MEMBERSHIP DRIVE

TO BE STATEWIDE AFFAIR

Reasons for Belonging to This Organization; Facts Furnished by Local Post Are Given

The following is furnished by the Dumaresq Spencer post of the American Legion in connection with the big membership drive:

Why I belong to the American Legion (from the Minneapolis Legionnaire): Because I was more fortunate than others who served the United States in the World war, in that there are many who are wounded, sick, disabled and destitute. Consider yourself.

It goes without saying that you believe the disabled and destitute, resulting from the great war, should be aided and cared for. The fortunes of war brought you back with the ability to make a living and the opportunity to use that ability. Your duty, then, is to consider those who were less fortunate than you.

Thousands Waiting
Your membership in the American Legion places you at once in the position of administering relief to worthy cases and puts you shoulder to shoulder with those who are supporting movements designed to aid thousands of pitiful cases. No other organization has done as much for the ex-service man as the American Legion, and no other body can accomplish as much for him in the future.

A Bigger and Better Legion
If your desire to see the disabled veteran get common justice is sincere, you can reach but one conclusion on this question of membership in the American Legion.

The entire state of Illinois is concentrating on "The Big Parade." The objective is 70,000 members to the American Legion when the ships sail for France in September. With over 35,000 members at the present time there seems to be no question as to the outcome of the drive which is now being carried on. Energy and persistence conquer all things and the members of the American Legion are known for the energy. In order to get service for the ex-service men this objective must be reached.

Many Eligible
There are many who can take advantage of the honor of becoming members of this organization who have not already done so. To them this message is sent. One prominent citizen of Highland Park who served with the Red Cross and who is not eligible to membership writes:

"There would be nothing that would give me greater joy and pleasure than to join the American Legion. This is an honor that I have long coveted and I have been hoping that the necessary legislation could be enacted by the Legion to entitle some of us who were officers in the Field Service of the American Red Cross to membership in the Legion."

More Comment
Another writes, "I should be greatly honored if I could secure membership to the American Legion as I consider it a great honor to be connected in any way with this wonderful organization."

John H. Walker, president, Illinois Federation of Labor writes: "I believe every trade unionist who is eligible to membership in the Legion should be a member of it and I do what I can to get the membership of the trade union organizations to understand as I do, and to join the Legion. I think that every Legion member who is eligible to membership in the trade union movement, should become a member of it as well. The purposes of both organizations are to make our country the best place to live in that it is possible to make it; to make our government the best; to establish justice, and to be helpful to every human being in every reasonable way possible, particularly to the women and children of the unfortunates. No finer motive could actuate any body of men. As the membership of the Legion increases, it will not only mean more work in the direction of these things being done, but my judgment about it, is that a man cannot join either of these organizations and get an understanding of them without becoming a better man himself. I sincerely hope you may be able to influence every trade unionist in the state of Illinois, who is eligible to membership in the Legion, to join."

Dumaresq-Spencer post No. 145 of Highland Park has increased its membership this year. They have shown their department commander that they are active. They are showing the community that their work is to the betterment of the community and those that live here. When asked what report the membership had to make they came back with "Hell, we haven't begun to get members, yet."

Applications for membership can be sent to any member or direct your letters to the adjutant, or commander, Dumaresq Spencer post No. 145, the American Legion, Highland Park, Ill.

CAST IS SELECTED FOR SENIOR PLAY

Three Girls and Eight Boys In Cast Chosen From Fifty Tryouts

"In the Next Room," a deep dark, mystery play by Eleanor Robson and Harriet Ford, has been chosen for the high school senior play this year.

The three, much contested girl's parts, are to be taken by Louise Kersten, Blossom Lake, and Cleona Udell. Blossom Lake will be remembered for her acting in the first large play given in the new auditorium, "The Goose Hangs High."

Cleona Udell, who will have the leading feminine role, has always been interested in dramatics, and has been in several Garrick plays. She was the property manager for the all-school play "You and I." Although Louise Kersten has not been in any play at Deerfield-Shields, she belongs to a dramatic club outside of school, and has played the lead in one or two plays.

The students who won the eight boys' parts in "In the Next Room" are Don Browning, James Harris, Guernsey LePelley, Lyman McBride, John O'Connor, Ted Osborn, Allan Wolf, and George Zack.

The cast was chosen by a faculty committee consisting of Miss Am-born, Miss Chester, Miss Comer, Miss Connelly, and Mr. Slocum. About fifty seniors tried out for "In the Next Room" last Wednesday and Thursday, in the English club room.

HIGH SCHOOL CAGERS PLAY EVANSTON NEXT

Play There Friday Night; Lose Two to Bloom and Defeat Main High

The Deerfield-Shields basketball teams are scheduled to invade the new Evanston gym on Friday night of this week for a pair of Suburban league engagements. The battles should prove to be two of the best seen this season.

Coach Peel's preppers gave the Evanston quintet a double lacing on the home court two weeks ago. The games, however, were close, hard fought games, the light's score being 28 to 26, and the heavies 17 to 14.

Lose to Bloom
Deerfield's teams took a double defeat from Bloom Saturday, the heavies losing 30-25, and the lights 15-14. Bloom seems to have the local teams "jinxed," for it has defeated them at Chicago Heights for three years. Deerfield was squarely beaten, but the small size of Bloom's floor did hamper good team work and passing.

Defeat Maine
Local heavyweights defeated Maine for the second time Friday night by the score of 38-26. Although the first team only played a part of the game, "Al" Baker was able to sink the baskets, bringing in twenty points, while "Bill" Daugherty made five field goals and a free throw, netting him eleven points. Eleven players saw action, including one lightweight.

The lightweights lost another slow affair, resembling much their Bloom game, the score was 11 to 10. They were obviously the better team, but they just couldn't seem to be able to get started.

NIGHT SCHOOL HAS DINNER AND DANCE

About one hundred fifty people, including Principal Sandwick and members of the school board, with their wives attended the night school dinner held in the high school cafeteria Wednesday night at seven o'clock.

A dance in the gymnasium followed the dinner. The dance began at nine o'clock and Siegel's orchestra furnished the music.

Mr. Schneider, principal of the night school, was the toastmaster at the dinner. Each class had chosen a representative and these gave short talks.

A WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY THOUGHT

It was said of George Washington that above all he was the master of himself. There is where he differed from ordinary folks, who are perpetually yielding to weaknesses in their own natures.

Our ideals tell us we ought to be always working for self improvement, but our somewhat spineless natures permit the hours and days to slip away without much addition to our powers. While George Washington fully enjoyed the pleasures of life, he always found time for acquiring new knowledge.

Our principles tell us we should make large sacrifices for our country, but our indolent habits keep many of us away from the polls on election day, and we say it gives us a headache to study the needs of our government. If George Washington could stave everything he had for his beloved country, the rest of us might spend a few minutes each day on the labors of patriotism and community upbuilding.

SENIOR HOP TO BE SATURDAY, FEB. 19

Although there will not be elaborate decorations at the Deerfield-Shields Senior Hop, which will be given in the boys' gym between 8:30 and 11:30 a. m., Saturday evening, Feb. 19, other things will make up for the absence of the decorations, according to Elna Benson, chairman of the senior social committee.

The "Krazy Kats" orchestra, which provided the music for the school's Hallowe'en party, will play at the hop.

All teachers and parents are invited by the social committee to attend the dance.

The committee for the hop is composed of Elna Benson, chairman; Louise Kersten, Carol Baker, Maxine Paulson, Catherine Horan, George Bliss, Frank Shudoma, Lyman McBride, and Theodore Osborn.

STUDENTS PLANNING FOR JUNIOR PROM

Committees are already hard at work in preparation for the Junior Prom at Deerfield-Shields high school, to be given early in May. The music committee has selected several orchestras for consideration. They are to hear each one play before making a final decision. The decoration committee has several unusual and attractive prospects under consideration. Last year the decorations consisted of flowers and festoons of balloons.

NEW MUSIC CLUB AT DEERFIELD-SHIELDS

A new music club at the high school is being organized under the direction of G. J. Dinkeloo and H. E. Bolle, who will be the club advisors.

"The purpose of the club," says Mr. Dinkeloo, "is to encourage and develop musical talent of members by giving them the opportunity of performing on programs, to unite and bring together in a social way the members of all the music organizations of the school, and in general, to promote and develop in everyone a love for music."

The club plans to meet once a month, the dues to be twenty-five cents a semester.
