

ART LEAGUE PLANS SHADOW PUPPET PLAY

To Be Presented in Community House Friday Evening; To Show Pictures

A shadow puppet play, "Love in a Temple" will be given for members of the North Shore Art league during the meeting Friday evening of this week at Community house, Winnetka. The producer of the little play is to be Mrs. Louise Hubbard of Winnetka, who has chosen it as part of an unusual and delightful program.

Mrs. Hubbard returned recently from China after a comprehensive study of the art of the theater in that country. She is deeply interested in shadow puppets and will speak about the Chinese theater and its development. Mrs. Hubbard owns what is considered the most complete and the finest as well as the largest private collection of Chinese puppets in this country.

The class now working under the instruction of George Oberteuffer of the Art Institute will have some of its paintings on exhibition Friday evening. Both Mr. Oberteuffer and his wife, Amiard Oberteuffer, have pictures hanging in the present exhibition at the Art Institute. The latter received the Logan prize for her picture, "Yellow Gown," and Rudolph Ingerle, former president of the North Shore Art league, won the Municipal Art league prize.

Other painters of the league whose pictures are on exhibition are Frank Peyraud, Allan Philbrick, Anita Willetts Burnham, Carol-Lou Burnham, Percy B. Eckhart, Grace N. Haskins, Marguerite Taylor, and William R. Watson.

No up-to-date farmer will believe he is actually relieved until he can afford at least three automobiles. Now that we have gotten Peaches Browning and the Pig Woman off the first page and congress has really adjourned, what are the poor metropolitan newspapers going to do?

A machinist in Denmark claims to have invented a gearless brakeless automobile that will work and his countrymen are hailing him as the automobile Edison. We would have more faith in this if we didn't remember that the Danes also believed in Doc Cook.

THAT LAST LOAD OF COAL

When you order that last lot of coal that you need to wind up the winter, remember that there is economy in making it a full load, even though you may only need a ton to pull you through.

It takes very little longer to haul a full load than a ton, the cost of delivery is practically the same in either case, that is why we are forced to make an additional charge for small lots.

We will serve you promptly when you need to put in that final load to finish out the season.
